LICE TO EAT PESTS

Plan for Exterminating the Codlin Moth.

PARENT PARASITES ARRIVE

If Scheme Is Successful, California Applegrowers Will Be Greatly Benefitted by Freedom From Hungry Insects.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—(Special.)—The largest consignment of beneficial parasites ever imported into California to kill off pests was received today by Horticultural Commissioner Cooper.

There were more than 1200 of the parasites in all. They are all to be used for the propagation of the millions of lice that are expected to exterminate the codlin moth in California, and thereby to add millions of dollars to the annual value of the apple crop of this state. They were received from George Compere, who secured them in travels in Southern Europe. It is believed that they are the proper insects to do the most good.

The first of the codlin moth destroyers will hatch out in the Ferry building, and the first distributions will be made among the horticulturists of the state during the coming year.

VALUE OF TIMBER LANDS.

Basis of Suits Brought Against Clatsop County and Sheriff.

ASTORIA, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—A number of affidavits were filed in the Circuit Court today by District Attorney Allen in connection with the suits recently brought by five timber-land syndicates against Clatsop County and Sheriff Linville. The principal ones are sworn to by the members of the County Court and Board of Equalization, which passed upon the 1903 assessment roll. The affidavits assert that the assessments were made in good faith, and there was no effort on the part of the Assessor or other county officials to discriminate against the timber land owners; also that heretofore the timber lands have not borne their just portion of the county expenses, and the valuation on them was raised for that reason. The affidavits further assert that the timber-land owners have at all times concealed the true cash value of their holdings, and cite the fact that in nearly all the transfers of timber lands the consideration named is from $1 to $5. Relative to the selling price of this class of property, the affidavits cite the sale of the Parsons tract near Bugby, which brought $125,000, the sale of the Kinney tract near Big Creek, which brought $52,000, and several other deals, showing that the average selling price is far above the valuations as assessed.

The petitions asking for temporary injunctions restraining the Sheriff from selling the plaintiff's property for taxes will be argued before Judge McBride tomorrow, and should the court decide to grant the temporary injunctions, the county's attorneys will ask that the cases be tried at once.

SUITS OVER SCHOOL BOOKS.

Publishers Wanted to Stop Directors Ordering Supplementary Texts.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Seven opinions were handed down by the Supreme Court today in actions arising out of acts on the part of the Directors of the Olympia School District, which, it was alleged, impaired the contracts entered into between the State Board of Education and several publishers for supplying uniform text-books to the districts of the state for a period of five years, beginning September 1, 1900.

The suits were applications for injunctions to prohibit the directors from adopting a supplemental course of study and selecting books for use in addition to those prescribed in the contracts with the publishers.

The actions were brought by Harr Wagner, Eaton & Co., the Westland Publishing Company and Rand, McNally & Co. In connection with these actions, the district attacked the validity of the contracts at large, alleging that they had been obtained through fraud. When the lower court held that the district could not raise this question, several taxpayers were induced to intervene and attack the contract on the same ground, but their petitions for right to intervene were denied on the theory that the state was the only party that could attack the contracts.

While the Supreme Court upholds the contracts entered into with the publishers by the State Board, their validity, in a true sense, is not passed upon. Neither side gains a signal victory, the gist of the opinions being that neither district nor taxpayers can attack the validity of the contract on the ground of fraud, and that the district has the power to fix a course of study, to the extent tha such course of study does not interfere with existing obligations entered into by the state in behalf of the district.

The judgments of the lower court, holding that the contract of Harr Wagner and the Westland Publishing Company are not impaired by the adoption of the supplemental course of study, and denying the injunction asked for, are affirmed; while a similar judgment against Eaton & Co. is reversed. The judgment of the lower court giving Rand, McNally & Co. the injunction prayed for is affirmed.

FIRE STARTS IN HOTEL.

Flames at Midnight Wipe Out Stores and Offices Worth $15,000.

GARFIELD, Wash., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—At 12 o'clock last night fire destroyed property in Garfield worth $15,000. The fire started in the laundry-room of the Merchants' Hotel, and soon the whole three-story structure was in flames. The proprietor had only time to awaken his family and guests and get them out of the burning building when it collapsed.

