McCreedies Will Attend League Meeting.

FAVOR EIGHT-CLUB CIRCUIT

Proposal to Drop Tacoma Will Be Opposed and to Admit Spokane-Ben Ely Goes to San Francisco With a Schedule.

Judge W. W. McCreedie, his nephew. Walter H. McCreedie, and the former president of the Portland Baseball Club, Ben Ely, left last night for San Fran-The McCreedles go to the Bay City to attend the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast League as owners of the Portland franchise. Just what mission Ben Ely has in San Francisco at the time of the annual confab of the moguls is not known, although it is rumored that he has a schedule scheme which he may lay before the league magnates.

The fact that Ely is the traveling con panion of the McCreedies and that he has a alleged schedule to offer has again given credit to the rumor that he is no entirely out of baseball. Both of the Mo Creedles were asked about Edy's connection with the team, and both denied that he was to have anything to do with its future management. This statement should set at rest any further talk on the ce Judge McCreedie became interested in the baseball business he has given a great deal of his time to the study of schedules, and at the big gathering he will surely be heard from. He is not in favor of dropping Tacoma, and he is in favor of taking in Spokane. The new magnate favors four clubs in the north, and hopes that another city will be added a California so as to round out an eightclub circuit. Manager McCreedie will leave the business end of the league meetto his uncle and backer. He will attend the meetings, and at the same time will be making inquiries about the best will be making inquiries about the best place to frain next Spring. Manager Mc-Creedle feared that the Elys had tied the club up with a 1966 contract with the Ba-kersfield people, but he has since learned that they have not. He will also make a study of the good baseball towns in California, with a view of arranging a California, with a view of arranging a series of ante-schedule games. He be-lieves that three or four weeks of playing with the crack league teams will be a greater help in whipping a team into shape for a hard season's work than conhowever, he will see to it that his team is

LUMBERMEN ELECT OFFICERS Recommendations of Curtailment of Output in Washington.

TACAMO, Dec. 13 .- The Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association at its annual meeting held here today elected for the third time as president Everett G. Griggs, of Tacoma, and with few exceptions re-elected all the other officers. Important recommendations were made by the officers in their annual reports, such as the curtailment of the output, while others suggested that members accept little or no busi-ness at prevailing prices.

There were nearly 100 lumbermen present from Puget Sound, British Co-lumbia, Gray's Harbor and the Columhis River districts. No action was taken regarding the closing down of mills, but it was decided to adopt 5%-inch face as the standard for drop sidinc. tace as the status of the partial of the westing, so as to be uniform with the Western Pine and Southern Associations.

The matter of grades and inspections was discussed at length but no action was taken, this being left in the hands of the committee.

Multnomah Eleven Short For Seattle Game.

BACKFIELD IS THE WEAK SPOT

Lonergan and Corbett Cannot Go on Northern Trip, and Fullback Must Be Drawn From Second Team.

The Mulinomah Club finds itself in such straits for regular team men to take to Seattle for the Saturday game that Man-ager Frank E. Watkins almost regrets that he agreed to play away from home again this season. His reason for doing it was that the Seattle Athletic Club had agreed to come here New Year's Day, and he believed it but courteous to give a re-turn game. Subsequently he was forced to refuse a return game to Astoria, and is now on the point of wishing he had refused Scattle The trouble is in the back field. Neither Lonergan or Corbett will be able to go on the northern trip, and to fill in the va-cancy left by these two able backs means a general weakening. Horan will be at right half as usual, but Delph may have to be substituted from full to half. Delph is a versatile player and will fill the halfback position well enough, but a steam man will have to go in at full. tin and Crosby are the two candidates, both good men, but not experienced at full, where experience counts me

This opportunity which is afforded to econd team men should be welcomed, for it gives an added interest to the game. Usually the spectators are fairly sure of what the team will do, knowing all the players of old, but there is no telling how good the young blood will prove itself

Jordan and Captain Dowling will be the ends as usual, and the line will be unchanged, except for the substitution of Gault instead of Kirkley at tackle. Stow, who has been a very valuable addition to the team, will play the other tackle, and Seeley and Ross guards. Grieve will play at center. Johnson will be at quarter

AT THE THEATERS

What the Press Agents Say.

