PLAN NEW ARRESHMENT.—Portland Lodge No. Z. A. O. U. W., has adopted a new plan of assessments distinct from the one adopted by the supreme lodge, and is now droulating a statement among the other subordinate lodges of this state, asking for their indorsement and adoption, with a view to having the plan adopted by the Oregon grand lodge. The plan presented by Portland Lodge provides that persons may become members between the ages of 15 and 60 years, and shall pay into the treasury of the lodges for 15000 beneficiary certificates the following monthly rates: Ages 15 to 23, $2.50; 25 to 25, $2.50; 25 to 38, $2.70; 25 to 38, $2.50; 25 to 58, $2.70; 25 to 38, $2.50; 35 to 58, $2.70; 15 to 68, $2.50; and 65 to 68, $4. It is provided that in addition to the lodge dues each member shall pay 80 cents a month for a reserve fund for four years. The plan also scales down the certificate in case death happens soon after becoming a member, as follows: If death occurs inside of one-year membership the certificate will be cut three-fourths, $500 of the $5000 being paid; in two years, one-half the certificate will be paid; in four years, the full amount. The following statement accompanies the plan: "We, the undersigned members of The following statement accompanies the plan: "We, the undersigned members of lodge, No. — A. O. U. BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR LIBRARY.—It is probable that the movement to establish a library and reading-room in Sellwood will be a success. One-third of the money has been subscribed to meet current expenses, and one-half of the cash needed to fit up the building on Umatilla avenue has also been subscribed. It is now proposed to hold a mass meeting of the citizens of Sellwood in Firemen's Hall some time next week, when it is hoped to secure the remainder of the funds. Rev. D. A. Thompson, chairman of the committee on funds, is making arrangements for this meeting and says he has no doubt but what the people of Sellwood will respond liberally and start the library. Subscriptions of $1 or more that the library. Subscriptions of $1 or more monthly are desired to meet the current expenses, which are estimated at $25 per month. It is desired to place on the tables of the reading-room the Portland daily papers and some of the standard magazines. At first books for the circulating library will come from the Portland Library, but it is intended to build up a permanent and independent library. When this much has been accomplished the next step will be to secure a lot and erect a building to necommodate the library and a branch Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Coman ran a special, which left Portland yesterday morning at 7:30, went to Mc-Minnville by way of Whiteson and returning left McMinnville at 5 o'clock. But few people took advantage of the concession out of the city, but the train was loaded from intermediate points.

Cannor Give Up Franchise.—E. H. Virgill, a resident and property-owner on Grand avenue, says that the Portland Consolidated Railway Company cannot give up that part of its franchise on Grand avenue, between Davis and Holladay avenues, without losing the remainder of its franchise on Grand avenue. "I have looked into the matter," said Mr. Virgill last evening. "I am sure the company cannot surrender a small section of its tranchise. The public has something to say about that matter as well as the company."

INSTALA OFFICERS.—The following officers of Eureka Lodge No. 125, A. O. U. W., of Albina, were installed Tuesday night: Joseph Shannon, master workman; George Shannon, foreman; Frank Mackin, overseer; J. L. Anderson, recorder; W. N.

What about his art and the impression on the crowd that came hear to filling the armory last night? In the first place. the great space is almost too large to be by the single instrument, however powerful in tone it may be. In the next place, the oblong shape places part of the audience at a disadvantage when compared with the location of the piano forte on the An entertaining programme consisting of vocal and instrumental selections and readings was given, followed by a dance.

Treating the Worth Pool — The free any man can appear triumphant over these difficulties, it is he. The evening was chilly, and so was the hall; therefore, the player took some time to warm to his work, and he did not appear satisfied until the end of the Beethoven Sonata.

The programme was well arranged, with so much diversity that only an all-around so much obversity that only an all-around striket could shine in all.

The Bach-Lisxt prelude and fugue, which began the concert, was to some extent over the heads of part of the audience, and though played with all the clean accuracy of phrasing and articulation demanded it did not receive the applause it deserved. The Beethoven Sonata Appassionate which followed to be a some and appassionate which followed to be a some and appassionate which followed to be a some and apparent to the sound to be a some and apparent and apparent and apparent apparent and apparent apparent apparent and apparent appar sionata which followed was in many parts delightful. If one may speak and live the artist in the andante seemed to take some liberties with the stately time and some liberties with the stately time and rhythm of that lovely strain. The con-cluding presto, possibly from the fault of the room, was in places blurred in the hearing. The Schubert "Impromptu" never grows old to the listener. Was it not a feature when Paderewski played to us before? This the audience entirely en-loyed and the rendering was room; Thejoyed and the rendering was poetic. Then came the "Hark, the Lark" serenade of Schuber-Lisst. An encore was loudly demanded and was graciously given, the
