

NOT TO FINISH IT

Columbia Jetty Appropriation Will Be Limited.

ALL IN RIVER AND HARBOR BILL

As Work is Not Under Continuing Contract, Appropriation Will Not Suffice to Complete It, but Will Be Large.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 19.—Chairman Burton, of the rivers and harbors committee, has ruled that the present project for improving the mouth of the Columbia is not under a "continuing contract," and, therefore, all money appropriated for continuing this work must be carried in the river and harbor bill. It had been the understanding of the Oregon and Washington delegations that provision for this project could be made in both the river and harbor and the sundry civil bills, and that between the two bills enough money would be appropriated this session to complete the jetty extension.

Chairman Burton's position, however, if sustained, will mean that only one appropriation can be made for the mouth of the river this session, and that only enough will be appropriated to carry on the work until another river and harbor bill is passed. He explains, however, that when the unexpended balance of the last appropriation is added to the amount covered by outstanding liabilities, there is nearly a million dollars still available, and that this, with what is carried in the river and harbor bill, will be sufficient to continue work for some time.

CLAIMS OF SEALERS CONSIDERED

Dolliver Objects to Compensating for Losses Suffered in Poaching.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Consideration of the statehood bill was continued in the Senate today. Senator Stone spoke for two hours in opposition to it. The bill for the remuneration of American fur sealers who suffered losses because of their suppression, also was debated at some length, but no action was taken.

When the bill providing for the compensation of American citizens whose fur sealing vessels were seized by the United States in Bering Sea prior to the arbitration of 1905, came up, Dolliver offered a substitute referring the claims to the Court of Claims, and spoke in opposition to the original measure. He said, "and it was proposed to pay men not only their losses but for not entering upon a wholesale violation of law. The proposition was, he said, without precedent."

Stone addressed himself especially to the landed interests of the Indians in the Indian Territory. He proposed an amendment providing that all allotted lands shall be subject to taxation. He said that if all the Indian lands are to be relieved of taxation for 21 years, as proposed, the state would be seriously embarrassed. Unless the state was to be given the means of self-support it should be kept in the state of vassalage it is now in. He said the bill as it stands confers on the Indians of Indian Territory the rights of citizens while relieving them of the duties of citizenship.

Bally took the position that Congress has no right to impose conditions affecting the taxation of the people of any state. "The Indians of Indian Territory have been made citizens," he said, "and it is not competent for Congress to provide for the taxation of one citizen of a state and relieve another citizen from it."

TO DEVELOP FOREIGN TRADE. President Recommends Appointment of Commercial Attaches.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The President today sent a message to the Senate recommending favorable action upon suggestions made by Assistant Secretary Loomis for co-operation by the Department of State and Commerce and Labor in collecting information concerning trade conditions in foreign countries. The President's message says: "The actual Secretary recommends that provision be made for six special agents with the diplomatic rank and title of commercial attache to be sent abroad to make practical trial of the proposed plan to report to the Department of State conditions existing in different countries which might suggest modifications or changes in the general scheme; to prepare for the Department of Commerce and Labor reports upon commerce and manufactures or on kindred topics of a more exhaustive and comprehensive character than is ordinarily obtainable at present; and to visit consulates, examine their working and suggest such changes, either to the consular officers or to the Department of State, as would lead to the general improvement and strengthening of the service."

It is proposed that these agents shall be chosen primarily for their expert knowledge, but shall be not merely specialists, except for particular investigations that might from time to time be required, but practical men of affairs with the experience best suited to fit them for their respective duties. It is suggested that the consular service might supply the best type of agents desired, and that, for this reason, and also because of the incentive to merit which would be provided appointments should be made preferably from among those consular officers who have demonstrated their special fitness and capacity.

