Senate Likely to Defeat the Measure.

POLITICS CUT FIGURE

Democrats Want Decrease of Congressmen.

WHY TERRITORIES ARE JOINED

Bill Used as a Buffer to Hold Back Railroad Legislation — Pure Food Bill is Also Opposed.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 15.—The statehood bill is a buffer. Only a few Senators expect it to pass. The majority have got it up before the Senate as "unfinished business," where it stands blocking the way of everything else. Possibly it defeats a number of bills that ought not to pass. It is used by those who are skillful in such matters to prevent the passage of the pure-food bill, which is a measure that is not relished by men from many sections. In fact, it is doubtful whether the pure-food bill has a majority behind it. There are a lot of men who would be obliged to vote for it if it ever reached a vote. But the statehood bill furnishes a buffer for a very much more important matter.

As long as it is before the Senate it will be impossible to get a measure considered amending the interstate commerce law. That, above all things, according to some of the men who are known to represent the railroads, should not be attempted at this session. The longer anything of the kind can be put off the better. Agitation of the subject is opposed, and so the statehood bill will remain the unfinished business for a long time to come.

Friends Hope for a Vote.

It is the intention to keep the statehood bill to the front in the Senate during the present week, with the hope on the part of its friends that by the end of the present week they may be able to get a vote on it. Thus far the opponents of the measure have held out stubbornly against naming a day for a vote, and while they do not say in explicit terms that it is their intention to filibuster against the passage of the bill, it is evident that unless a compromise can be reached for the elimination of Arizona from the measure they will make an effort to prevent a vote before the close of the present session.

On this account there is coming to be more or less discussion of plans for the modification of the bill, and most of the talk gravitates toward the suggestion of Senator Foraker for separation of the votes of Arizona and New Mexico on the question of admission, or that suggested by Senator Bard, confining the operation of the bill to the creation of the state of Oklahoma out of the territories of Oklahoma and Indian Territory and entirely eliminating Arizona and New Mexico from the bill. A number of Republicans have announced themselves favorable to either of these suggestions.

In the meantime the debate will go on. Senator Bates, the senior Democratic member of the Committee on Territories, said that a number of Democratic Senators would be prepared by Monday to take the floor in opposition to the bill in its present shape. He would not admit a willingness to accept the Foraker or Bard amendments, but said that either of them would be debated.

Democrats Are Not Stubborn.

Other Democrats do not manifest a disposition to hold out so stiffly, and some say frankly that they would feel liberally inclined toward the union of Oklahoma and Indian Territory if the bill is confined to those territories. Senator Beveridge will be absent from the city during the greater part of the week, and the bill will be in charge of Senator Nelson. Mr. Beveridge goes to Indianapolis to be present at his prospective re-election to the Senate.

The pure food bill will become the unfinished business when the statehood bill is disposed of, but as only one of the appropriation bills has been passed the pure food bill may not be given much time.

Tuesday the Senate will receive officially the status of the late Senator Ingalls, of Kansas.

It is well known why these two territories are united in the bill. There is a determination not to increase the representation of small states in the Senate. Two extra Senators are avoided by the bill under consideration, and that is about all the Republicans will grant. The Democrats want Arizona and New Mexico admitted as two states, because they believe they have more than an even chance of electing Democratic Senators from Arizona, and they know that Arizona, united with New Mexico, would beyond question be a Republican state.

Advantages of the Democrats.

The Democrats will get the best of the deal by such a proposal, as Oklahoma and Indian Territory united will almost surely be Democratic. There has never been any test of the voting population in Indian Territory, but Oklahoma is very evenly divided, while the settlers in Indian Territory are almost wholly from Arkansas, Texas and other Southern States, and are beyond question Democratic.

It might be said that politics should not govern the question of the admission of these states, but politics always does govern such matters, and has for the past 100 years. No one will question that the consolidation of Arizona and New Mexico makes a very unwieldy state, and the people of these regions are no doubt earnest in their opposition to being admitted in any such form as prescribed. Some of the people are anxious to have admission, no matter in what shape, but a majority are evidently opposed to the present bill. While that will not have any particular effect on the Senate, because the Senate will determine for itself what it wants to do, not a majority of the Senate, but a determined minority will probably prevent the passage of the statehood bill.

Sway Case in the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The important work before the House this week is the disposition of the Sway case. A number of members desire to speak on the subject, and it will have precedence over all other business.

The Army appropriation bill, which is also pending, probably will be taken up as soon as the Sway case is out of the way. The pension bill is ready for the action of the House, while the currency bill is still a pending matter.

