His Was the Power That Beat Russians.

DEFENSES ARE FROZEN

Bombardment by Artillery Has But Little Effect,

COLD IS THE WORST ENEMY

Soldiers Fight With Numbed Hands and Feet, Blood From Wounds Freezes and Death Comes Quickly to Wounded.

RUSSIAN HEADQUARTERS, Huson Mountain, Feb. 1.-The five days' combat which will go down in history as the battle of the Hun River was fought | me out on a seemingly unending plain, which is broken only by the southern Amethyst Mountains around Yentai, the solitary eminence of which is the Livo Yang tower of bloody memory. the bright glare of the sun reflected from a dazzling expanse of snow was painful to the eyes, and it was with difficulty that one could follow here and there black streaks marking the Russian columns or wavering skirmish lines dushing against what resembled duff gray rocks, which in reality were the villages of Lidiatoun and Taulepu and the extensive hamles of Sandepas, bastloned by Chinese defengers and converted by the Japanese into veritable fortresses, Exposed to the intense cold of a Manchurian Winter, mounds of earth had become like granite and as impenetrable as the steel sides of a modern battleship.

For five days Russian soldiers hurled themselves against the defenses and the field artillery pounded them until the frosty air reverberated with the thunder of cannon, the din of bursting shells and the rattle of musketry, but neither steel-pointed shell nor nickel bullets availed against the frozen earthworks. The gunners actually wept with despair at the impotence of the attack. Mortar batteries came up at a gallop in the hope of demolishing the fortifications.

Nigot and day the stream of shells was poured against the earthworks, but it had little effect.

The men seemed indifferent to hun-The men seemed indifferent to hun-ger and cold, which latter was of Arc-tic intensity. Their fingers, hands and fire by the Russian artiflery. benumbed, while tinging snow and dust blinded them. The slightest wound caused exceeding pain. Warm blood no sooner exuded from lacerated flesh than it began to freeze. The wounded could not be left exposed, for, if they did not receive attention within an hour, they died. The surgeons, their assistants and nurses were almost powerless in the bandaging of wounds, for they wear leather gloves mittens in order to resist the cold.

The men seemed to be living again the horrors of the Winter campaign of 1812 against the Turks. Everything that could be done was done; but man was powerless in the face of Nature, which heaped tortures upon the troops and defeated the well-thought-out plan of the commander.

BOMBARDMENT GOES ON.

Russians Fight to Head Off Turning Movement of Japanese.

PETERSBURG, Feb. 1.-From the reports of the General Staff, it is not clear yet whether the fighting on the Hun River is ended. The Russians the bombardment of Sandepas, and apparently a strong force of Russians is between Sandepas and Shakhepu to check the Japanese, who seem to be trying their former turning movement across the Hun River. Nothing further has been heard of the Russian movement against the Japanese right.

NEXT BATTLE IN THE OPEN Russians Prepare to Attack Japanese

on Frozen Plain. GENERAL OKU'S HEADQUARTERS, Get Rid Jan. 27, noon, via Tientsin, Feb. 1.— (Delayed in transmission.)—After three months' inaction, there is now a prospect that the armies of General Kuropatkin and Field Marshal Oyama will soon join what may prove the greatest battle the war. For some days past the Russians have been quietly massing troops on General Oku's left, evidently pre-paratory to an attempt at a turning

For three days past a heavy artillery fire has been kept up by the Russians or General Oku's left, running today to-wards the center. The Japanese have not replied to the cannonade, awaiting an attack by the Russians, who have been heavily reinforced. It is believed now that they have numerous divisions along the Shakhe River. The Japanese force has also been increased, and everything now seems ready for the greatest con-flict yet recorded in the history of the

The move on the part of the Russians seems to indicate a desire to strike soon, in a desperate attempt to avenge the fall of Port Arthur. Probably the revolutionary outbreak in Russia has deter-mined General Kuropatkin to make a desperate effort to gain a victory before outbreak in Russia becomes known to the army.

The utter failure of the recent Russian cavalry raid on the railroad shows the futility of further attempts of the kind. With the ground so solidly frozen, advancing troops would have great diffi-culty in entrenching to secure the slightest cover. The advantage of the situa-tion would be entirely on the side of the army on the defensive.

With the thermometer at zero, and the ground covered with snow, a battle when fought would be over a great plain where the south sun can be of no advantage to

RUSSIANS RENEW ATTACK.

Valn Attempts to Drive the Japanese From Villages Monday and Tuesday. /TOKIO, Feb. 1 (Noon).—Fleid Marshal Oyama, reporting resterday, says that the Russians bombarded his center and right wing on January 30, and sent small odies of infantry to attack the Japanese outposts, where they were repulsed.

On the same day heavy Russian guns fiercely shelled Piyental and Chenchieh-

On January 31 the Russians bombarded Chenchiehpao, Lapati and Litajentan, and two companies of infantry attacked Chenchiehpao, advancing from the south end, near Peltaitzu. The Japanese repulsed them.

On January 30 two companies of Rus sian infantry unsuccessfully attacked Yatzupinao, two miles west of Chenchieh-pao, and two battalions of Russian infantry and a regiment of cavalry failed in an attack on Tutaitzu. Field Marshal Oyama in reporting the wounded of Lieutenant-General Mistchenko, which he had learned of from Russian prisoners, characterizes General Mistchenko's attacks upon the Japanese Russian Army Returns to Positions Held Before Battle.

MUKDEN, Jan. II (Via Tientsin, Feb in-Camponading on the center and right compended again today. The Russian Army has reoccupied its old positions, having returned from Sanchiapu, Sande-

The main events in the interior of Rus sia have been published in the official army paper, so that the troops to a certain extent realize the present conditions, but the plans for the army are shown to be entirely independent of home events. The reason given by the commanders for retiring fully explains the army's move-ments and shows them to have been independent of the weather. A large part of the wounded ase being cared for at Mukden, where the hospitals and trains are filled and the Red Cross Corps is active.

The situation as it further develops is better realized and understood, though it is not less ominous, an the weather has moderated and the Japanese are aggressive. Regarding the first reports of large

Not Criticism of Hay.

LONDON, Feb. 1.-The Japanese Min-Ister, Baron Hayashi, has requested the Associated Press to point out that his statement of Monday last regarding the integrity of China was in no way intended to criticise Secretary Hay on the United States Government's sincere efforts to prevent further encroachments on Chinese territory. Baron Hayashi simply pointed out the causes of the diffiin maintaining the integrity

Russians Form Amazon Corps. VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 1.—The teamer Shinano Maru brings news of the formation of an Amazon corps at Nikolsk to aid the Russian forces at the Shakhe. Russian women formed a regiment uniformed like Cossacks, which has gone to the front. The women have cut their hair short and wear

Thanks His Army for Winning. TOKIO, Feb. 1.-The Emperor has issued a rescript to Field Marshal Oyama's army, thanking the troops for defeating a superior Russian force in the recent battle. Oyama, responding, says the troops fought desperately, day and night, in intensely cold weather

BULWARK OF AUTOCRACY.

Parliament Thus Described by Editor of Leading Russian Paper.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 1 .- It is extremely significant that, following the Associated Press interview with Grand Duke Vladimir yesterday morning, Souverin, editor of the Novoe Vremya, in that paper this morning comes out strongly in favor of a Zemsky Zabor (Old Land Parliament), which he de-clares will not only maintain, but will strengthen autocracy. It would be a channel of communication between the novereign and the people, without which it would be impossible to have
