

TORY JUDGE

Senate Takes Action in Swayne Case.

HOUSE REPORT RECEIVED

Committee Is Appointed to Arrange Details of Trial.

PHILIPPINE BILL CALLED UP

Forker Urges Amendment Reducing Tariff Be Voted On at Same Time, but Objection Is Raised—Pure Food Considered.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The Senate, which, under the Constitution, is made the trial court in impeachment cases, today received official notice of the determination of the House of Representatives to present impeachment charges against Charles Swayne, Judge in the Northern District of Florida. The matter was brought to the Senate's attention by a House committee, and the Senate appointed a committee to arrange the details of the proposed trial.

Apparently the Senate had not counted upon being so confronted with this problem, so that when a very few minutes before the hour of meeting the House committee appeared at the Vice-President's room to confer with President Frye, there was a general stirring about on the part of the officials to find precedents and to make preparation for the ceremony, the like of which had not been witnessed in the Senate chamber since the proceedings of 1878 against Secretary Belknap.

Before the impeachment case was taken up the Senate passed the bill incorporating the American National Red Cross, and the Senate committees were filled in accordance with the recommendations of the committee on committees.

The House impeachment committee was then announced.

Representative Palmer spoke for the committee, saying:

"Mr. President, in obedience to the order of the House of Representatives, we appear before you and in the name of the House of Representatives and all of the people of the United States of America, we do impeach Charles Swayne, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Florida, for high crimes and misdemeanors in office; and we further inform the Senate that the House of Representatives will in due time present articles of impeachment against him and make good the same. And in his name we make good the same, to which shall take order for the appearance for the said Charles Swayne to answer said impeachment."

The President pro tem said: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee: The chair begs to announce that the Senate will take order in the premises, due notice of which will be given to the House of Representatives. The committee immediately retired. The entire ceremony consumed less than three minutes of time."

Philippine Bill Called Up.

The Senate considered the Philippine government bill and the pure food bill. Forker (O.) presented a tariff amendment to the Philippine bill, but on complaint of Dubois (Idaho) and other Senators that this provision had not been contemplated when the Senate entered into an agreement to vote on the bill next Friday, it was withdrawn. The proposed amendment fixes the duty on sugar and tobacco at only 5 per cent of the Dingley rate. It is provided also that all duties shall be paid into the Treasury for the benefit of the islands. The present duty is 7 per cent of the Dingley rate. A number of semi-public bills were passed.

After the House committee had retired Platt (Conn.) presented a resolution that the Senate should refer to the impeachment of Judge Swayne be referred to a select committee to consist of five Senators to be appointed by the President pro tem.

The resolution was agreed to and the chair designated Platt (Conn.), Clark (Wyo.), Fairbanks (Ind.), Bacon (Ga.) and Pettus (Ark.) members of the committee. All the members of the select committee are members of the committee on the judiciary.

The following bills were passed: Authorizing the erection of additional buildings at the new Dungeness lighthouse in the State of Washington. Making additional appropriation for the battery post at Washington.

Establishing a fog signal at the entrance to the harbor at Humboldt Bay, California.

Appropriating $25,000 for the improvement of Mount Rainier National Park.

The pure food bill was then taken up and Cummings (N. D.) again addressed the Senate in its support.

At 2 P. M. the pure food bill gave place to the Philippine bill. Dubois (Idaho) asked that the unanimous agreement to vote on the Philippine bill of Friday be abrogated because of Forker's (O.) tariff amendment to the bill today. He said the people of the West and of his own state are greatly interested in the proposed reduction of duties; that he would not willingly consent to a reduction; and if he had known that the Senate would be called on to vote on the tariff question he would not have assented to the unanimous agreement to vote. He expressed the opinion that the effort to secure tariff reduction is, under these circumstances, unfair.

Lodge (Mass.) replied that to cancel the voting agreement would be impossible, but said when the agreement was made he had no information that a tariff amendment would be offered.

Forker (O.) said that he had not intended to take any unfair advantage on presenting his provision, and that it is very similar to bills heretofore considered by the Senate.

Bailey (Tex.) and Carmack (Tenn.) raised the point that the Forker amendment is out of order because under the Constitution revenue legislation must originate in the House of Representatives. Forker replied that the Constitution applies only to the revenues of the United States, and that the Supreme Court has decided that the revenues of the Philippines are not the revenues of the United States.

