Washington Commissioners to Recommend $75,000.

STATE WILL RECEIVE BENEFIT

Elmer E. Johnson, Who Was So Successful at Former Fairs, is Being Urged to Take Charge of the Display.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 6.—(Special.)— The Washington State Board of Commis-sioners for the Lewis and Clark Exposition will urge an appropriation by the next Legislature of $75,000, to have this state suitably represented at the Exposi-tion. The board met in the Hotel Butter this afternoon and remained in session until this evening. Still another session will be held tomorrow for a number of changes in the bill that will be submit-ted to the Legislature are to be threshed out by the members.

W. R. Peaselee, of Clarkston, Wash, chalrman of the board, is outspoken in behalf of a liberal appropriation upon the ground that the Expesition means as much to Washington as it does to Ore-gon, and that this state will benefit large-ly by the increased immigration to the Coast that is sure to follow the Exposition.

Elmer E. Johnson, of Everett, who was commissioner at the Exposition at Buffalo, and later at St. Louis, having charge of the Washington exhibits in each state, was offered the same place for the Lewis and Clark Exposition. So far he has declined to accept the place, giving as his reason that the experience he had in Buf-falo and St. Louis was enough for one

The members of the board have not yet the members of the board have not seed despaired of setting Mr. Johnson to ac-cept the place, however, and it is thought that when he learns that a liberal ap-propriation is to be made and that no palms or expense will be spared in giv-ing Washington a suitable exhibit, that he will yield to the unanimous request of ing Washington a suitable exhibit, that he will yield to the unanimous request of the board and take the place. His wide experience gained in two large Expositions makes him the ideal man for the place, and no steps will be taken toward getting another man until another effort is made to get Mr. Johnson.

The bill that will be presented to the Legislature was drawn by Harold Preston and the board will confer with him tomorrow to make a few minor changes rrow to make a few minor changes before taking it to Olympia.

The plan adopted by the Portland Company,

The plan adopted by the Portland Company, whereby it proposed to farmish water to reclaim the tract selected for it by the state, was to pump water from wells runk on the land, and also to bring the early Spring freshets from the surrounding hills to the land by means of ditches, depending on this freshet water to wet up the land thoroughly until about June, and then pumping whatever amount would be necessary to insure a crop after the effect of the freshet water is gone.

After spending considerable time in digging open, shallow wells, believing sufficient water could be obtained to supply large pumps from what may be termed surface water, it became crident that the wells would have to be at such time as to make the work of construction quite expensive, and, therefore, we secured drilling machinery, and after drilling a 16-inch hole 89 feet deep, atruck a good flow of water, which rises to within eight feet of the surface of the ground. This 10-inch hole was drilled in the bottom of a well which was dug 23 feet deep and 636 feet in size. The water holled up out of the drilled hole into the 636 well, and fills it from 21 to 20 feet below the surface in 15 minutes; this equals 154 gallons per minute.

During the early part of this year the Oregon Irrigation Company made application for a contract to reclaim 56,000.59 acres of land adjoining and partly aurrounded by that of the Pilot Butte Development Company, the source of water also being the Deschutes River in the vicinity of Bend. This company aubsequently sold out to the Deschutes Irrigation and Power Company, as did also the Pilot Butte Development Company. This corporation is composed of Eastern capitalists of large means, who, the board believes from the let-Butte Development Company. This corporation is composed of Eastern capitalists of largemeans, who, the board believes from the letters presented by them, are amply shie to fulfill the contracts undertaken by them. This company notified the board that they would apply for about 80,000 acres additional hand addoining the asyrogation of the Pitot Butte Company on the south and east, taking piactically all of the fernainder of the big desert between Crooked River on the north and Bear Creek Mountains on the south, and the Deschutes River on the west and the mountains on the east. For this last project the water is also to be taken from the Deschutes River at Richam Falls. The board made a visit to liend last June gild made a personal examination of the river as far up as Benham Falls, and being satisfied that the quantity of water was ample for all these various projects, and that the location of the land was such that it would be better that one company have it all, as it all would be under one system, and comflict of interests be thereby avoided, the segregations were made and contracts applied for.
The board inspected the flumes and ditches already constructed and being constructed on the projects of the Pibot Butte Development Companny and the Three Sisters Arrigation Company, and found that a large amount of ditch and flume was completed, the water running in same for several notice, both companies

Company and the Three States Irrigation Company, and found that a large amount of ditch and flume was completed, the water running in same for several rolles, both companies pushing the work as fast as money, men and teams could do it.

The board has no doubt that the Deschutes irrigation and Power Company, the Three Status Irrigation Company and the Deschutes Rociamation and Irrigation Company will fulfill their contracts to the satisfaction of the state, and that the successful reclamation of the lunds in these projects will be an accomplished fact in a very short time, and that the land reclaimed will furnish homes and profitable remuneration for several thousand people, as well as add to the tarable property of the state several millions of dollars, and all this from land which has hitherto only turnished Winter grazing for a few thousand sheep.

Detailed reports from the Pilot Butte Company show that 21 miles of fume in Crook County. This optimistic view of the result of irrigation work under the Carey act is expressed by the board in its biennial report to the Legislature, which was made public today.

The report shows that applications have been made for contracts for the reclamation of $60,221.98 acres of land, under the Carey act, and that contracts have been made by the state with the United States by which the state with acquire title to 121,785.30 acres, when the land shall be reclaimed.

Concerning the work being done by three of the companies, the board says:

During the early part of this year the Oregon Irrigation Company made application for a contract to reclaim 56.006.50 acres of land.

The Board recommends careful contracts from a greater depth, possibly 30 feet; this should also increase the amount of water that can be taken from one well.

The Board recommends careful con-sideration of the irrigation code pre-pared by the United States Reclama-tion Service officials, and, if the office of State Engineer be not created, that penses of the Board for the next two years. Only $469 was expended from the appropriation of $3000 made two in testing the legality of the local option liquor law. The action is brought against the City of Hood River by P. F. BAKER CITY, Or., Jan. 6.—(Special.)

-Unless all signs full, there will be a lively time over the choice of a messenger to carry the vote of the Oregon electoral college to Washington when the electors meet at Salem Monday. State Chairman Baker has interested himself in the matter and is doing all he can to bring about the choice of Judge James A. Fee, of Pendleton, as the official bearer of the vote of Ore gon to Washington. Hon J. N. Hart, of this city, is one of the electors, and he does not agree with the suggestion of Chairman Baker that Judge Fee be selected. Mr. Hart says that the other three electors have an equal cigim upon the position, and so far as he is concerned the choice of the one to go to washington will be made in such a way that the other three electors will stand an equal show with Judge Fee Besides the honor, there is a neat little fee in the shape of micage at the rate of 25 cents per mile from Salem to Washington for the man who carries the big official envelope contributing the certificate of Oregon s voto for President and Vice-President. There three electors have an equal cisim upor ing the certificate of Oregons vote for President and Vice-President. There has been considerable correspondence and telephoning about the choice of the official messenger during the past few days. Mr. Hart says that he has refused to give any pledge and that he will insist on each one of the electors having an equal show to draw the prize.
