No matter what they've done, the Sher-iff and the District Attorney stand vindi-cated. For the 15 Democrats present at the meeting extended the paternal hand of encouragement and said, "Ge ahead." Some, however, there were who thought this an inopportune time to bring up the subject of indorsing the two officials who can see their names in print most any old day. And they said, "No," and they stuck to it, for the resolution passed by

S. C. Van Armitage was the man to introduce the original resolution, which mentioned the two officials by name. Popular Columbia Theater Once More Changes Hands.

BALLARD TAKES THE REINS

New Arrangement Allows George L. Baker to Give His Attention to the Empire Theater, Which is Pleasing to the Public.

Disquieting rumors have been set at rest. The Columbia Stock Company, which has become a matter of town pride, will stay, and as the result of another shift in the kalledoscopic local chestrical situation A. H. Ballard will be manager of the Columbia Thanter. time was allowed to enter a plea. Breyman is at liberty on his own recognizance. Decisions will be announced this morning by Judge George in the following cases: J. E. Dickey vs. G. W. Jackson, motion to strike out complaint; E. D. Kellogg vs. E. M. Kellogg, motion for suit money; Bartlett & Palmer vs. W. D. Church, motion to make complaint more definite and certain; C. W. Walker vs. Lewis Brice et al., demurrer to parts of answer.

Mr. Baker returned from New York yesterday morning, and in the after-noon a conference was held between Calvin S. Hellig, J. E. Blazier and himself, which resulted in the leasing of the Columbia and its company of players to Mr. Ballard for the term of one year. Mr. Ballard, backed by ample capital, submitted a flattering offer for a year's lease on the property which, after some discussion, was accepted, and the transfer will be made after tonight's performance.

Manager Ballard announces that the policy of the theater will remain un-changed. The personnel of the com-pany will remain the same and no changes will be made among the other employes. The prices of admission will remain the same, and high-close stock productions will continue to be given with a weekly change of bill. All relations between Messrs. Heilig. Baker, Blazier and Ballard are the most pleasant, and while Mr. Ballard will have sole control of the Columbia, the other gentlemen relinquishing all part in its direction, the relations are most amicable and there will in sense be anything approaching # theatrical war.

This action sets at rest all rumors that the Columbia stock season was to end shortly. It assures the continu-ance of the best organization of its kind which Portland ever had and will be gladly received by the theater-go-ing public. The company has thus far enjoyed a very prosperous season. Its work has delighted its patrons and the splendid organization is a source of been connected with the enterprise in an advisory capacity from its inception. He has also had charge of its publicity work. and his energetic methods of advertising the theater and company have contribut-ed largely to its success. He enjoys the friendship and confidence of each member of the company and operating staff, from Director Bernard down to the ushers. He has an intimate knowledge of the affairs of the theater, and although this is his first managerial venture, he begins his new career well equipped for the work.

The new manager has been a resident of Portland for seven years. He is the senior member of the advertising firm of Ballard & Snow, and one of the owners of "The Guide and Town Topics." He came here from San Francisco, where he was engaged in newspaper work. His newspaper career has extended over 20 odd years, and includes experience on the sapers of London, New York and San Francisco. He is 43 years old, and a Cornell man, class of 78. He is known as a forcible and discriminating writer of dramatic and art criticism, and most of his work has been done in those channels. He has a large Portland acquaintance, and his acquirement of the Columbia will meet with general approval. All the signs seem right for a brilliant future for the new manager. He acquires one of the finest theaters on the Coast, and one of the best stock companies in the United States. General satisfaction will be felt that the latter's permanence is assured.

CAPTAIN IS ALSO DOWN. Master of Elleric Is Atacked by Smallpox.

