

WILL BEGIN TODAY

Mayor's Commission to Investigate the Sewer.

MEMBERS HAVE BEEN NAMED

Two Engineers, Member Grand Jury, Two Property-Owners and Representatives of Oregon Savings Bank and Executive Board.

Today a second official examination of the ill-famed Tanner-Creek sewer will begin. This investigation will be made by men selected by Mayor Williams, who announced his commission yesterday morning.

Four men were chosen by the Mayor, and four others will also accompany the party. W. W. Goodrich and G. Wingate, two civil engineers, will do the technical examining for the commission. John M. A. Laue, a member of the grand jury, represents that body. The property-owners are represented by N. C. King and R. B. Lamson, who were asked by Mayor Williams if they would look through the sewer themselves. The Oregon Savings Bank, with whose money the sewer was constructed by Riner & Riner, will send a representative, and City Engineer Elliott will be a member of the party. Rodney L. Gilman told the Mayor that as a member of the Executive Board he wished to see the condition of the sewer for himself, and will go through the big tube.

"I have no doubt that the sewer is defective, for I am sure there were mischief-makers at work in it," said Mayor Williams yesterday, after announcing his commission. "But it is best to learn both sides, and I have tried to have both sides represented on this commission. Mr. Elliott went along with the other examining the first day, and they found no defects while he was there. They went in after that, and made the examination as shown in the report."

Examination Begins Today.

The examination is scheduled to commence this morning, and will probably be finished within three or four days. It is expected that Mayor Williams' position will be defined in a communication to the Council to be presented at the last meeting of the month.

The bridge investigation committee is still resting. There is a well-authenticated report that the old draw of the Morrison-street bridge is being erected intact in a California town, and that much of the material of the old bridge will also be used in this way. It had been supposed that the bids were for the construction of a new steel bridge, and that some deduction would be made for the material in the old bridge, could it be used again. Nothing has been heard of any deductions from the contract price.

YOUNG MAN IS MISSING.

Last Seen on River in Small Boat Filled With Iron.

Detectives and policemen are now engaged in an endeavor to unravel the mystery of the disappearance of William Tucker, a boy aged 13 years, who left St. Johns in a small boat filled with iron, one week ago yesterday, and who has not been seen or heard from by his relatives since.

Tucker's mother, residing at Midway, clings to the theory of accidental drowning, and the police also incline to that belief. Until a complete investigation is made, however, the matter will remain enshrouded in deep mystery.

Notification was received at Police Headquarters yesterday, but up to a late hour nothing had been heard from the missing boy. Chief of Police Hunt ordered all patrolmen to keep a close watch for a boy answering Tucker's description, and special detectives were assigned to make a thorough investigation of the case.

Young Tucker had been staying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graves, at St. Johns, and attending school in that town. He is said to have been devoted to his studies, and to have liked his books. It was after returning from the day's duties that he left in the boat for the city.

"The disappearance is simply a mystery that none of us can understand," said Mrs. Graves last night. "William may have been drowned. He was an excellent swimmer, however. It was only last week that he and another boy got upset in the river, but they both swam to shore safely. I hardly know what to think of the case, but I believe that something has happened to the boy. Whenever he went away before, he always told us where he was going and when he would return. That night he said he would be right back. His mother fears he may be dead in the river."

MISS ETTA MILES DEAD.

Graduate of Good Samaritan Hospital Dies in Arizona.

Miss Etta Miles, a graduate nurse of the Good Samaritan Hospital, class of 1902, died in Tucson, Arizona, on Friday. Miss Miles contracted tuberculosis over a year ago and with the hope of effecting a cure removed to Arizona last March. The change failed to be beneficial, and after a lingering illness she succumbed to the disease.

The body was brought to Portland yesterday in care of Miss Miles' father and will be taken to Seattle today for interment.

Miss Miles was well known in Portland and a general favorite in the Good Samaritan Hospital, where she served a pupilship of three years in the training school for nurses.