The Garfield Land Company lost its office and all books and valuable records. The Inland Empire Company lost its building. Gwinn Bros.' building, filled with furniture, was destroyed. Faulkner & Carruthers lost their brick property. Overby & Stivers' meatmarket was damaged to the extent of $1200. All the plate-glass windows on the opposite side of the street were badly damaged. The fire department was on the ground early, and together with hundreds of citizens, saved the town from burning down by confining the fire to the block in which it originated. The hotel loss is $5000, partly covered by insurance.

Cheyenne Indians Not Starving.

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 29.—Register Gordon, of the United States Land Office at Miles City, says that the reports of starving among the Northern Cheyenne Indians, at Lame Deer agency, are exaggerated. The Indians have been on half-rations a number of years, and every Winter the whites complain, as they do now, that the Indians kill their stock. Joseph Brown, a leading cattleman of that section, complains that inside of a year the Indians have killed fully 75 cattle. Mr. Gordon saw Agent Clifford, of the agency, a few days ago, and he knew nothing of trouble on the reservation.

Enjoin City Hall Construction.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—J. B. Dabney and wife have secured a temporary injunction against the City of Aberdeen from proceeding any further in letting bids and erecting a $30,000 City Hall. The plaintiffs are the owners of considerable real estate and allege that the city is about to cast an illegal burden on the taxpayers by the creation of an unauthorized and unlawful indebtedness.

Storm on Gray's Harbor.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—The heaviest wind storm of the Winter, accompanied by a driving rain, struck the city late last night, and did not spend its fury until early this morning. An unusually rough time was experienced on the water, and the tide swept in from the ocean to its highest point. The wind played havoc with the telephone system and many wires were down.

Snake With Two Heads.

PHILOMATH, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Arthur Pugsley has on exhibition here a curious zoological specimen in the shape of a two-headed snake. The serpent was captured by David Chesley near Alsea. It appears to be of the garter type, being about eight inches long. Two perfectly developed heads terminate the ophidian, marking it as an anomaly in biological science.

Blue River District Busy.

EUGENE, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Miners coming down from the Blue River district report the Lucky Boy mill has shut down and that the company is devoting most of its time to further development of the mine. With 40 stamps running it was found difficult to keep the mill supplied with ore, hence more development was necessary to increase the facilities for supplying the crusher. Other mines in the district are working as usual, the snow that has fallen up to the present time not being sufficient to interfere with the work to any extent.

STORM DAMAGES JETTY.

Five Thousand Feet of New Trestle Washed Out.

ASTORIA, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Nearly all of the jetty trestle at the mouth of the river has now been destroyed. During the past few months several sections of the structure were carried away, but it was principally of the old portion that had been condemned. Last night, however, over 5000 feet of the trestle that was constructed last season was torn down by the gale and heavy seas, leaving only about 500 feet at the extreme outer end standing. As that section is now entirely without support from the shore, there is every reason to believe that it, too, will go before the Winter ends. The damage wrought by last night's storm cannot be estimated, for while the jetty itself is not injured, the destruction of the superstructure will so delay operations that it is doubtful if any extension work can be done before the latter part of next Summer. The gale which struck this vicinity about 2 o'clock this morning and which is responsible for the injury to the jetty trestle was an unusually severe one. The barometer dropped to 29.15, and the wind attained a velocity of 80 miles per hour, while the rain came down in torrents, over four inches falling during the 24 hours ending this morning. Beyond the breaking of a few windows and signs no damage was done in the city.

Word was received this evening that another section of the jetty trestle was carried away this afternoon. During the early Winter a force of men was employed by the Engineers' Department in replacing the portion of the trestle that was destroyed last Fall by building from the shore end around the gap. This afternoon about 400 or 500 feet of this new work was carried away by the gale and the heavy seas.

