It is utterly impossible to say what will be the outcome of this position. We imagine that early in the year the A. P. A. will reideavor to make a move, but they will have to name a low price to induce dealers to take hold. At the moment 18s is about the monthal value, but we think the price will have to come down to 18s, or possibly lower, before the dealers will operate much."

The Rayres representing the available cupply for Great Britain, as given in the letter above quoted, are not considered to be a beartish factor, provided they correctly state the stock. The annual consumption in the English market is estimated at 800,000 cases, and as the 800 cases, and as the 800 cases, and as t change opened steady today, with prices rallying in several instances. Cansule were fractionally higher, and buyers were again in exidence. There was in disposition to sacrifice securities, and the market strategity improved to buying orders from Paris, inflicating confidence there. This belief the London market. Americans had a better tone in anticipation of a recovery in New York. Japanese were strong.

likely to disturb commerce. In consequence, ituation affairs were seemingly given little weight as a direct influence. Their effect, however, was felt as a decided drag in spec-ulation. The market opened easy under pres-sure of heavier receipts in the Northwest. May started be off, at $1.14%, and there was sure of heavier receipts in the Northweet. May started ic off, at $1.14%, and there was a further decline to $1.14%$\frac{1}61.14%, Uncertainty as to possibilities in Russia was raid to be keeping the larger speculative interests out of the market. Business was restricted mainly to bainneing of trades between small operators. Not until receipts at St. Louis and Kansass City were made known did a marked diversion in the course of the market occur. Shorts, who regarded receipts of $2.000 bushels at those points, against 202,000 bushels a year ago, as cause for alarm, brought about the only period of what strength the market exhibited. The improvement was not long sustained. In the absence of any demand, except from the shorts, whose wants were soon satisfied. May reacted, closing easy at $1.14% $1.14%. Bradstreet's visible supply indicated a decrease of 2.58,000 bushels.

Corn during most of the session was dull, with prices fairly steady at about the opening ratge, 44% to $450, which was ign to be under the previous close. May sold at $450,000 for cooling, however, at the close to $450,000 for the cooling and contents of the close to $450.000 for cooling and the close to $450.000 for cooling
