House Will Act on Railroad-Rate Bill.

MAY VOTE ON WEDNESDAY

Esch-Townsend Measure Indorsed in Conference.

REPUBLICANS NOT UNITED

Opponents of Measure Not Bound by Decision, and May Join Democrats in Opposition to Rule—Some Want Delay.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The Republicans of the House of Representatives in conference this afternoon adopted as a party measure the bill extending rate-making powers to the Interstate Commerce Commission, as agreed on by the committee on interstate and foreign commerce and known as the Esch-Townsend bill. The conference instructed the House committee on rules to bring in a rule providing for consideration of the measure beginning on Tuesday and continuing until 4 o'clock Wednesday, when a vote shall be taken. No amendments will be allowed to the bill, although the first vote is to be taken on the Davey bill as the Democratic substitute.

Party is Not a Unit.

The conference, which lasted three hours, developed opposition to the measure. The only test vote taken was a motion to postpone the matter for a further conference next Tuesday. This was lost. Efforts were made to amend the bill during the conference, but all of these failed. Fault was found with the bill on the ground that it did not include regulation of the private car and terminal charges. The advocates of the bill considered these criticisms, claiming that authority was contained in the bill to correct the complained-of evils. The change of the meeting from a caucus, as the call stated, to a "conference" leaves members participating free to follow their own inclinations. It is understood that the opposition may organize with the purpose of joining the minority in the House in the vote on the rule prescribing the manner of considering the bill in the House. These plans, however, have not been actually and definitely decided on.

Cannon Urges Action.

Speaker Cannon advised his associates that if action was to be taken at all it must be taken now. He suggested that a recess might be taken until evening, but the sentiment of the members present was so overwhelmingly in favor of immediate action that the Speaker did not press his suggestion. Representative Payne, of New York, the majority leader, said that the bill in its present shape did not provide for anything more than what was in the original interstate commerce act, which had stood for ten years, at the end of which time the railroads raised the question of the legality of the enforcement of the decisions of the commission as to rates, the courts sustaining the contention that there was no power vested in the commission to fix rates.

Stickney Supports Popular Demand and Dictates on Pass Evil.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—A. B. Stickney, of St. Paul, president of the Chicago-Great Western Railroad, tonight delivered an address on "The Effects of the Interstate Commerce Law" before the regular monthly meeting of the Washington Economic Society. Mr. Stickney's chief point was: "As all the purposes of the law relate to the schedule of rates, and as none of the purposes can be accomplished without a schedule, it seems evident that the most serious defect in the law is its failure to authorize the commission to make a schedule of interstate rates."

Basil Wagner, of this city, procured the men to make the applications for the land. As each filed his application he told Clerk Brown that Wagner would call for the certificate of sale.

HITS STRAIGHT AT GERMANY

British Naval Official Talks on Naval War Preparations.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—A speech delivered in the Hampshire village of East Leigh Thursday evening by Arthur Hamilton Lee, Civil Lord of the Admiralty, has created excitement in dealing with the recent redistribution of Great Britain's naval forces. Mr. Lee frankly declared that Great Britain had not so much need to keep her eyes on France and the Mediterranean, but had to look with anxiety toward the North sea, and the fleet have been so distributed as to enable them to deal with any danger in that direction, should it unfortunately occur. If war should unhappily be declared, he continued, under existing conditions, the British navy would get its blow in first, before the other side had time to read in the papers that war had been declared. He maintained that "by recent naval reforms Great Britain's strength as a naval fighting power had been doubled during the last few weeks."

TO HEAD OFF SOCIALISTS.

Purpose of Proposed Purchase of Prussian Coal Mines.

BERLIN, Feb. 3.—Commerce Minister Modler says that the Prussian Government does not intend to buy the coal mines in both Rhineland-Westphalian and the Saar, but that the Minister has taken now towards state ownership of the fields is precisely what it was during the negotiations to acquire the Hibernia mines—the government ought to have taken over the coal mines, both of the Rhineland-Westphalian and the Silesian regions, should the government desire to consider such a project. Certainly two meetings of bankers took place at which the subject was considered. Those in the government who favor the purchase of the mines contend that government ownership would be a firm guarantee against the possibility of a socialist party could be prevented from organizing the miners, as they now are prevented from organizing the railroad employees.

PUTER PAID IN CASH.

Twenty dollars apiece was the price Puter was to pay the men for their services in making the applications, securing certificates and assigning the same to Puter or persons whom he should name. If the men desired they could retain a one-tenth interest in the land instead of receiving the $20, but so far as learned the men took the money rather than the one-tenth interest.

Wagner Acts as Agent.

The story Randle told and afterward put in the form of a sworn statement was that two or three days ago Basil Wagner, of this city, approached him and asked him if he did not want to buy some state land. Wagner offered to furnish the money and give him a one-tenth interest in the land or pay him $20 for the one-tenth interest. Wagner told him the transaction was all right, and he went into it. After presenting the application and depositing the draft furnished by Wagner, he signed a blank assignment, conveying his interest in the certificate of sale, which had not yet been issued. Then he was paid the $20.