NOT FRENZIED FINANCE

But Frenzied Enthusiasm Sweeps Columbia Audiences Off Their Feet.

They're off, they're off! Anyone except a near-sighted deaf mute, who has ever attended a race meet, knows the thrill of expectation and ecstacy that makes the pulses bound from the drop of the flag until the winning horse rushes under the wire.

Decorum is thrown to the winds, con servatism forgotton and a mad enthusi-asm sways all beholders. So it is at the Columbia this week. The realism of the race scene is so convincing, so overpowering that the most conservative are literally carried off their feet. Hand-clapping is too tame, stamping of feet inadequate, and only a spontane irresistible outburst of cheers relieves the pent-up emotions of the audience.

Think of it! Cheers, heart-felt cheers, at a Portland theater.

After this no critic is needed to procialm the success of "The Prodigal Daughter."

'Tess of the D'Urbervilles" Tonight. Tonight at the Marquam Grand Florence Roberts will revive the remark-able story of "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" for one performance. It is an exceedingly interesting play and brings Lucius Henderson as Angel Clare, William Yearance as Sir John Durbeyfield, Louise Royce as his wife Joan, Adele Worth as Marian and the full strength of the company will fill out the rest of the cast. The production is very elaborate. Tomorrow night the comedy, "The Adventure of Lady Ursula," is announced, and Friday night the much anticipated Ibsen play, "A Doll's House.

"A Little Outcast."

"A Little Quicast," with its spiendid scenic equipment, will close its engagement at the Empire Theater tonight. This big New York production is a melodrama of the cleanilest type, having every essence of human interest and is withou doubt the best thing of its kiel yet pro duced. The piece is brimful of modern amazements and peculiarly fascinating scenes to attract theater-goers, but withal It is a love story, pure and simple, with every trait of loyalty and affection which could be lent to give the play a nobler in-

Sale for "Shore Acres."

The sale of seats will begin tomorrow morning at 19 o'clock for the sweetest and truest play ever written of New England farm life. "Shore Acres," which is announced for production at the Empire Theater Sunday matinee, Sunday and Monday nights only. Although Mr. Herne wrote many plays and all of them treated of American home life, yet none of them has been so universally admired as "Shore Acres," which now has a record of over ten years' continued success. The play has some exquisite touches of human nature and its manifold beauties cannot fall to enlist the sympathies of any audience. The story of love, hope, faith, patience, ambition and greed that makes up the circumstances of almost everyone's life is told in a masterly manner by the simple folk Mr. Herne introduces in this charming pastoral comedy and its pathetic and comic scenes move to tears and laughter, while its more stirring episodes carry the onlooker forward with unabating interest to the very end of the last act.

Ovide Musin, the Wizard.

Sparkling, dazzling, mystical, at times almost superhuman is the play-ing of the great violinist, Musin, who comes to Portland Monday, evening, December 19, at the First Baptist Church, and such a programme as he will give here would make the average artist green with envy. For Musin can do everything, and with the utmost stace and abandon. Pizzicatto, stacatto, harmonies, runs in double thirds, octaves, are as nothing to the great wizard of the violin. A superb com-pany of artists comes with Musin. Public sale of seats opens Thursday morning. December 15, at Allen & Gilbert-Ramaker Piano Company s. Direction

"The Billionaire" Tomorrow Night. Tomorrow (Thursday) night and Friday matinee Klaw & Erianger will present Thomas Q. Seabrooke in the big musical comedy success, "The Billionaire," at the Columbia Theater. The company includes Diamond Don-

Seymour Brown, Frederic Scott, John Steppling, Charles Halton, James Grant and Abraham Friedland. Seats are now selling in the lobby of the Marquam Grand Theater.

"A Chinese Honeymoon."

The coming of "A Chinese Honeymoon" to the Marquam Grand Theater next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, December 20 and 21, naturally arouses a good bit of anticipatory interest, for this imported mirthful musical fabric has had the longest run in New York of anything put upon the metropolitan stage in the past five years. There are 60 people in "A Chinese Honeymoon" company, including a dozen wellknown artists, and several dozen very pretty girls. The stage investiture is said to be gorgeous almost beyond any previously-set criterion.
