BOY PAYS PENALTY

Eight Years' Sentence Given Young Bandit.

MOTHER WILL SEEK PARDON

James Drummond Changes Plea in Robbery Charges and Is Sentenced to Penitentiary-Governor to investigate.

There was a pathetic scene when James Drummond, the boy bandit, was sentenced by Judge George yesterday afternoon to eight years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Drummond's mother, who came here from Colorado to try and save him, wept aloud when the court's decision was made.

"He is only a boy," she walled, "and he has always been such a good boy." The son bowed his head in shame and buried his face in his hands.

Drummond is 18 years of age and does not look older. He was neatly dressed in a dark coat and vest and brown trousers. He was led into the courtroom by Deputy Sheriff Parrott. Gis Moser, Deputy District Attorney, addressed the court saying, "May it please the court, at this time James Drummond, against whom there is pending two in-formations, one for assault with intent to rob and the other robbery and being ned with a dangerous weapon, destres plead. He has heretofore pleaded not guilty and he now wishes to change his plea to one of guilty."

"Is that your desire?" asked the court, kurning to Drummond. "Yes, sir," said the prisoner meekly.
To each information?"

"Let the plea be entered," said Judge corge. "Are you ready to receive sentence now?" he continued.

Drummond replied affirmatively. In response to further questions he said he had nothing to say why sentence should not be propounced and thus he was a sentence should not be propounced and thus he was a sentence should not be propounced and thus he was a sentence of the not be pronounced and that he did not dewire an attorney.

"Have you anything to suggest, Mr. Moser?" inquired the court.
"Only this, Your Honor. There are two charges against the boy. They are sertious charges and there is no question about his guilt. He held up Mr. Lounstelle and took a gold watch from him and tiale and took a gold watch from him and a few coins. He attempted to rob L. D. Keyser and several shots were exchanged between them. The defendant has entered a plea of guilty and saved the expense of trials. His poor old mother is here from Colorado and says he has always been a good boy at home. I am sorry for the mother, but the crimes were of a serious nature. I will leave the matter to Your Honor to do as you deem best."

Court Consults Boy's Mother. Judge George called Mrs. Drummond and after a few moments' conversation with her returned to the bench and ordered the prisoner to stand up.

"On the first charge," said the Court,
"of assault with intent to rob Keyser the udgment of the Court is that you be imjudgment of the Court is that you be im-prisoned under that charge in the peni-tentiary of the state for a period of four years. On the assault and robbery charge and being armed with a dangerous weap-on the judgment of the Court is that you be imprisoned in the penitentiary for a period of eight years. On account of the circumstances presented the Court will make these two sentences run concurrent, so that one will not be added to the other. The Court also, as the desire of the mother is to see Governor Chamber-lain and have him look into the facts and circumstances of this case, and as the Governor will be in the city within a few Kagi. of Portland. NOT GUILTY OF GAMBLING. Chinamen Caught by Sheriff Are Dismissed by Court.

Lee Wong and Lai Way were tried and acquitted by a jury in Judge Frazer's Court yesterday morning on an indict-ment for running a gambling-house at 171½ Second street. When Sheriff Word, during one of his raids in the Chinese quarter, battered down huge doors and smashed tables and gambling parapher-inalls, the premises occupied by Lee Wong and Lai Way was one of the places vis-lted. The Sheriff did not see any games in operation nor did he know, at the time who was in charge of this particular house. Subsequently Lee Wong and Lai Way sued Sheriff Word in Justice Reid's court for nominal damages. The county grand jury was then in session and the Sheriff laid the facts before the jury with the result that Lee Wong and Lai Way were indicted. At the trial yesterday Sheriff Word told this story and the com-plaint filed against him in the Justice Court and the judgment rendered against him upon it were introduced in evidence The Sheriff also testified that the place bore the common reputation of a gam-bling-house and he went there to suppress it. He acknowledged he did not see any games in progress. Deputy Sheriffs Cordano and Grussi gave similar testimony. The jury evidently thought a case of operating a gambling-house had not been established and returned a verdict of not guilty after brief deliberations. The Sheriff has appealed the civil case against him to the State Circuit Court.

DECISION AIDS IRRIGATION.

Judge Frazer Returns Findings in Big Klamath County Suit.

The irrigation of over 100,000 acres of arid land is made possible by a decision just mailed by Judge Frazer to Klamath County. The case was heard by Judge Frazer last Summer, in place of Judge Benson, who could not sit on account of being an interested party.

The suit involved the right of way for canals of the Klamath Falls Irrigation Company and the Klamath Canal Company. The company last named proposes to reclaim from 190,000 to 200,000 acres of and the Klamath Canal Comland in the country tributary to Klamath Lake. The Klamath Falls Irrigation Company claimed title to a right of way 60 feet wide which, if confirmed, would prevent the Klamath Canal Company from proceeding with the execution of extensive plans unless a tunnel were built, which would entail an enormous expenditure. Judge Frazer, in his decision, holds that the Klamath Falls Irrigation Com-pany has failed to prove title to the full width of the 60-foot canal strip which it has used as a right of way, and the other company is entitled to part of the conseesion demanded. The outcome permits both companies to proceed with desired improvements.

Owners of both concerns are negotiating with the Government to sell out right and turn the reclamation enterprise over to the Interior Department.

Militiamen to Go on Duty.

FOUNDER OF THE TOWN OF HEPPNER

THE LATE HENRY HEPPNER.

Heppner, and one of Morrow County's early ploneers, died at the Heppner Santtarium last night. Mr. Heppner had been subject to severe sinking spells for some time, and, from his advanced age, was quite feeble. Monday morning, at his apartments at the Palace Hotel, he suffered a severe attack of heart failure, and was very near death's door. This left him in a weakened condition. Resolute and full of energy to the last, it was hard work to persuade him to go to the sanitarium, where he could be better cared for. The end came about 9 o'clock yesterday evening.

Hemy Heppner was born in Germany 76 years ago. When quite young he left

Germany and came to New York where he resided for a number of years. Deffine

West, he came to Eastern Oregon in the early '70s, and was engaged in packing.

As the early pack trails followed the water courses, Mr. Heppner came up the valley of Willow Creek and camped on the ground where Heppner now stands, on July 4, 1872, which was then a wilderness. He became impressed with the surroundings, and not long afterward came back and started a small store, which was the start of the present prosperous town. From that time until the end, at a ripe old age, he has been identified with Morrow County interests, and, being a man of good judgment

CHICAGO, Feb. II. - (Special.) - The trans-continental lines are in a wrangle over rates to the Lewis and Clark Ex position and to the various conventions which are to be held this Summer on the Pacific Coast.

The trouble arises from the fact that the San Francisco lines want the Exposition rates applied by way of San Fran cisco, while the northern lines want s higer rate to apply by this route. The rates by the direct route will be $56.50 for the round trip, while a rate of $62.50 has been made for several conventions which are to be held in San Francisco and the nediate vicinity. The northern lines ask that $12 be added to the direct Exposition rate, provided it was desired to go from San Francisco to Portland It was stated today that individual notice would be given, eventually making the convention rates the same by Coast routes.