The President expresses the opinion that this measure promises important and far-reaching consequences in strengthening the foreign service in the interest of trade and its development. He points out the dependence of agriculture on foreign markets for its surplus, and the rapidly increasing surplus of manufactures for export. He says the exports of manufactures in the calendar year 1904 are estimated at over $500,000,000, as against $344,000,000 in the high-record year, 1900. He urges the importance of providing for the free and full development of this export movement. While recognizing the commercial utility developed in recent years by the consular service, he says this improvement should not be accepted as fully satisfying even present requirements, not to speak of prospective demands. He concludes: "For this reason I committed to the consideration of the Congress the recommendations of the acting Secretary of State looking to the gradual systematizing and equipment of the whole foreign service by simple and inexpensive means as an auxiliary, responsive to the needs of the great industrial and commercial interests which are so deeply concerned in enlarging their share of the world's trade."

The details of the proposed plan are set out in a long letter from Mr. Loomis, who says that this plan can be put into effect at a very small cost; in fact he places the cost at the most at $50,000 per annum. Six consular agents of special talents will be sufficient to initiate the movement. They would be salaried at $3000 per annum and traveling expenses, and would be assigned, one to cover Austria, the Balkan States, Germany, Switzerland, Russia and other countries of Northern Europe; one for France, Italy, Portugal, Spain and other countries bordering on the Mediterranean; another for Great Britain and dependencies; the fourth for Mexico, the West Indies and South America; the fifth for Asia, more particularly Asiatic Russia, China and Japan; and the sixth to be held in reserve for special service and particular missions to any part of the world.

Secretary Hay's communication to China in looking upon her as not intended to confirm the accuracy of the Russian complaints, but as merely recommending the preservation of China's neutrality. It is generally considered in diplomatic circles all points at issue between Russia and China, and the question of China's neutrality is not associated here with the possibility of an anti-foreign movement.

APPEAL TO PARTY

Republicans of Missouri to Act on Senatorship.

NIEDRINGHAUS LOSES FOUR

Second Joint Ballot Shows Increase of Bolters, Who Oppose Akins, National Committee—Meeting of State Leaders Called.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 19.—The deadlock in the Legislature over the election of a successor to United States Senator Francis M. Cockrell continues. The second joint session was held today, and, after casting one ballot without definite result, adjourned until tomorrow noon. This ballot resulted: Thomas K. Niedringhaus, nominee of the Republican caucus, 51; F. M. Cockrell, Dem., 31; R. C. Kerens, Rep., 6; A. C. Pettijohn, Rep., 3, showing a loss since yesterday of four votes for Niedringhaus, two votes for Cockrell, one vote for Kerens and a gain of two votes for Pettijohn. Two Democrats and three Republicans were absent.

As the result of a conference among party leaders last night, Vice-Chairman Rothwell, of the Republican State Executive Committee, today issued the following call: "A meeting of the Republican State Committee is hereby called to be held in the House of Representatives in Jefferson City, Mo., at 2 P. M., Monday, January 23, for the purpose of considering the present grave crisis in the affairs of the Republican party of Missouri. To this meeting I also invite the officers and members of all the Republican Congressional, Judicial, Senatorial and county executive committees of Missouri, together with every official in the state elected by Republican votes and also each candidate for United States Senator whose name was presented to the Republican Senatorial caucus. Every Republican citizen of Missouri is cordially invited to be present and take part in this meeting of the Republicans of Missouri."

In the hotel lobbies the names of Gardner Lathrop of Kansas City, and F. Walbridge, ex-Mayor of St. Louis, are mentioned as possible compromise candidates, should the continuance of the deadlock make necessary the choice of another nominee.

It was stated today by Kerens men that the real fight is on Thomas J. Akins, National Republican committee man and former chairman of the Republican State Committee. The declaration was made that should Niedringhaus be elected to the United States Senate on the endorsement of Akins, it would mean that Kerens would be shorn of political power and prestige.

Eight members of the Legislature, who voted against Niedringhaus today, tonight gave out a long statement in which they justify their action. They say that it behooves the Republican party of Missouri to elect a Senator who is free from suspicion in any way. The statement then reviews the charges against Mr. Niedringhaus in connection with a contribution of $2,000 by St. Louis brewers to the Republican campaign fund, and says: "We feel that it would be a great injury to the Republicans of this state to elect any man to the exalted position of United States Senator whose reputation is stained in this manner."

The statement protests against the activity of the Federal officeholders of Missouri in Mr. Niedringhaus' behalf, and declares that the eight members will continue to vote against him.
