Rebel Lawmakers Ready to Lift Scalps

CLOUDS LOOM UP AT SALEM

Anti-Machine Braves Would Smite "Organization."

TO HOLD WASCO INFLUENCE

Bills for Cascade County and Port of Portland Bring Thunder From Afar—After the High Mighties.

A devoted little band of anti-machine patriots is camped at Salem looking for a chance to smite the Republican "organization." The braves rallied by one vote to organize each house of the Legislature. Since that time their force has dwindled somewhat, but the core of the stout-hearted bunch is still there though hidden in the woods and ready at the first battle-cry to go on the warpath.

From their fastnesses the braves will pour down on the Cascade County bill in the Senate this week. The proposed county is in Wasco, a hotbed of anti-Mitchell-Matthews-Carey politics, and the braves regard the partition of that county as a design to rob the Moody element in Wasco of influence—an element which is one of the mainstays of the anti-cause.

And still another game of the "organization" on which the braves think of swooping down with all their might and main is the bill for reorganizing the Port of Portland—though if the truth is foreseen aright, that does not seem likely. The bill was introduced last week in the House where it will encounter no opposition. If its course shall be strewn with mines anywhere, it will be in the Senate.

Nottingham Raises His Voice.

Multnomah's Independent Senator, C. W. Nottingham, has lifted his voice to say that the Carey-Matthews-Mitchell machine has no right, legal or moral, to put Senator Herbert Holman and Representative T. H. Crang on the Port of Portland Commission. Another solitary Senator foresaw this threat to raise himself to his feet before the "honorable Senate" in Salem this week and kick up dust and utter loud protest, punctuated with cutting sarcasms, perhaps scornful, and with jabs of his incisive forefinger.

Then if the "honorable Senate" shall desire to violate the constitution which ordains "No Senator or Representative, shall, during the time for which he may have been elected, be eligible to any office, the election to which is vested in the Legislative Assembly, the "honorable Senate" may do so and Multnomah's lone lance in that body will be passive and hurt himself not into the vitals of the machine.

"I'd no more allow myself to be elected by the Legislature to any other office," said Mr. Nottingham, yesterday, "than I'd cut off that right arm," and he brought down his hand with so much force as to leave a scar behind it.

"Let me tell you something about that machine," went on the insurgent Senator, with fire in his eye. "They haven't got enough faithfuls for all the offices so they give two or three jobs to each of the few brethren in the tribe as the Joe Simon machine used to distribute all the jobs to the Donald Mackays and the Sylvester Farris and the J. Thorburn Rosses and the Wallace McCramicks."

Danger of Hidden Reefs.

Stories are afloat that the new appointments may strike a hidden reef on their trip through the upper branch of the Legislature and that such Senators as Holmes, Carter, Wright, Wheatdon, Bowerman, Laycock, McDonald and Howe, joined by the five Democrats—Coshow, Miller, Avery, Pierce and Smith—may aid Nottingham in his fight. Tales are told, also, of how, if the bill should miss the reefs, it will be wrecked on the Governor's veto, where bones of many other bills are bleaching into this very day.

And the Governor's veto may play a very important part in the drama. Will His Excellency assent to the ousting of G. B. Thomas? If so, well and good, for Herbert Holman just as much as for G. B. Thomas is the only member of the commission whom the bill brands for the shambles, for Captain Spencer quit of his own accord, disgraced, say the Multnomah men who dwell within the temple of grace, because the "organization" would not "clean out" the board of Driscoll and Adams and Switzer. And because Captain Spencer's successor should know how to handle a tiller like himself, Captain Crang was put on.

Thomas as the Scapegoat.

Now be it known unto all who have ears to hear that the "organization" was hungry for the blood of Driscoll and Switzer and Adams just as much as for that of Thomas, but that Thomas, having few friends than the others in the temple, was chosen as a vicarious sacrifice for the political aim of the three others. Besides, the high priest of the "organization" feared that slaughter of too many reprobate brethren might be stopped by the veto of His Excellency Governor Chamberlain, who is known to be gifted with humane sentiments toward afflicted victims of the machine hierarchy.

The stalwart anti has their main barracks in the Senate. Nine of them are there assembled, and it emerges they count on the aid of the five Democrats and on Croslan and Hobson, and even on Malarkey. With the five Democrats they have consorted at various times, though the five have been balky, as in the organization fight when Miller and Coshow refused to tarnish their unsullied Democratic records by associating with Republicans; hence the election of Kuykendall to the Presidency, and hence the Governor's danger of losing the patronage of the Penitentiary.

Deal Fell Through.

