CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACTS

Proposes That Legislature Increase Appropriation for State Exhibit to $100,000-Benefit to Empire State is Recognized.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2-(Special.)-At the monthly session today of the Chamber of Commerce a resolution was offered urging the Legislature to appropriate $100,000 for the purpose of properly representing the Empire State at the great Lewis and Clark Exposition to be held in Portland, Or., during the coming Summer.

The ground was thoroughly gone over by the various members of the chamber, and the liveliest interest was shown in everything that was made known pertaining to the wonders of the great State of Oregon. The great good that the proposed Exposition will do to that part of the country was generally admitted on all sides, and it was suggested that other sections will be vastly benefited in the same manner. The resolution was unantmously adopted and the proper steps taken to have the proposition consum-

OFFICIAL BAND IS CHOSEN.

A. De Caprio Is Awarded Contract by Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Instead of three official bands, the administration of the Lewis and Clark Fair has limited itself to one. Alberico De Caprio was yesterday awarded the contract for furnishing music to the administration at any and all times during the Fair except on Sunday.

It was believed up to yesterday that there would be three administration bands, one lead by Charles L. Brown, another by Wallis McElroy, of Salem, and the third by Signor A. De Caprio, but in the end the contract for the whole time of In the matter of the estate of Thomas Fair was let to Signor De Caprio,

He will have a band of 25 pieces and will furnish the official music. He will escort Governors of states, state delega-tions and distinguished personages from the depot to their hotels and to the Exposition grounds. His band will also play at all receptions and banquets, and will form a portion of the orchestral accomat for oratorios at the musical Signor De Caprio first came to Portland in 1833 as a trombone player in Liberati's band. He is a Neapolitan by birth, and like all Neapolitans, a born musician. He has made his home in Portland for last four years and has been conducting orchestras during that time. He is best known as the leader of the orchestra which gives the Summer concerts at the Portland Hotel.

GOVERNOR ARRIVES TODAY.

Chief Executive of Washington and Party to Select Building Site.

Governor Albert E. Mend of Washington will arrive in Portland tonight to select a site for the Washington state building at the Fair. A location just east of the music shell on the lakefront has been suggested, but Governor Mead will welect the site himself.

'When a location is found appropriate dedicatory exercises will be held. This ceremony will probably take place tomorrow morning, when ground will be broken for the building. Governor Mead will come accompanied by his staff and D. C. Freeman, secretary to President Goode, who has gone as far as Tacoma to meet the party. The Gov-ernor will remain here two days as the guest of the Lewis and Clark board, returning to Olympia on Sunday.

Colorado Bill Introduced.

A bill has been introduced in the House in the Colorado Legislature to appropriate $35,000 for an exhibit and state building at the Lewis and Clark Fair. A telegram to this effect was sent yesterday by Special Commissioner J. P. Marshall, who has commissioner J. P. Marshall, who has been in Denver working in the interest of the Fair. Mr. Marshall reports the bill to be in good hands and believes an appropriation will be made.

SEATTLE MAN TOO HEAVY. Multnomah Has No Wrestler That

WORKING TO REPAIR BRIDGE CHINESE NEW YEAR'S BEGINS Morrison-Street Structure May Be Opened by Noon Today.

The breaking of the shaft of the new Morrison-street bridge has caused con-siderable inconvenience to the public of the East Side, but the prompt action of the Portland Consolidated Rallway Company in placing in service a number of special cars, which are being run over the same route as during the construc-tion of the bridge, has materially assist-ed those compelled to travel to and from this side of the river. As to just how the accident occurred there seems to be some doubt. According to the statement of Assistant Superin tendent Frank Fields, of the Pacific Construction Company, the blame lies with Operator John Alexander, who, it is alleged, had tied down the safety de-vice controlling the electric current, and in his haste to open the bridge as soon as possible after receiving the signal from the steamer Kellog, had neglected to await the opening of the latches which fasten the bridge at either end. This threw the entire power of the 40 horse-tion of the Independent ticket, which was defeated in the recent election by Mayor William Schindler. One of the reasons given for wanting to get out of the city is that the territory has been given no electric lights and has received no benefits whatever through incorporation, Mayor Schindler, in speaking of this effort to cut out the territory, said: "We morning from Mr. P. G. WHY PEOPLE COMMIT SUICIDE Dr. Brougher Gives Interesting Sermon at White Temple.

The special meetings now being held each night at the White Temple are growing in interest. The large audience fol lowed intently while Dr. Brougher spoke effectively and forcibly on "Why People Commit Suicide." He will speak again tonight op "Does the Devil Dance?" and the service will be opened with baptism.