ASTORIA, Or., Dec. 2—(Special.)—Quarantine Officer Earl stated this evening that Captain McLeod, of the British ateam Elleric, has a very severe attack of smallpox. The disease is now well developed, so there is no doubt of its nature. No one on the steamer, excepting the captain and the Chinese fireman, has been taken ill as yet, but other cases are expected. As there is no hospital at the quarantine station, two old and vacant houses on the Government property have been utilized and one of the patients is in each, so that they can be isolated from in each, so that they can be isolated from the rest of the crew. There are, however, no other buildings that can be used, and should any more cases develop, they must be treated on board the vessel. The steamer was furnigated today and the members of the crew vaccinated.

Dr. Bari received a request today from British Consul Laidlaw asking that the Elleric be released as soon as possible and a new crew will be sent to take charge of her. The doctor says this may be possible after two weeks have elapsed, provided ne new cases develop, but in that event she may be detained for some time longer, owing to the lack of accommodations at the station modations at the station

TRYING TO MAKE PORT.

Schooner Bella Attempted to Reach Sluslaw River. FRANCISCO, Dec. 2 -- The schooner Bella, which left here 45 days ago, is reported tot be attempting to make port at Suislaw River, on the Ore-

The steam schooner Centralia, which arrived here this morning, reports she saw the Bella November 22. At that time she was off Cape Foulweather, 32 miles north of Suislaw River. It is believed she encountered heavy storms and was short of provisions. A southeast gale was blowing at the time and she was still going further away from her port of destination.

CATCH OF SEALERS. Victoria Fleet Credited With 13,905

Skins. VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 2.—Until after the annual Fall fur sales have taken place in London, December 15, nothing will be done towards outfitting the Vic-toria sealing fleet for next season's operations, and then it is altogether probable that hunting will be entirely confined to the American coast—as far north as the Alcutian Islands—and to Behring Sea. Upon the prices realized at the com-ing sales will depend the number of the fleet to go out. At the annual meeting of the scaling combine the scene of hunt-ing operations during 1965 will be finally decided upon. During the ing operations during 1905 will be finally decided upon. During the past year no schooners were sent to the Japanese coast and but few to the Copper Islands, for fear of collision with the Russian or the Japanese fleet. This danger has been virtually eliminated. A Although there are still five of the 1904 fleet out, it is now possible to give a fairly close approximation of the catch of the Victoria pelagic scaling vessels for the current year. From reports received of the catches of the vessels still out, and allowing 1900 as representing the aggregate of the catches of the Indians gregate of the catches of the Indians along the coast, the total return for the season is placed at 12,905 skins. This is the smallest catch in many years, the reason being in great measure the small-ness of the fleet operating. Twenty-six schooners sent out in 1902 secured, with "shore" and Cape Horn catches added, 20,470 pelts. In 1902 the number of skins taken was 16,361; in 1901 the total was 24,160 skins; in 1900, 35,548; and in 1899

Old Ship Partly Burned.

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 2.—The three-masted ship Centennial, belonging to the Alaska Packers' Association, was partially destroyed by fire in Sessions Basin early today, Captain E. F. Stannard, who with his stepson, Lathrop Levy, were the only persons on board, made a gallant fight against the flames. He was severely burned about the face and hands. The Centennial was built in Boston years ago and had been engaged at the Alaekan fisheries for ten years. The ves-sel cost $30,000, and the damage done by the fire, $10,000, was not covered by insurance. It was two hours after the fire broke out before the fireboats and tugs could be summoned from San Francisco. The main and miszen masts were burned off and the ship was left lying badly damaged on the mud of the basin

WINE of CARDI

No 1372 Broderick St., San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 8, 1903.

I suffered for over four years with ovarian troubles, which robbed me of the joy of life. My back and limbs ached so I could hardly stand up, and shooting pains made life at times unbearable. The blinding headaches I suffered were something no one can understand who has not had the experience. Wine of Cardui saved my life, released me from suffering and made life look new and beautiful to me. I took nearly twenty bottles in all before I was perfectly well, but I felt it was a cheap cure. This was all over eleven months ago. I am well and in perfect health now, and most heartily do I endorse Wine of Millie Vostlethwaite Cardui as the best and most reliable remedy any