SUBSIDY WILL FAIL.

Grants in Bill to Shipping Found to Be Limitless.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 14.—The subsidy bill reported by the Merchant Marine Commission cannot pass. Payne who assisted in drafting the Hanna-Payne subsidy bill are as much opposed to the commission bill, and will see that it does not get votes enough in the Senate to become a law. In fact, they will go further and see that it will never come to a vote. Those who have examined this bill have found out that it is absolutely limitless in the matter of subsidies which it grants. There seems to be no limit set upon the appropriations to be made.

Perhaps Congress might pass a subsidy bill granting from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 a year, to be distributed pro rata in some equitable manner among American ships that engage in commerce, but no such bill as proposed can find favor outside of members from states along the coast. If there was no other reason for the defeat of the subsidy bill, it would be on account of the deficit in the Treasury.

It has already been determined that there will be no river and harbor bill at this session on account of the desire of the managers of legislation to observe strict economy in all appropriations. The river and harbor bill is probably more necessary than any other pending measure, even more so than large additions to the Navy, and a great deal more so than the expenditure of money for subsidies.

Forefront of Some Members.

There were some men in Congress who foresaw the present condition when they objected to the entire repeal of what was known as the Spanish War revenue taxes. Two bills were passed cutting off these taxes, the first to relieve people from annoying burdens and because the money was not needed. Then followed another measure which cut off the remaining car stamps and the increased tax on beer.

There was no special demand for the repeal of the bank-check tax, but the brewers were very insistent that the beer tax should be removed, as it was a great burden. If that same beer tax was in existence today there would be a deficit in the Treasury, and there would be no need of refusing to continue the necessary works on rivers and harbors; the commerce of the country and the building up of the Navy need not be checked. But the tax has been repealed, bringing about the present condition which the country must face.

Taxes Would Have to Be Higher.

To go on with increased appropriations such as are necessary to carry on the Government, including rural free-delivery expenses, which have grown to large proportions, the expenditures for the Panama Canal, and the increase in the Army and Navy would necessitate amending the revenue laws and raising more money either by customs or internal taxation. It has been a theory of the Republicans that revenues could be increased by lowering taxes. When the rate of the McKinley bill were increased it was said that the idea was the reduction of taxation, but when the Dingell bill was passed it will be remembered that the rates were increased in order to afford more revenue.

The fact is revenue could be raised upon some articles which would scarcely increase their cost, such as coffee and tea and other large importations, without materially adding to the burdens of the consumer. But any attempt to amend the revenue laws would open up the whole question and that is what some of the Republicans in Congress want.

Will avoid it just as long as possible, and for that reason the present session of Congress will probably see a great deal of economy practiced, saving will cause so much disappointment as the determination to abandon river and harbor improvements.

OVERTURES TO CATTLEMEN.

National Livestock Association Asks Harmonious Relations.

DENVER, Jan. 15.—Negotiations have been opened by the officers of the National Livestock Association with the American Cattle-Growers' Association, which was organized in this city last Friday by cattlemen who seceded from the cattlemen's convention with a view to establishing harmonious relations between the two organizations. The National Livestock Association's board of control has decided to meet in this city on May 9 next, on which date the American Cattle-Growers' Association will hold its convention here.

Meanwhile the executive committees of both organizations will make efforts to harmonize their interests in their by-laws and constitutions. It is proposed to have the association of cattle-growers affiliate with the parent organization exactly as does the National Woolgrowers' Association. President Frank J. Hagenbush and several members of the executive committee of the National Livestock Association have applied for membership in the Cattle-Growers' Association.

PRESIDENT GIVES HIGH PRAISE

William Williams' Resignation as Immigration Commissioner Accepted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—William Williams, Commissioner of Immigration at New York, has tendered, and the President has accepted, his resignation, to take effect February 10. In his letter, dated January 12, accepting Mr. Williams' resignation, the President says: "Most reluctantly, I have come to the conclusion that I shall have to accept your resignation. In accepting it let me repeat to you in writing what I said to you by word of mouth in endeavoring to get you not to insist upon it. I feel that you have rendered a service of real and high importance to the whole nation in your management of the office under you. You have set a standard of unceasing industry, of untiring energy, of high administrative ability and of single-minded devotion to duty which your successor will find it difficult to equal, no matter how good a man he may be."

BOLT IN MISSOURI

Niedringhaus' Defeat for Senator Now Seems Assured.