Dr. Brougher spoke in part as follows: "It is not my purpose to consider the uestion of suicide in its details. I want discuss the proposition as to 'Why?' I do not think some of the reasons usually given cover the case at all. I do not be-lieve that suicide is ever justified. The person who commits suicide is a coward. He is afraid to face life's responsibilities. The book of Ecclesiastes contains the reason why people commit suicide. 'Ven-ity of vanities. All is vanity.' The most notable case of suicide is that of Judas. When people have no anchor to hold them steady, then they think life is not worth the living. All people may be divided into two classes—the dissatisfied and the unsatisfied. So with people and their ideals. "This, I believe, is why people commit suicide. God has an ideal for every one Whether it is in the kitchen or in the office, if you carry out God's ideal for your life, it is bound to be a success. God put into the nature of each a long-ing for perfection of life and soul, a longing for pleasure, a longing for immortality. Talk about self-made men! The man in the gutter is the 'self-made' man. No wonder people commit suicide! When they see what God might have made of them, and then realize what they have made of themselves! If you will take God's plan, you will build for eternity."

"MOTHS OF SOCIETY."

Two More Nights of This Vastly Impressive Play.

Nearly everybody in town is saying that "Moths of Society" is the most finished and interesting play that has been put on at the Columbia this season. The opening garden scene is positively superb, and Frank King, who painted it, is called a poet. Howard Gould plays "Correse," the singer who reaches your heart with his very first utterances. His intonation, his finish, his grace, his ten-derness, his romantic charm are insistent and impressive. Miss Countiss, who sus-tains the love scenes, playing opposite to Mr. Gould, has a vastly beautiful role. which she is playing with a sustained strength and sweetness hitherto un-equalied on the Columbia stage. The unison and clean-cut art of Mr. Gould and Miss Countiss in "Moths" is quite the most conspicuous instance of fine acting that the Columbia patrons have seen this Mr. Bowles, as the magnificent minded Lord Jura, the generous, lovable man who sacrifices bimself, touches your soal with his delicate and intense imper-sonation. In fact, the whole company are on their most pollshed and highest tem pered metal. Miss Douglass, as the Amer ican girl, is perhaps the lift of the play in a popular sense. Blanche Bates Tonight. After tonight's performance of Bianche

Those who saw the play in York give testimony to the fact that the production is the same in every respect as was given at the metropolis. Mr. Bolasco never does things by halves, and he spent $78,000 on "The Darling of the Gods" before the curtain ever rose on the original production. "Sweet Lavender."

"Sweet Lavender," Arthur Pinero's sweetest and cieverest play, will open at the Columbia Theater the coming Sunday. The Columbia stock company will shine in its brightest way in this lovellest play from the pen of the incomparable Pinero. Plays that hit the heart of things are best. This is one of them. A banker who has abandoned a former love sees his adopted son fall in love with the daughter of the woman he (the banker) had wronged. The little girl, innocent of wrong, pure as a lily, permeates the atsphere and instigates good in every body until all matters straighten pleasantly. The lights and shades of hu man feeling are wonderfully depicted. Fay Wallace plays the title role; Miss Courties and Mr. Gould have prominent parts, bringing out their splendid capabilities. All the company are congenially cast. The settings are provided by Frank King, who painted the premier production of the play for Duniel Frohman at the Lyccum Theater, in New York.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS

Vaudeville at Grand.

On next Sunday there will be a return at the Grand Theater to polite and continuous vaudeville at the old popular price of 10 cents. But while this is true, the bill will be as good a one as was ever offered in any 50-cent house in this country. Every act is a top-liner and every turn has been featured in the best vaudeville houses in this country. On the list of attractions will be found Danny Mann & Co., the Lucifers, three in number: Taber & Co., in the "Littlest Girl": Francis Davis & Co., Daly and Shean, Clark and Temple, a new illus-trated song and excellent pictures by the grandiscope. Don't forget nuous vaudeville at the Grand Theater.

Venita's Great Triumphs.

The second and last week of the endancer, at the Baker is drawing to close, and the interest in her seems to be continually growing greater. Her jew-ei dance, which she is performing here for the first time on any stage, is the most wonderful spectacular dance of the age. All over Europe the name of Venita is recognized as the foremost among stage dancers, and she has appeared by special appointment before most of the crowned heads, but never before has she done more wonderful dancing feats than at the Ba-ker, right here in Portland. The jewei has been in her repertoire for two years, but it has never been used in pub-lic until this week. Every one should see Thousands of dollars' worth of gems and tons of scenery are used.

Coupon Matinees at the Star.

The Star Theater is maintaining its eputation as the home of brilliant vaudeville by its bill this week. "Picknickers" at the Lyric.

The greatest success of the season is the second week's bill of the Lyric Stock Company. It is the greatest laughing play of the day, "The Picknickers," in three jolly acts, each one a gem of comedy. Clever people in clever situations and filariously funny lines. Nothing to equal it has ever been seen in Portland at the price of admission asked by the Lyric management. What is the use of paying five or ten times the Lyric admission to see a play which is not half so good? High-class in everything but price.

In addition to the three acts of farce-comedy, Edna Foley, the charming little soluist, is singing her best songs, and the bijougraph is showing a new moving-picture film of unusual interest.
