Those big companies having San Francisco connections claim that the question of a bid was left to the San Francisco offices. Other cargo mills insist that the trade is so heavy and the Government business so exacting that they did not care to enter the competi-tion. At the time when this genera disinclination of Sound firms to submit bids was strongest, the Tacoma concern quoted prices that run $2 per thousand higher on dimension and correspond-ingly higher on other grades, than their previous offers.

with. Yours respectfully.

The question has been taised as to the status of the defendants who have confessed their share in the conspiracy and who are again called to account by the Government. It is stated that in the first case where conviction was had the prosecution will take no confession into consideration, and that the defendants will be punished at the discretion of the court. It is expected that they will receive the maximum sentence. Under the indictment returned yester day all of the defendants, with the exception of Mr. Mays, will plead guilty and will, it is understood, be allowed to go with a fine.

DECLARES HE IS "JOBBED."

Senator Mays Accuses Prosecution of Denying Him Fair Treatment.

State Senator F. P. Mays, on being asked for a statement of his position in view of the indictment being returned against him, talked freely on the subject.

"I am, of course, very much mortified and feel very keenly the disgrace of being indicted by the grand jury, but I trust that my friends and the public will withhold judgment until I have an opportunity to show my innocence. I have suffered silence during the past neveral weeks, while my name was being made use of in the newspapers and on the streets as being connected with these land frauds, but I confidently expected that when the matter came before the grand jury I would be accorded the usual privilege of appearing before that body as a with my own behalf, and I rested in the ling of absolute certainty that upon a celling. frank, full and fair statement of the facts n the case, no indictment could be found agains; m

'I am indignant at the treatment ac orded me by Mr. Hency, the prosecuting officer of the Government, and I feel that I have been deliberately and shamefully jobbed. I want my friends to know the facts, and then I will await my trial with omposure, but tonight I am almost at oss for words to express my feelings of alterness and resentment at the way I ave been treated.

"During the 25 years that I have been practicing attorney in the courts of this state, I have never known a prosecuting officer to deny the request of an au erson to appear in his own behalf before the grand jury. I was not only denied that privilege, but I was deliberately mis-led by Mr. Heney, so that I did not know until the last moment that I would not be given this right to explain the charges

I think it is no crime if I did, and I want to say that I had no means of knowing, nor did Sen-ator Mitchell know, when he introduced this fellow to the Land Office at Wash-ington, that he was engaged in any frauds. Despondent because of a multiplicity of troubles, Benjamin Boynton, son of As-sistant Superintendent B. F. Boynton, of the Oregon Water Power & Ballway Com-ners, Last stable desails pany, last night drank a quantity of pol-son from a bottle, while at the home of George Richardson, 84 East Eighth street, but will recover,

From the young man's own statements, before taking the poison, he was unable to obtain work and his father and he did not get along well. They lived apart. On three occasions, it is said, the boy had worked on the line for his father, but each time trouble occurred which caused him to loose his position.

To add to his difficulties a you an, living at Oakland, Cal., with whom Boynton had been keeping company, had ceased to receive his attention, it is said. He had threatened on various occasions to take his life. Last night, about 11 o'clock, he was sitting in the parlor of the Richardson home. He had just returned from the city, where he went to transact some business of a personal nature. "I'm going-I've taken poison," he gasped, as he fell to the floor. "I drank hloroform and Mrs. Richardson and Riley Richardson, his chum, sprang to his side and did all in their power to aid him. The police were notified, and the young man was conveyed to Good Samaritan Hospital in a patrol wagon. There he rapidly became better, and, at a late hour, it was announced he would recover. In the patrol wagon young Boynton moaned the name of "Hazel." "Oh, Hazel, I told you I owuld do this!" he repeatedly cried. "Why won't you come to moa"!

Policeman Lillis had hard work to keep him on the stretcher during the trip to the hospital. Boynton is 21 years old. He came here three months ago from Oakland, Cal., where he is widely known. His relatives, with the exception of his father, all live there. According to the statements of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, with whom he has been boarding and rooming, he has repeatedly threatened to kill himself, but they paid but little attention to him
