Seats are now selling for the entire engagement.

AUDIENCES ARE DELIGHTED.

Intense Interest Manifested in Great Emotional Drama at Columbia.

The best proof of all that "Camilie" is a Jrawing card at the Columbia is found in the close attention paid by the large audiences which nightly watch and weep at the sad but inscinating story of a blighted career. This intensity of interest is due to sev-eral causes. The compelling interest of the life story unfolded, the perfectly con-sistent stage settings and costuming, but most of all to the sincerity with which the players interpret the characters they partruy

There is no overdoing, no ranting, no false notes. Each one lives and breathes his part in the existence of the loving, suffering, sorrowing, doomed Camille, so faithfully rendered by Miss Countiss, the dominating spirit of the play. There is a sermon in it that has for its text, "The wages of sin are death."

Special Christmas Matinee Monday. ington.

At the Columbia will be given a spe cial Christmas matinee on Monday, De cember 25, of "The Charity Ball," which is perhaps the most beautiful and approprinte play ever written for the holiday season. "The Charity Ball" opens at the Columbia Sunday matinee and will ontinues all next week. Seats are now

Sale for Maxine Elliott.

Temorrow (Friday) morning at 19 o'clock the advance sale of seats will open for the Marquam Grand Theater's Christmas sttraction. Maxine Elliott, in "Her Own Way," Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday nights, December 25, 25, 28. The combination of Miss Elilott as a star and a new Clyde Flich play which has been voted the best that prolific author ever wrote, is a strong attraction. Miss Elliott, as a star to the head of her own company, has scored the most pronounced auccess in years. There are many Fitch epigrams and satires throughout the play, and society life is held up in a whimsical fashion. Charles B. Dillingham has surrounded his star with a strong supporting company.

Christmas Offering at Empire Theater

Whatever may be the fault of 99 out of every 100 dialect plays, none of them are apparent in "Yon Yonson," which is to be seen in this city at the Empire Theater four nights, starting next Sun-day matinee. There will be a special matinee Monday. Manager P. J. Kennedy has imported a new "Yon" for this season in David Brattstrom, who is conceded by all who have seen him to be the greatest of all dialect comedians now before the public

Christmas Gifts From Miss Countiss.

Miss Countiss, the charming leading woman of the Columbia stock company, will give away Christmas presents to all juvenile attendants at the matinee the juvenue attendants at the matthew Saturday of this week. All those who come to see the beautiful play "Camille" that day will be twice delighted-first with "Camille" and second with a pretty Christmas gift from the hands of their

INSPECTION IS COMPLETED.

Condition of Morrison-Street Bridge

Will Be Reported Today.

Inspection of the Morrison-stree bridge will probably be finished today by Charles S. Bibler, the engineer who was charges 5, binner, the engineer who was engaged by the special investigating com-mittee of the City Council, and a com-mittee of the Taxpayers' League. The report will be made to C. E. Rumelin, chairman of the Council committee, What it will contain Mr. Bibler has not re-

When seen last night he declined to discuss the contents of the report so far as he had prepared it, or to tell what would be his opinion of the whole structure. His hands were stained from climb-ing over the iron and steel framework of the bridge, showing that he had been at work. Yesterday he spent on the draw-span. He will not attempt to inspect the submerged parts of the bridge

It is the general opinion that the bridge will be found up to specifications, and the chief interest centers in whether or not the city has been charged an exorbi-tant price for extras, the total cost of which is to be $55,000.