"Decided it is 4 to 4," replied Bailey. Forker: "That's enough. Many other important questions have been decided in the same way."

Platt (Conn.) suggested to Forker that he should withdraw the amendment, adding that when the consent to vote had been secured there was no reason to apprehend that such a question as that raised by the amendment would be presented. He agreed with Dubois (Idaho) that the Philippine tariff subject is too important to be considered within the time allowed.

After further debate, Forker consented not to press his amendment in connection with the pending bill, but in doing so gave notice that later he would offer his amendment and press it without being called on to give specific notice of his intentions in that respect.

Chapman (Tex.) gave notice that he would offer several amendments to the bill, among them one striking out the entire section guaranteeing interest bonds for the proposed system of railroads. He said that the development of the islands, and that their construction would improve the military situation there, as well as tend to the establishment of an orderly and stable government, but he contended that the rate of 5 per cent interest proposed to be allowed on the bonds was an unnecessary burden on a people already impoverished by war.

Newlands (Nev.) said that under the terms of the bill the Philippine government would be required to pay interest on the proposed Government bonds. He believed the Government would have to pay them, and thought the United States could reduce the interest from 5 to 2 per cent by guaranteeing them, inasmuch as this Government was morally responsible for the debt. He believed it should stand good for them from the beginning. The Senate, at 4:41 P. M., went into executive session, and at 4:51 P. M. adjourned.

TO PREPARE CHARGES IN HOUSE

Palmer Heads Committee of Seven—Urgent Deficiency Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Further action on the impeachment proceedings against Judge Charles Swayne, of the Northern District of Florida, was taken in the House today by the appointment of a committee of seven provided for by a resolution adopted yesterday to draft the charges for presentation to the Senate, and the report of the committee of five to notify the Senate of the impeachment, which announced that it had performed its duty and the Senate had responded that "order shall be taken."

The urgent deficiency bill and several other bills of a public nature were passed. Immediately after the House met today Speaker Cannon announced as the committee of seven to prepare the charges against Judge Swayne: Falmer (Pa.), Gillett (Cal.), Parker (N. J.), Littlefield (Me.), Powers (Mass.), Clayton (Dem., Ala.) and De Arment (Mo.).

From the committee on Judiciary, Jenkins (Wis.), its chairman, reported back the resolutions recently introduced by Baker (Dem., N. Y.) demanding an inquiry into the so-called steel trust, with the recommendation that the resolution lie on the table. Baker desired to discuss his resolution, but he was shut off because of the time limit on the table was not debatable. The recommendation of the committee was adopted.

The House then went into committee of the whole to consider the urgent deficiency bill. Hemenway (Ind.) explained its provisions. During the debate on the bill the committee appointed yesterday to notify the Senate that the House had impeached Judge Swayne appeared in the center aisle, and Palmer, its chairman, spoke as follows:

"Mr. Speaker: In obedience to the order of the House, we proceeded to the bar of the Senate, and in the name of this body, and of all the people of the United States, we impeached, as we were directed to do, Charles Swayne, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Florida, for high crimes and misdemeanors in office, and we demanded that the Senate should take order to make him appear before that body to answer for the same, and announced that the House would soon present articles of impeachment and make good the same, to which the response was, 'Order shall be taken.'"

Discussion of the urgent deficiency bill was resumed. Baker (Dem., N. Y.) gave vent to his feelings on the subject of trusts and combinations in restraint of trade, by moving an amendment to reduce from $2,000 to $1,000 the appropriation for such combinations. Satisfied with his statement, he withdrew his amendment, and the bill then passed.

Other bills were passed as follows: Amending the act to extend the coal and land laws to the district of Alaska; authorizing the exploration and purchase of mines within the boundaries of private land claims; amending the Revised Statutes so as to give foreign authors the right to copyright in this country any time within 12 months after publication abroad; amending the Revised Statutes so as to restrict patents on drugs or medicines to the process of manufacture, and not the product. Adjourned.

ROOSEVELT URGES ACTION.

Anxious Interstate Commerce Commission Be Given Greater Power.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—President Roosevelt considered today with several friends his recommendation that increased powers be conferred by legislation upon the Interstate Commerce Commission. Those to whom he talked were not only members of Congress, but men in other walks of life. To all he indicated his earnest desire that action of a definite nature—action that would bring results to the people—should be taken as soon as practicable.

