Olympia Ready to Load Russian Supplies.

HER DESTINATION A MYSTERY

Officers Persist in Denying She Will Go to Viadivostok-Greatest Secrecy Maintained by All Connected With Steamer.

The steamship Olympia, which was chartered by Russian agents to carry a supply of forage to Viadivostok, will begin loading her cargo at Montgomery dock this morning. The vessel spent yes-terday at Greenwich dock, where Pilot Pope moored her on account of the heavy fog at the time of her arrival, and in the evening she was shifted to the other side of the river.

The steamer will take out from Portland The steamer will take out from Fortiand 2500 tons of osts and barley, which will be supplied about equally by Kerr, Gifford & Co. and Balfour, Guthrie & Co. According to the present plans, she will not carry any beef. The officers expect to get away by Wednesday or Thursday, but it is doubtful if all the cargo will be abound by that time. but it is doubtful if all the cargo will be abound by that time.

The Olympia is in command of Captain

H. P. Weaver, who denied most emphat-deally that she was going to a Russian port. "We have not yet received our sall-ing orders," said he, "but will probably go to Japan." Captain Willey, represent-ing the owners of the steamer, the Northwest Commercial Company, of Tacoma, came over from the Sound to look after the company's interests, and be, too, declared that the story of the steamer preparing to run the blockade was ficti-tious. He said the destination of the tious. He said the destination of the cargo had not been determined upon, but inferred that the vessel might go to Shanghai. Mr. Ottenheimer, of Salem, the agent of the charterers, said to be a San Francisco firm acting for the Russian government, also professed to be uninformed as to the future movements of the steamer.

An this did not shake the connectice of the wise ones along the water front that the Olympia will clear for Shanghai, or any other Oriental port, and then head by the most advantageous route for the Russian City of Vladivostok. The steamer Tacoma, chartered by the same Russian agents from the same shipping firm, cleared through the Senttle Custom-House for Shanghal, but the people interested save not yet been able to explain how her some 9000 cases of mess beef-is to fed to the Chinese of that city. They are equally at a loss to explain what the Celestials can do with the oats and bar-ley that the Olympia will take. The statement that the freight is intended for the Japanese forces does not hold water as in that case the vessels would have cleared direct for Kobe or Yokohama.

All these facts, combined with the se-crecy maintained by the people connect-ed with the steamer or her cargo, go to make up a chain of circumstantial evi-dence that is strong enough to convince the water-fronters that the Olympia will load contraband cargo for the Russian army.