PLAN EFFECTED AT A DINNER

Colonel Kerens, Who Was Present, Leaves Before the Conference of Republicans Is Begun—Still After Seat at Washington.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 15.—A special to the Times from Jefferson City, Mo., says that a sufficient number of Republicans have bolted to defeat the candidacy of Tuesday of T. K. Niedringhaus, the state chairman, recently named by the Republicans in caucus to succeed United States Senator Cockrell.

It was given out tonight that at a dinner held Saturday night, attended by nine members of the Legislature, a sufficient number of Republican Legislators agreed to bolt the caucus to defeat Niedringhaus. Major J. L. Bittinger, of St. Joseph, who presided at the conference, announced that, beside the members present, five other Republicans had agreed to bolt the caucus nominee if called upon to do so.

Representative Grace, of St. Louis, who introduced the resolution that caused the investigation of the Niedringhaus fund held in St. Louis last week, was present at the dinner.

A second conference was held in Jefferson City tonight, and at its conclusion some of those present positively stated that Mr. Niedringhaus would not be elected on Tuesday. The followers of Niedringhaus, however, are confident that he will be elected. They maintain that the investigation at St. Louis clearly vindicated him.

The conference last Saturday night was held following a dinner given by Colonel Kerens. After the dinner and before the conference began, Colonel Kerens withdrew, saying he did not wish to be a party to the deliberations.

Cris-Cross Is to Be Worked.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 15.—Last night Colonel R. C. Kerens gave a dinner to a number of his legislative friends at his home in St. Louis, and as a result of that dinner it is said that Colonel Kerens does not consider himself out of the Senatorial race. The news of the dinner was brought to Jefferson City late tonight, and not a word concerning it leaked out until a messenger arrived there bringing the tidings. "Nothing was known in St. Louis concerning it."

It is related that unless the plan of action formulated is changed, the men in the conference, together with the others whom they claim should be working there, will "criss-cross" on the vote in the General Assembly on United States Senator Tuesday. The plan of action, it is related, will be that some of them will vote for Bittinger, some for Dyer, and some will leave the strength of the movement undeveloped, so that when they ballot in joint session Wednesday the "criss-cross" will be working there, switching votes to beat Niedringhaus.

In the arguments that have been used with the members it is claimed that Kerens may finally be elected by this criss-crossing. If Kerens can do this, other men to be elected, if possible.

At present none of the Kerens men in the deal suggest that Senator Cockrell will ever be the beneficiary of the deal.

IDAHO SURVEY TO BE MADE.

Pahsamari Valley Said to Offer Good Field for Irrigation.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 14.—The attention of the reclamation engineers has been directed to the Pahsamari Valley, in Custer and Lemhi counties, Idaho, where, it is believed by citizens, probably rather than by the reclamation engineers, a large area of fertile land could be reclaimed by water now going to waste in that section.

A careful reconnaissance will be made under the supervision of District Engineer D. W. Ross when the field season opens in the Spring. Data now in his possession tends to show the existence of lands suitable for irrigation, and the large bodies. The valley is comparatively narrow, foothills crowding down close to the river on both sides. In order to determine the feasibility of the scheme for the irrigation of these lands, however, a careful inquiry will be made.

TRADE BEGINS WITH ABYSSINIA

Direct Result of American Commercial Expedition to Africa.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—How rapidly the good results of the American commercial expedition to Abyssinia, which brought about the commercial treaty between the United States and that country, are beginning to be felt, is seen from a report to the State Department from Mr. Skinner, the American Consul-General at Addis Ababa. He reports that American orders are now being shipped direct to Abyssinia and that trade between the two countries is increasing steadily.

BARRETT WILL NOT YIELD.

Tells Panama That Governor-Consul Is Best for Both Countries.

PANAMA, Jan. 15.—Representatives of all political parties here have asked American Minister Barrett to withdraw the suggestion he made to the Washington government that the functions of Governor of the Canal Zone and Minister to Panama be combined in the person of the Governor of the Canal Zone. It is argued by the memorialists that the dignity of Panama as an independent nation requires a separate legation.

The Minister has replied that the suggestion was made in the interests of both Panama and the United States, and that he cannot withdraw it. He said, however, that he will report the request to his Government without prejudice to the attitude of Panama.

Senators Will Witness Election.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 15.—United States Senators Pennington and Knox, after the election of a United States Senator by the Legislature on Tuesday.

Senator Knox will receive the full Republican vote of both branches of the Legislature to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Quay.

