Burton Sure Appropriations Will Pass

Only Danger Is That Load of Amendments May Sink It in the Upper House, but That Is Not Expected.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 2 -Chairman Burton, of the House river and harbors committee, expressed the belief today that his bill, consideration of which was begun in the House this morning, will pass both houses and become law before March 4. There has been a growing fear that this bill would be sidetracked, not only because of the demand of party leaders for nomy, but because of the unprecedentedly late date in bringing it up for consideration. Only nine days remain to pass it through both houses and through conference, less time than was ever before given any river and harbor bill. Burton, however, says the shortage of time is a strong factor in favor of the passage of the bill. It will induce the Senate to make only slight amendments, for fear of losing what is proposed by He says that unless the Senate loads the bill down with large amendments, it will pass without material objection, carrying practically the appropriations agreed to by the House mittee

KINGSBURY CASE IS DELAYED

Ankeny Secures Further Time to Disgust of Foster.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washngton, Feb. 22.-Much to Senator Foster's fisapointment no report was made today on the nomination of E. P. Kingsbury as Surveyor-General of Washington. This Cheered by Immense Throngs in was the day set when Senator Ankeny should show cause why Kingsbury should not be confirmed, but, instead of doing so, he begged for a further delay of two or three days, but it is evident the nomination will be favorably reported and immediately confirmed.

Senator Ankeny says he has no idea of the ground on which opposition is based, and is merely acting in the interest of and is merely acting in the interest of versity of Pennsylvania, was waiting on others. Kingsbury will probably be con-

Government Hopes to Collect Duty and Help Bank Depositors.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12-C. F. Leach, ollector of Customs at Cleveland, and F. H. Oldham, chief of the division of in-seivent banks of the Controller's office in Washington, are in this city making a search for diamonds and other duti-able property that Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick is supposed to have brought to this country from abroad without going through the formality of paying the cusone charges.

Mr. Leach recently declared that he had discovered evidence of the $1,000,000 and of the $1,500,000 diamonds supposed to have been sequestered by Mrs. Chadwick. If any diamonds are found, Mr. Oldham intends to do all he can to have them placed to the credit of the depositors of the Oberlin National Bank.

Buty of Chizen to Nation.

The men who founded this Nation had to deal with theories of government and the fundamental principles of free institutions.

We are now concerned with a different set of questions, for the Republic has been firmly established, its principles theoroughly tested and fully approved. To merely political issues have succeeded those of grave social and economic importance, the solution of which demands the best efforts of the best men. We have a right to expect that a wise and leading part in the effort to attain this solution will be taken by those who have been exceptionally blessed in the matter of obtaining an education. That college graduants is but a poor creature who does not feel when he has left college that he has received semething for which he owes a return. What he thus owes he can as a return. What he thus owes he can as a return. What he thus owes he can as a return. What he thus owes he can as a return. uate is but a poor creature who does not feel when he has left college that he has received semething for which he owes a return. What he thus owes he can as a rule only pay by the way he bears himself through life. It is but occasionally that a college graduate can do much outright for his alma mater; he can bear repay her by living a life that will reflect credit upon her, by so carrying himself as a clinen that men shall see that the years spent in training him have not been wasted. The educated man is entitled to no special privilege, save the inestimable privilege of trying to show that his education enables him to take the lead in striving to guide his fellows aright in the difficult task which is set to us of the twentieth century. The problems before us today are very complex, and are widely different from those which the men of Washington's generation had to face; but we can overcome them surely, and we can overcome them only, if we approach them in the spirit which Washington and Washington's great supporters brought to bear upon the problems of their day—the spirit of sanity and of courage, the spirit which combines hard common sense with the loftlest idealism.