For be it known that the sturdy nine, with Farrar at that time the tenth, were trying to make a deal with Governor Chamberlain's five brethren in the Senate, whereby someone else than Kuykendall was to be elected and His Excellency was to be protected. But Miller and Coshow flew the coop, and now a game is in progress to put the Penitentiary under a board of control, and, as the story runs, to make Senator Croslan superintendent in return for his support of Kuykendall for the Presidency, though Senator Croslan stoutly denies it.

Members of the political organization in Multnomah insist that any member of the Legislature can receive an appointment such as a place on the Port of Portland Commission so long as the job is not lucrative, and declare that the courts have so held.

Profits on Astoria Water.

annual report of the Astoria Water Commission for the year 1904 was filed yesterday. It shows that the total cost of the water system to date has been $296,733.33, and with the supplies on hand the plant represents a value of $318,662.18. The cash receipts during the year were $124,512.24, while the expenditures were $212,435.21, segregated as follows: Operating expenses, $226,831.33; interest on bonds, $15,232.88. This shows the net profits of the department to have been $11,086.92, and of this $1000 is placed in the sinking fund. The sinking fund at the present time amounts to $21,878.67, and all of it is bearing interest, $28,600 of it being invested in the department's unmortgaged bonds, which the commission has been able to purchase.

WANT TO BE ANNEXED.

Portion of Mount Tabor Would Like to Be in the City.

The Multnomah delegation at Salem has agreed to submit the question of annexation of that part of Mount Tabor East of Third Street, and about 200 feet east of West avenue, and between Hawthorne avenue and 300 feet north of the Base Line, and also the district between Portsmouth and St. Johns, to the voters of Portland and these suburbs.

This will give the people of Mount Tabor the opportunity they asked the Council for last Summer, which was denied them. However, it is doubtful whether it will carry in that suburb, although the boundary lines prescribed cut out territory in which the strongest opposition, both to annexation and incorporation, have manifested, and includes the district in which the strongest sentiment for either has always been found. North of the Base Line road in Center Addition the people are practically a unit against annexation or incorporation, and on the summit the sentiment for either is not strong.

H. W. Hodges, secretary of the Mount Tabor Improvement Association, said: "I think annexation will carry within the boundaries prescribed, and that it will be a good thing. I was for incorporation because there seemed no hope of annexation with the city. A straw vote was taken last Summer on West avenue and the Base Line, on the question of annexation, with the result that it carried by a considerable majority. Yes, I think annexation will carry unless something should come up that does not now appear."

Harrison G. Platt, president of the Mount Tabor Improvement Association, said last night: "I think it perfectly just and fair that the question of annexation should be submitted to the voters for any section before being annexed, but it is doubtful whether it will carry at Mount Tabor. A considerable number of people out here are unable to figure out any material benefits from annexation to Portland to offset the increased taxation. There is no hope for water, lights, streets or sewers very soon. We are told that the city has hardly money enough to run the government so where will we come in at under the circumstances? We don't want any combination houses out here."

"I suppose that annexation will come sooner or later, and perhaps it may well come now, but personally I cannot see any immediate advantages from annexation."

William G. Oberteuffer, of Mount Tabor, however, said: "I think the movement for annexation is in the right direction, and I think it will carry at Mount Tabor without any trouble within the lines that have been laid down. We need electric lights, fire and police protection, water, streets and sewerage."

G. W. Gay, E. S. Brubaker, L. S. N. Normandin and other prominent Mount Tabor men who favor the question of annexation will carry in Mount Tabor, but are not so sure that it will carry in Portland.

In the district between Portsmouth and St. Johns there is comparatively small population. Francis I. McKenna, who is familiar with the situation there said: "I think the people in that district will vote for annexation. This strip is not under the control of either city government—Portland or St. Johns—but if brought in would be part of Portland and attached to the University Park voting precinct."

The population of Mount Tabor district and the district at St. Johns is about 3000.

WHO IS DROWNED MAN?

Mrs. J. F. McCramick Fears Husband May Be River's Victim.

In the opinion of the police the man who walked off the end of the draw on the Steel bridge Saturday night is J. F. McCramick, who lived at the Star rooming-house at Larabee and Holladay avenues, and who has been reported to the police as missing since Saturday night. His description tallies with all the description the police have of the unfortunate man who was drowned. McCramick would be going home at the hour the accident happened, and it is thought that he failed to notice that the draw was open, search will be made for the body. McCramick's wife did not report her husband's disappearance to the police until yesterday morning. Detectives were immediately assigned to the case, and they reported last night that the drowned man was, in all probability, McCramick.