Smoke Drives Out Firemen.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Thirty-five companies of firemen tonight fought a fire at the beef-storage department of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Company, and when the fire was finally put out not over $5000 damage had been done. The fire caught in sawdust that had been packed into a space eight feet wide between the walls, and the streams of water poured upon it had no noticeable effect for four hours. The volume of smoke was so dense that

ELDER WALLOWS IN SEA.

Encountered Terrible Weather on the Way South.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Sixty-seven hours were occupied by the steamer Geo. W. Elder, arriving today, in making the trip from Astoria. Ordinarily the run from the mouth of the Columbia is made in 48 hours. On this trip, however, gales of unusual severity delayed the Elder's arrival, and at the worst of the storm waves swept clear over the ship.

For six or seven hours, off the North California coast, the vessel lay hove to, wallowing in the sea, and while under headway met such resistance from the strong southeast gales that she could make no progress. Spray from the big waves was carried down the ventilators into the stateroom and the steamer rolled and plunged in most reckless fashion.

Head was encountered all the way from the Columbia. But all through the gale and the plunging of the steamer no damage was done to the Elder and none of the 40 passengers on board suffered injury.

CONSTITUTION FOR THE FAIR

Everett Chamber of Commerce Suggests Bringing Out Old Battleship.

EVERETT, Wash., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—The Everett Chamber of Commerce has taken up with the state's Senators and Congressmen the matter of asking the Government to permit the famous old fighting ship, the USS Olympia, to be brought to the Lewis and Clark Fair. It is thought by the promoters of this undertaking that the presence of this historic vessel would bring thousands of people to the coast. The Constitution is now lying in one of the harbors on the Atlantic Coast. The Lewis and Clark Centennial offers the first practical opportunity since the Civil War for the Olympia to be shown at a great exposition.

It has been further suggested that the Government display its naval trophies in the city.

The county in which Everett is situated, Snohomish, is probably working on a more systematic basis in the matter of preparing an exhibit for the Lewis and Clark Fair than any other in the state. A few days ago a convention was called here, attended by representatives of every community in the county. It was then decided to form a permanent organization, with each incorporated town represented on the directors. The object is to have a stable body that is always ready to work for the county, and its first duty is to prepare the exhibit for Portland.

The plan is for each community in the county to contribute funds in proportion to the valuation of its property for taxation. The assessment will soon be made by the county committee, and it is believed that even more than the sum asked for will be raised.

In addition to this fund the County Board of Commissioners will appropriate a considerable sum. The idea of the county committee is to make a unique display, rather than a large one, and the greatest interest is being manifested. People all over the county are showing unexpected enthusiasm in the undertaking and the attendance at the Fair from this locality will be very large.

SELLS NEW WOOL CLIP.

Lake County Sheepman Gets 15-1-2 Cents Per Pound.

LAKEVIEW, Or., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—A most important sale has been consummated here. B. B. Chandler, selling for F. M. Miller, a local banker, his 1000 wool clip. The price paid was 15½ cents per pound. Mr. Chandler is one of the best breeders of sheep in Lake County. This, together with the fact that this is the first sale made in the county, makes the sale of more than ordinary importance. It will also tend to establish a price for the Lake County woolgrowers. The idea of the county committee is to make a unique display, rather than a large one, and the greatest interest is being manifested. People all over the county are showing unexpected enthusiasm in the undertaking and the attendance at the Fair from this locality will be very large.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 15.—A special to the Herald from Needles, Cal., says: While at the dinner table this afternoon O. C. The couple were alone at the time of the shooting. Jealousy was the cause of the tragedy.

DEDICATE THE NEW JOSS.

Chinese Religious Rites Are Now in Progress.

The dedication of Ga Guin, the new Joss of Portland's Chinatown, began at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon with the discharge of 1000 pounds of firecrackers. When Ga Guin arrived months ago it was announced that the dedication could not take place until auspicious time, and that time has now arrived. From now until the end of the Chinese New Year's celebration Ga Guin will be an object of adoration to the Celestials.

After the discharge of the firecrackers, ceremonies were held in the josshouse and a small feast was spread when darkness fell. Today there will be an important program. At 8 o'clock in the morning occurs the devil-chase, a ceremony always preceding Chinese religious rites. The devils who may be lurking about Chinatown will be driven out, that Ga Guin may be devoted properly and without evil spirits near by.

Afternoon there will be a procession from one josshouse to the others until ceremonies have been held in each. Then the priests and followers will return to where Ga Guin stands and in his presence they will confess their past sins and offer to sell them to the highest bidder, that they may serve the new joss with a clear conscience. The day's program will conclude with a feast at night and a sort of watch service in the josshouse, which will continue throughout the night.