A day or two ago he considered the question with Judge Grosscup, of Chicago. Today he discussed it with Judge William W. Morrow, of the United States Court at San Francisco.

By invitation of the President, a special committee of the Commercial Travelers' Protective Association called on him today to consider his recommendation that the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission be extended so as to enable the commission to pass upon questions of railroad freight rates, subject only to review by the courts.

The committee assured the President that in the stand he had taken regarding railroads he had the cordial support of the 35,000 travelers and jobbers whom the committee represented. At the conclusion of the conference Chairman Crawford of St. Louis, issued a statement, in which he said:

"The T. P. A. urges the adoption of the Cooper-Quarles bill as affording a means of utilizing the present machinery of the Interstate Commerce Commission for a more complete system to be developed as the need is made apparent."

WIDOW ON STAND

Mrs. Young Appears in Nan Patterson Case.

SHOWGIRL IS DEATHLY PALE

She Watches Intently Every Movement of the Witness, Who Identifies a Letter Referred to by Her Brother-in-Law.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Young, widow of Caesar Young, was a witness today in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court, where Nan Patterson is on trial, charged with Young's murder. Although she was on the stand only long enough to identify a letter to which another witness had referred, Mrs. Young's presence developed one of the most intense situations of the trial. As the wife of the dead man took the stand, Miss Patterson became deathly pale, but watched intently every movement of the witness during her brief examination.

The letter which Mrs. Young identified had been produced by Bernard L. McKean, one of Young's brothers-in-law, who testified that Young had mentioned it in a conversation with Miss Patterson early in May, and that Miss Patterson had said the letter was written by her sister, Mrs. J. Morgan Smith. The letter has not yet been read in evidence.

Another of Young's brothers-in-law, William Luce, told what occurred before Young and Miss Patterson at their meeting in a saloon the night before Young was killed and John Crowley, a cab driver, repeated his story of having seen Young slap the prisoner's face during a quarrel on the street that same night. Court adjourned until tomorrow.

When the trial was resumed today, and before Justice Davis had an opportunity to announce his decision on the alleged conspiracy, Assistant District Attorney Rand closed the incident by withdrawing his request that the grand jury subpoena served on J. Morgan Smith be admitted as evidence. Mr. Rand said he was actuated in withdrawing his request by information which satisfied him that the admissibility of the subpoena was not free from doubt. At the conclusion of Mr. Rand's statement, and upon suggestion of attorney for the defense, Judge Davis directed the jury to disregard all references made to the missing witness.

An attempt by the prosecution to introduce as evidence the register of a Hoboken hotel was not permitted by the court. The hotel clerk was permitted to say that a man and woman registered at the house on the night of June 8 as "Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Slocum, New York," but he was not allowed to describe the personal appearance of the two guests. Another employee of the hotel identified J. Randolph Patterson, the defendant's father, as a person he had seen at the hotel after Young's death. Counsel for Nan Patterson refused to produce Young's letters on demand of the prosecution. Assistant District Attorney Marvin Levin was not allowed to testify that Mr. Levin had admitted having such letters.

John Crowley, the cab driver, who, at the previous trial, testified that Young slapped Miss Patterson's face and sent her home the night before he was killed, retold the story.

MEN ON BATTLESHIP SHOT.

Negro Fires on Tormentors, Then Gives Pursuers a Hard Race.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—George Washington, a negro seaman, shot and wounded two others of the Illinois crew, on the New York navy-yard today. Henry More, an apprentice, received a bullet in the arm and Seaman Shap, another in the back. Shap was seriously wounded.

More and the colored man occupied adjoining hammocks and Washington was said to be ineffective until More's tantalizing actions caused Washington to strike en masse between the swimmers in the arm. Shap interfered and was shot in the back.

Pursued by a crowd of sailors, and with his revolver in his hand, Washington fled to the deck, down the gangplank to the dock and tried to enter the ferry to reach the mainland.

On the way it is said Washington fired shots at his pursuers, but they never halted. A corporal stopped him at the ferry, whereupon Washington jumped into the icy water and tried to swim ashore. The sailors promptly followed and a struggle ensued between the swimmers. The negro finally yielded to force of numbers and was made a prisoner.
