Speakership Contest Looks Easy for Him.

FOE OF NO PRIVATE INTERESTS

Pierce County and Spokane Will Not Allow King Delegation to Organize House, and Canneryman Has Best of Chances.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 22 - (Special.)-J. G. Megler, of Brookfield, State Reprecentative from Wahkinkum County, should win the speakership contest. That is the way the problem is working out, nd Megler's position is becoming stronger

None of the Senatorial candidates is enough to organize the House and danger exists in drawing the fight into the speakership contest on a deal between two or more of the candi-dates to dispense House patronage. The logical solution is the election of a Speaker whose hands are not tied, and the drift of sentiment is in that direction. But chether sentiment prevails or not, cirumstances are strong enough almost to 189 West Park, a son.

The most formidable Senatorial candiprobably C. S. Gleason of King That he is so is due to the fact that Cleason has a home delegation of I7 at the start and he has picked up a small outside following. This is not to say that is the strongest candidate, for such a statement does not harmonize with the deciaration that Megier will probably win. But Gleason is purely a Senatorial candidate for Speaker. McCoy is willing ties in his fight, and C. L. Roth might become a factional representative. Thus far Megler is freer than anyone else from Spokane Favors Megler.

While the Spokane delegation has not given a specific statement of its position given a specific statement of its position on the speakership, individual expressions favor Megler. Those members of the Spokane delegation who have talked speakership favor his election, and the reentage of such men is strong enough clearly indicate the drift of the delega-

Pierce County has been holding off to give McCoy a chance to make good, but there is an undercurrent of Megler sentinent that will be strong enough at the to throw the delegation to Wahkiakum County man.

Megler followers have a small Southwest vote. Megler counts upon the support of the Ankeny men in the Legislature, and there is a disposition to concede this, Managers of other ambitious statesmen schowledge that Megler has the call on the Ankeny support.

An outline of the situation indicates where Megier can pick up the vote that he needs to insure his election as Speaker. It is not to be conceived that Pierce and Speaker, for instance, will allow Piles and the King County delegation to organize and Larrage, two-sacty transportations. Mrs. N. E. McGuire, Halsey, between East Twenty-eighth, cottage, $1000; John Proudfoot, contractor.

J. J. Seaton, Lincoln, northwest corner Spokane, for instance, will allow Fire the King County, delegation to organize the House. Neither delegation could win without outside help, and this would not without outside help, and this would not Senatorial line-up.

Is Oldest Member.

There is another side to the Megler fight that makes it promising. Megler is the oldest member of the Legislature, having served in seven of the past eight sessions since statehood. He is a good parliamentarian and fair in his rulings. He ex-pedites business when in the chair, and this will count strongly.

In the House there is a good following of men determined upon a business ses-sion, and this vote is naturally interested a fair organization of the House. With no Senatorial candidate strong enough to win alone, the disposition will be to use as a safety valve and elect Speaker who will keep his hands off the contest. Of course the Speaker must vote for some candidate, but if he eliminates Senatorial politics from the make-up of the committees this is all that can be ex-

Megler is satisfactory to the railro commission forces, for he has voted with them in the past. There is no objection to him on the part of the railroads. Megler is under pledge to the lumbermen and he is himself interested in the fishing busi-ness. So far as private interests are concorned he door not hit any one.

Need for Savings' Bank Legislation. PORTLAND, Or., Dec. 23.-(To the Edior.)-I have read with much interest the communication from Mr. R. Koerner, of Oregon City, as printed in The Ore-gonian of December 17, pertaining to say-In this article he speaks of the good laws governing and the large tose made of such institutions in the Past. ern states, where the people have confidence in them. It seems to me a little remarkable that our banks themselves have not made an effort to have such laws as be refers to enacted in this state, and thus, by increasing the confidence of the people, enlarge their business and ase their profits. Only yesterday I read, in a late paper, an account of a man being murdered and his hoard of 2000 in gold being stolen. There are many such houses, large and small, that should be in use by being deposited in savings banks where the money would be carning interest and be loaned to some person desiring to buy, improve or build There are many such hoards hidden away where they are never found on account of the death of the owner, who is the only person having knowledge by fire, and in either case are entirely

But can we blame the people for this lack of confidence? As matters now stand, what can the average bank de-positor, or even the best business man, find out about the actual condition of any of our banks, except, it may be, the Na-tional banks? They might even be insolvent, and who except the managers (who might be the greatest rascals in the community) would or could be the wiser? Surely their own interests require the bankers to have a law enacted providing for examination and publicity. The examination should be rigid and thorough and the character of the securities and investments should be restricted. I beve our bankers would favor such a law their attention were called to the b fits, and would gladly co-operate with Mr. Koerner or any other person who will take the initiative in the matter of framing a bill to be presented at the forthcoming session of our Legislature. But there should be no time lost if we are to onsult the laws of other states and get the benefit of their experience. I have no doubt any of our "competent legislators" would gladly introduce such a bill, out who will prepare it?

