AT THE THEATERS

"The Sultan of Sulu." Ki Ham... Thomas Whitten. Colonel Jefferson Budd, George O'Donnell. Lieutenant William Hardy.

Last night, for the first time since it was produced in Chicago nearly four years ago, George Ade's initial attempt at stage writing was presented in Portland.

It is safe to say that the "Sultan of Sulu" has more bright lines in it than any musical comedy ever seen in this country.

The part of Ki Ham, potentate of all Sulu, is being played by Thomas Whitten, a mediocre, and he wrote the "Sultan" when his soul was in his work.

This year's production is made without regard to cost in the matter of costumes and scenery. In this respect it is perhaps the finest we have had this season.

The part of Ki Ham, potentate of all Sulu, is being played by Thomas Whitten. I saw Frank Moulin in the part once and am prejudiced.

"The Sultan of Sulu" is an entertainment of the most excellent kind. It is a diverting and in most respects entirely satisfactory. There will be performance tonight and tomorrow afternoon and night.

THE picture lecture given at the White Temple by E. W. Curtis last night, under the auspices of the Maszamas, was one of the most artistic and instructive entertainments ever offered in Portland.

The coming week, beginning Sunday, January 22, at the Columbia Theatre, will be especially interesting.

MICHIGAN NATIVES ORGANIZE

Meeting Well Attended and Work Taken Up With Enthusiasm.

The second meeting of the newly formed Michigan Society of Oregon was well attended last night, and its organization completed by the adoption of the constitution and bylaws.

After being traced from place to place for more than one year by Detective Lou Hartman, of the Portland Police Department, S. H. Hooper was arrested in Oakland, Cal., yesterday morning and is now being held in the jail at San Francisco awaiting the arrival of an officer from this city to bring him back here for trial on a charge of embezzlement.

An open fight between Chief Hunt and Detective Hartman is on, regardless of the military discipline imposed to be in vogue in the local Police Department, and there is no telling where it will stop.

Although Detective Hartman has been handling the case for nearly 15 months, and notwithstanding the fact that he has traced all the movements of Hooper and caused his arrest yesterday morning, Chief Hunt did not notify Hartman of the arrest.

Following Mr. Langguth, Manager Tom Richardson of the Commercial Club, offered the help of the Commercial Club to the society in whatever manner it might wish to use it, and asked that a list of Michigan residents be furnished to the club so that literature might be sent to them.

A letter was received by the society asking the members to be present at a meeting in the city on Thursday evening.

The following names were added to the rolls: C. C. Hood, Dr. C. S. Hosmer, A. C. Emmons, Charles Rastin, George Benson, Phil Bodony, George C. Bradley, Mrs. G. C. Kebs, E. V. Carlton, C. S. Russell, Mrs. C. S. Russell, A. L. Patre, Mrs. A. L. Patre, R. C. Warner, John Kryger, Mrs. E. C. Barker, Samuel P. Owen, L. P. Hower, Eugene O.

Committees were named as follows: Executive committee—M. J. McMahon, R. C. Warner, A. C. Emmons, Charles K. Mott, H. A. Start; finance committee, Judge George J. Cameron, J. A. Eastman, J. S. Ready; committee on place of meeting, O. R. Baker, Dr. C. S. Hosmer, R. C. Warner; printing committee, J. Kryger, O. R. Baker, Mrs. Frank Hood.
