Few Salmon Expected to Get by the Obstructions That Will Line the Narrows of Juan De Fuca in the Spring.

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 2 .- (Special.) --The Dominion government has at last nsented to issue fishtrap licenses and there is jubilation amongst the Victoria cannerymen tonight. This means practically the extinction of the Puget Sound, Gulf of Georgia and Fraser River cannery business. The Otter-Point traps on the Strait of Juan de Fuca will now be operated full blast and others even larger will be erected at once.

The government will not permit the ection of any traps north of Trial Island, near Victoria. It is said by cannerymen here tonight that the Vancouver Island shore of Juan de Fuca Strait will be lined with fishtraps within a few months in readiness for the Spring run. The incoming schools of salmon pass there on their way from the ocean to Puget Sound and Gulf waters.

CRACKSMAN TOILED IN VAIN. Bored Houlton Safe Full of Holes, but

Obtained No Loot. HOULTON, Or., Dec. 2—(Special.)—
With an extension bit an industrious burglar bored numerous holes in the safe of Perry & Graham here last night, but his bungling work prevented the taking away of any loot. After his unsuccessful night of tell, the cracksman proceeded to Scappoose, entered the section-house shed by means of a skeleton key, barrowed a railroad bicycle and succeeded in making his escape. The abandoned machine was found in the ditch near the stockyards, on the outskirts of Portland, this morning.

The tools used by the burglar were an extension bit, several bolts with pointed ends and a sledge with an abbreviated handle. The sledge was borrowed for the purpose from the section-house, and the handle sawed off to suit the night worker. foles were bored toward the combination for the insertion of the pointed bolts to be driven home with the heavy hammer, Miscalculation resulted in the strong box being the more surely sealed. The bit being the more surely scaled. The bit jammed and the burglar was compelled by the approaching dawn to fig.

The safe is used as a safety deposit by the postoffice, railroad ticket agent and Wells-Fargo Express Company agent. For the convenience of the wood-working factory large sums are often kept on hand to cash may checks of the employees. to cash pay checks of the employes.