The bankers of Portland owe it to themselves to have such a law enacted, for the purpose also of counteracting the effects of the bank failures in the past, the victims of which are still quite nu-merous and very bitter toward all sav-ings banks. This is actively operating to reep money out of our savings banks.
R is not necessary to create a new office of bank examiner, as the number of savings banks is quite limited. It might be added to the duties of the State

Auditor, or some other officer, now, or

BLAIR INSURANCE TRIAL

Friend Tells of Clead Man's Work for Betterment of Civic Conditions.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 22.-The testimony of Thomas S. McPheeters, for many years of the country says it is not indecent an intimate friend of the late James L. Blair was the feature today of the testimony in the sult brought by a New York Life Insurance Company to annul s $200,000 policy on the life of Blair.

Mr. McPheeters told of the prominent part takent by Blair in all movements for the better uent of civic conditions and declared that he often aroused public senti-ment at the risk of personal criticism. The witness rehearsed the story told by Blair that a brother had involved him in financial difficulties and said that he had called a meeting of Blair's friends to see if something could not be done for his relief. Later, according to Mr. McPheeters' testimony, a note given by Blair became due, and when a local bank became insistent, Mr. B.air had told McPheeters that he could not raise the funds. Mr. McPheeters went to ten of Blair's friends and secured the money, $55,000, with which to take up the note.

David R. Franc's, president of the Louisiana Purchases Exposition Company was also a witness. Mr. Francis told of a meeting of the board of directors of the World's Fair after the publication of the alleged peculations of Blair, who was at that time general counsel for the World's Fair Company, at which it was like the following the first time general countries and the first was like the first time general countries and the first was like the first time general countries and the first was like the first time general countries and the first was like the first time general countries and the first was like the first time general countries. FOG IS BLOWING AWAY.

Atlantic Liners Will Soon Be Able to Make Port.

LONDON, Dec. 33.-The fog in London practically disappeared this afternoon before a western breeze. Reports from the coast show a continuance of the dislocation of traffic. According to a tele gram from Liverpool at 10 o'clock this morning the White Star line steamers Oceanic and Cedric were still fog bound in the Mersey.

The vessel said to be the Hamburg-

American line steamer Pretoria, reported last night with others as being fog bound in the Mersey, was not the Pretoria, but was the Allan line steamer Pretorian, hound from Liverpool for St. John, N. B. The Pretoria, having Mr. Chadwick, of Cieveland, O., and his daughter among her passengers, was last reported leaving Bologne-sur-Mer December 18 for New York, and is due at the latter port De-cember 28 or 29.

The White Star Line steamer Oceanic, from New York December 14; the White Star Line steamer Cedric, which sailed from Liverpool December 21 for New York, and the Cunard Line steamer Sax-onia, from Boston, December 13, were still fogbound at 4 P. M., off the Mersey Bar. It is considered that there is little prospect of the Oceanic or Saxonia landing their passengers at Liverpool tonight. This is the longest detention of ocean steamers by fog in years.

Last night was the anniversary of Abraham's wife's death. He became moody and refused to sleep, so the brothers sat up together all night. Soon after they joined their aged mother at the breakfast table, Abraham became violent ham became violent.

The Nude in Kansas.

Kansas City Journal. The funniest things imaginable come out of Kansas. The Journal is in receipt of a note from a Topeka woman which she says she wishes to protest "against the growing immodesty of the age." Her grievance is that the Independent Magazine of last weeka religious and moral guide-contained the picture of a Samoan belle so classi-cally decolette in attire that her waistband was also her necktle. "If pictures like this can appear in the religious journals of the land," exclaimed the good Topeka woman, "how are we to protect ourselves and our families from this modern spirit of indecency?" We really do not know. Little can be called indecent if the social forces

It really is a question of conception not of fact. For example, what is known as Library Hall in Topeka is filled with nude statuary, mostly the gift of Edward Wilder, secretary and treasurer of the Santa Fe Railroad. Recently some of the good women of the town used the hall for a meeting of some character. They were shocked at the appearance of so much marble and plaster nakedness, and they worked all the afternoon putting aprons and other drapery on the statues. Before the meeting took place Mr. Wilder happened along. When he saw what the women had done he be came very indignant and tore away the draperies which the women had so carefully arranged. "They made those statues positively indecent," declared Mr. Wilder. "I never saw anything so suggestive in all my life.