Architect Turned Down.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—The Superior Court of Thurston County has entered a judgment dismissing two actions brought by W. A. Ritchie, architect of the Capitol Annex, against the state. One of these suits was to recover $1400 for designing the furniture for the legislative halls. Mr. Ritchie presented a bill to the last Legislature for this work, but it was disallowed. The other action was to recover $1500 for preparing plans for alterations in the building which had been decided upon subsequent to the adoption of Mr. Ritchie's designs for the structure.

Power for Trolley Roads.

EUGENE, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Chief Engineer Diers, of the Willamette Valley Electric Railway Company, is now preparing to put a force of men at work at Martin's Rapids, on the McKenzie River, where the waters are to be taken out by means of a flume and conducted to the site selected for the power station some distance below. The engineer estimates that 5000-horsepower will be developed, which, he thinks, will be sufficient for operating the entire system of electric roads as planned at the present time.

Merchants Form Association.

LA GRANDE, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—The merchants of La Grande, at a meeting last night, formed a protective association, the organization being perfected through the efforts of the grocers of this city. The following officers were elected: President, E. E. Romig; vice-president, W. McFarland; secretary, A. S. Geddes; treasurer, J. D. McKennon. This will become a permanent organization in the city.

Patricide Held for Trial.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Tom Brown, the 17-year-old boy who shot his father, Charles Brown, last Friday, waived examination before Justice White this morning and was held for trial in the Superior Court without bail.

THE NEW YEAR'S OREGONIAN

The best advertisement for the 1905 Fair that Oregon's people can send to their friends in the East, will be a copy of the New Year's Oregonian that will be published Monday morning next. The illustrations of the beautiful Exposition buildings and the Exposition grounds will be made a special feature of the New Year's number. The paper will be mailed to any address in the United States or Canada, postage prepaid, for 10 cents a copy. Address The Oregonian, Portland, Or.

WIDOW GETS MONEY

Jocelyn Dies the Day His Claim Is Granted.

SOUGHT JUSTICE FOR 50 YEARS

Land on the Columbia Was Appropriated by the Government in 1855-57 for Use as a Military Station.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Dec. 29.—A letter has been received by attorneys here announcing that the claim of E. S. Jocelyn, of this city, against the Government for $1500, for deprivation of the use of the claimant's farm on the Columbia River in 1855, 1856 and 1857, is to be paid out of an appropriation to be passed by the present Congress. During the year of the mentioned time the claimant's land was used as a military station by the United States troops engaged in suppressing an Indian outbreak.

In the half-century that has intervened Jocelyn has been engaged in pushing his claim. On the day that the letter announcing that it would be paid was written, Jocelyn died, and the claim will be paid to the widow.

Hearst Case Is Postponed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today, by stipulation of counsel, postponed to an early day in February the hearing of arguments in the case of W. R. Hearst, of New York, against the anthracite coal-carrying railroads. The arguments had been scheduled to take place in this city January 5 next.

Isthmus Barracks for Marines.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—General Taft, after a conference with Secretary Morton on the question of barracks for marines on the Isthmus, cabled General Davis to make provision for housing the detachment on duty there.

ANTI-SALOON LEGISLATION.

Appeal to Be Made by Prohibitionists Whose Ticket Was Defeated.

PULLMAN, Wash., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—An effort is being made by the Prohibitionists of Pullman to shut saloons out of the town by an appeal to the Legislature for special legislation. The Prohibitionists failed to carry the city election on December 6, when a straight prohibition ticket was placed in the field and defeated at the polls. Since the city election the Ministerial Association has taken up the fight and has had 1500 petitions printed and sent to the members of the State Ministerial Association for signatures.

The movement has been on foot for some time, but was worked so quietly that it has just become public. Many business men say they will fight the proposal. Pullman has four saloons, each of which pays $1000 per year license.

NORTHWEST DEAD.

Mrs. Mary Wingate.

