State Made Good Showing.

"The exhibit of Oregon at St. Louis com. pured favorably with that of any other state. The horticultural exhibit was far shead of that of other states, the fruit altracting particular attention. This feat-ure excited much favorable comment among visitors. In fact, all our exhibits, in fishing, mining and agriculture, at-tracted great attention."

The matter of crecting a Fine Arts building is to have the immediate attention of the director-general, and within a few days a decision on this and other matters will be rendered. Mcotings of the executive committee will be rather numerous during this week and the one following, and the indications are that there will soon be announced plans for important additions to the Exposition.

To Exhibit Old Church.

During the present week steps will be taken to bring to the Lewis and Clark Exposition the first Protestant Church ever erected west of the Rocky Mountains. Los building now stands in Oregon City, Lear the corner of Seventh and Main streets. It is at present used as a car-riage warehouse. It was first crected on the spot where Dr. McLoughlin's house now stands, but was later moved to its stuffs available and in quantities prac-present position, and a new church was erected on the same lot. Then the his-torical building became a warehouse.

The building was erected in 1843 of lum-er brought around Cape Horn in sailing ships. With its erection a Methodist mis-Waller being in charge.

Next Friday night a meeting of the trustees will be held, and the subject of leinging the historical building to the Exposition will be discussed. Bishop Moore, of Portland, Dr. A. H. Rader and of transportation, "Coincident with this improvement in Dr. L. E. Rockwell will be present at the food and transportation have come social betterments that have lengthened life and made people more health. Great acourges moeting.

TIMBERMEN MEET TODAY. Bill Will Be Drafted to Protect the

"A new civilization is now possible to which those of the past can offer few anniogies. Individual struggle has pracin securing a law at the last meeting of the Legislature regulating the setting of fires, will meet at 2 P. M. today in 732 Chamber of Commerce building to draft a bill to be presented at the coming sesa million immigrants a year, does not increase the pressure. We have higher standards today with $0,000,000 people than sion of the Legislature. The Legislature passed a fire bill at its last session, but it was vetoed by Gov-ernor Chamberlain on two grounds. It provided a system of forest ranging we had two generations ago with 40,000,000 people, and we could support 200,000,000 with as great case and with as little indiwhich he declared might prove very exvidual struggle. "The great central plain of North Amer-ica is a vast storehouse of food. We have pensive, the cost of support to fall on the state. He also objected that it infringed on his prerogative in naming the the wheat that Europe has, but we have it more abundantly. We have more ex-tensive grazing regions, and with corn nbers of the commission to charge of the rangers. The timbermen wish to avoid these plt-falls and will eliminate from the bill they for fodder have superior facilities for rais-ing cattle. Pork never took its proper place in the diet of the world until the present all objectionable points. They will recommend in their hill a complete and elastic system of rangers, their salaries great cornfields of the West came into ex-istence. to be paid by the timbermen. Just how the burden will be divided will be decided "To think of the changes in diet that the cheapening of sugar has made is to realize in a measure what an increase of population will follow the full utilization upon today. The system to be recommended is that a of available root crops. We have com-bined the resources on which the civiliza-tion of North Europe depends and those state commission be appointed by the Governor to have full control of the rangers, that each county have a chief ranger, whose duty it shall be to issue which made the ancient civilizations of the South. The immigrants from South Europe find here a possible diet like that permits for the setting of slashing fires. He shall also hire the rangers. The chief of their home countries, and in its use they evoke qualities in our soil that lay ranger must use his judgment as to the best time to allow fires to be set. He must have a ranger at every fire, whose duty it dormant as long as the Northern races were fed from it. "In addition to these home possibilities shall be to see that the fire is put out within 24 hours. He is to be able to hire as many men as rangers as he finds necessary. The bill will provide that this chief ranger be either the County Judge or County Clerk, who shall assume the duty regions can support as great a population as can the United States, and cost is less than that of the home supply. We need only a fruit and a vegetable-loving popuex officio and shall receive no extra compensation.

While the chief reason for passing an while the chief reason for passing an act regarding forest fires this year is to be to prevent the destruction of timber, there is also a purpose to prevent ruthless slashing in the middet of Summer, espelation to utilize these new food materials, and it is at hand in the emigrants from Southern and Central Europe. "This food supply could not be made available, nor could the absorption and assimilation of southern races take place cially next Summer when the Exposition
