

CHOKED AND ON FIRE

Edwin Stone Barely Rescued From Room in Hotel.

VICTIM OF NIGHT ASSAILANT

Albany Man is in a Dangerous Condition From Wounds That Left Him Unconscious and From Blazes in Apartments.

ALBANY, Or., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Edwin Stone, manager of the Corvallis & Eastern Railroad Company, was assaulted in a room in the Albany Hotel, at Newport, early this morning and was seriously injured in a fire which started in the room at the time of the assault. He was brought to his home in Albany this evening and is now resting, though by no means out of danger.

About 1 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the room in which Mr. Stone was sleeping. When the fire was extinguished Mr. Stone was found to be unconscious and very seriously injured. The indications were that he had been assaulted. A large man, whom he was struck on the head and on his arms, black and blue spots, showing where his assailant had gripped them as he struggled.

While in the room the unknown assailant must have dropped a lighted match, thus starting the fire. In the assault, Mr. Stone was rendered unconscious and was burned by the fire while in that condition. The story of the assault and the origin of the fire is still conjecture, but all indications point to this theory.

The motive of the assault is supposed to have been robbery. Mr. Stone probably awakened when the assailant entered the room, and the struggle followed. The assailant was probably scared away by the noise of the struggle before accomplishing his design, and in his haste dropped a lighted match, which set fire to the carpet of the room. The Sheriff of Lincoln County is said to have a view to the identity of the assailant.

Mr. Stone's injuries are serious, and it was at first feared that he would not recover. He is badly burned all over the upper part of his body, and also sustained bruises in the assault. He did not recover consciousness for several hours after the assault, and has not yet been able to give an account of the affair. At midnight he is reported as resting easy. Edwin Stone is one of Oregon's best-known railroad men. He has been manager of the Corvallis & Eastern, formerly the Oregon Pacific, the past ten years. He is one of Albany's leading citizens, and prominent throughout the state.

NORTHWEST DEAD.

Granville Naylor.

MEEDFORD, Or., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Granville Naylor, aged 50 years, died this afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gordon L. Schwaninger, in West Medford, after a week's illness with paralytic ailment. He was born in Jackson County, Ind., February 8, 1852, and was married in 1867 to Miss Minerva Sears in Iowa.

Mr. Naylor, with his family, crossed the plains with an ox team in 1881, settling at R. Helena on the Columbia. He moved to Jackson County in 1883, being 40 years in the country on one farm. The past seven years he resided in Medford. In 1901 Mr. Naylor built the first sawmill in Southern Oregon, on W. Adams Creek, about seven miles from Medford, and has been identified with lumber interests in Jackson County ever since. He was an enterprising citizen, highly respected by all. Dutch Undergraduates.

MARSHFIELD. For the first three weeks the life of a freshman at "Oregon" as he is called in Holland, is a perfect burlesque. From 5 o'clock in the morning till 12 o'clock at night he is absolutely at the beck and call of every member of the university, and especially of the second-year men. They can send him on errands, compel him to amuse them, bully him and tease him to their heart's desire.

A Green is easily recognizable, for he is obliged to cut his hair short and to wear a low collar and black tie. If a boy has come to the university solely with a view to working, and without the least intention of joining in the social amusements of his fellows, he is instantly relegated to the ranks of the "Pigs" and leads a life of