THE DALLES, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary Wingate, widow of the late Edward Wingate, died today at her residence in this city, after a prolonged illness, at the age of 71 years. Mary Jane Millis was a native of Maryland. On November 24, 1853, she was married to Edward Wingate, and shortly after, with him went to Nebraska, where they lived until 1861, when the immigration fever led them to cross the plains, intending to find a new home in California. The immigrant train stopped at The Dalles to recuperate. Mr. and Mrs. Wingate decided to remain, and made this place their home. In a few years, Mr. Wingate became one of the foremost merchants of this section. With the exception of a few months' absence on visits, Mrs. Wingate has lived continuously in The Dalles since their arrival here. She leaves an adopted son, Edward Wingate, of this city.

SCHOOL TEACHER LOST.

Miss Raye Pillsbury, of Portland, Supposed to Have Gone on Stage.

KALAMA, Wash., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Miss Raye Pillsbury, the daughter of M. W. Pillsbury, of Portland, has disappeared from Stella, Wash., where she has been teaching school, and no trace of her can be found by her family and friends.

Miss Pillsbury is 20 years old and is a tall and striking brunette. She has been teaching the Blair school, near Stella, for some time on a permit granted by the County Superintendent. She tried to gain a certificate at the November examination, but failed to pass, and her school was to have closed on December 1.

Miss Pillsbury visited her parents in Portland during the Thanksgiving holidays. After having spent several days at home she started to return to her school, but stopped over at Kalama to see the Superintendent in regard to her failure to pass the examination. After having called upon him, she ostensibly started for her school, which had but a few more days to run. Since that time she has not been seen.

Mrs. Eva Pillsbury, the mother of the missing girl, was in Kalama on Wednesday last searching for her daughter, but could find no trace of her. The mother stated that her daughter had always had a desire to enter upon a stage career, but had been restrained by the objections of her family and friends. It was Mrs. Pillsbury's opinion that her daughter was either in Seattle or Tacoma.

The father of the girl is a traveling salesman for the Pacific Coast Biscuit Company and lives at 595 East Taylor street, Portland.

WASCO STORE BURNS.

Stove in Millinery Department Starts Fire Costing $35,000.

WASCO, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Wasco has again been visited by another disastrous fire. At 2 o'clock this morning the general merchandise store of Jones & Macpherson was discovered to be on fire and was totally destroyed. The fire originated in the millinery department and the inflammable material aided the fire in quickly spreading over the entire store. The exact cause of the fire is unknown, but is supposed to have started from the stove in the millinery department.

The loss is placed at $35,000, with $30,000 insurance. About one year ago the department store of the Oregon Trading Company was totally destroyed by fire.

College Students Marry.

PHILOMATH, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. O. V. White, today, occurred the wedding of G. W. Betts, of The Dalles, and Miss Bessie Bradford, of this place, Bishop Nicholas Castle, D. D., officiating. The parties to the marriage contract are prominent here in social circles. Both spent several years in Philomath College, the groom graduating from the normal course in the class of 1904. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal couple, consisting of 20 guests, after which the couple left for The Dalles, which is to be their home.

Reserve Land Restored.

OREGON CITY, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—By the recent order of the Interior Department there is reinstated for public entry substantially the same acreage in the Cascade forest reserve that was withdrawn about one year ago, pending an investigation by the department. Much of this land, having been restored to settlement, will be open to settlers within three months through the Oregon City Land Office.

Damages for Dead Husband.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—Mrs. Lillian Warring, for herself and three minor children, has filed a suit in the Superior Court for $25,000 damages against the Northern Pacific Railway Company for the death of her husband, who was killed in Chehalis two weeks ago by a Northern Pacific train.

Oppenheimer Is Released.

ASTORIA, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—The case against B. Oppenheimer, the Portland traveling man, who has been held in the County Jail for some days to await trial on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, was dismissed today and the accused released. His brother in Portland is said to have advanced the money which Oppenheimer obtained on a draft that was afterwards dishonored.

There is a reason, and the best kind of a reason, why Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow long and heavy.

It is a hair-food. It feeds the hair and makes it healthy and strong.

Healthy hair grows, keeps soft and smooth, does not split at the ends, and never falls out.

Give Ayer's Hair Vigor to your gray hair and restore to it all the deep, rich color of early life.

Made by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.
