TEST PRIMARY LAW

Suit Brought to Determine Its Extent.

IT MAY APPLY TO PORTLAND

Circuit Court Asked to Decide if It Has Any Bearing Upon the Municipal Election in June.

Suit to determine if an election shall be held under the direct primary law in April, and if it applies to the city election in June, was filed in the State Circuit Court yesterday afternoon by City Attorney McNary. The court is asked to decide if it is legal for the County Clerk to open regis tration books and register voters and permit those aiready registered to appear and have their party affiliation added. This latter is necessary to qualify them to vote at the direct primary election. To raise the question the court is asked to enjoin County Clerk Fields from the purchase of registration books, and incurring the expenses of registration of voters for the city election in June.

Would Assist District Attorney. Mr. Fields is not interested which way the case is decided, and will turn the to defend. Charles E. Lockwood, attor-ncy, who is interested in uphoiding the law and having it applied to the law and having it applied to the coming city election, will offer to assist the District Attorney in the case. Judges Cle-land, Frazer, George and Sears will be maked to hear the case in joint session. The plaintiff is N. A. King, a wellknown citizen and taxpayer, and the defendant named is County Clerk Fields.

The complaint recites that a general city election is to be held in Portland in June, and the further fact that the direct primary law was adopted at the election the State of Oregon, held June 6,

What is Averred.

The further recital is made that by the terms of the direct primary election law it is provided that the nomination of candidates for municipal offices by political parties shall be made subject to the pro visions of the law in all incorporated towns having a population of 2000 inhabfights and upward.
"That pursuant to the provisions of the direct primary law the County Clerk is about to purchase registration books for the registration of voters for the election to be held for city officers on the first Monday in June, 196, and to incur an expense of about $2000.

The plaintiff and other electors, it is averred, desiring to vote at general state, county and city elections before those held in the year 1966, did heretofore and prior to the general election held on June 1904, register upon the registration books under the laws of the state then In force, so as to entitle them to vote at elections thereafter until the year 1906, and he and all others so registering prior to the election of June 6, 1904, are quali fied electors and voters at the municipal 5, 1906, and all persons desiring to vote the city election on June 5, 1905, may lawfully vote at said election upon their eatd registration in the year 1904, under the law providing for such registration in the year 1904.

That the said act, known as the direct primary nominating election law, does not apply to said election to be held June 5, 1966, for the purpose of electing municipal officers, and said election is not held or by virtue of any of the provisions of the said primary nomination election law, and that the expenditure of money about de for the purchase of registration books and for the registration of voters in the City of Portland is unnecsesary and unlawful."

LIBEL SUIT IS DISMISSED.

O. R. & N. Suit Against the Ship Cypromene Falls.

The libel suit of the Oregon Rallway & Navigation Company against the owners of the ship Cypromene was dismissed by Judge Bellinger in the United States rt yesterday. libel suit was based upon a collision between the steamer Hassalo, of the O. R. & N. Co., and the ship Cypromene, while the latter vessel was at an-chor in the Columbia River between Coffin Rock and Kalama. The steamship people alleged that there was a thick fog on the night of the accident and that no signals were displayed by the Cypromene. This, the witnesses for the defense denied, and claimed that at the hour of the collision the ship's lights were burning brightly and that other signals were not placed or bells sounded because there was no need of them.

jury in Judge Frazer's court yesterday convicted A. J. Browning, a negro, of the embezzlement of $30, June 8, 1904. m Mrs. Adda Parrish, keeper of the Antier Lodging-House. Browning was District Court yesterday by the Portland employed as janitor in the house and collected $30 rent from Mrs. Strickland, one land & Asiatic Steamship Company and of the roomers, and kept the money. He gave her a receipt. Samples of his hand-pany, limited, for the recovery of ap-writing were introduced in evidence to proximately $19,000 alleged to have been show that it was the same as that con-tained in the receipt. Browning was previously convicted in the Municipal Court upon the steamer Knight Companion and sentenced to imprisonment for one when that vessel was wrecked off the and sentenced to imprisonment for one when that vessel was wrecked off the year in the County Jall. He appealed the coast of Japan. The owners of the flour When the case was called for trial secured judgment against the flouring yesterday it was discovered that the records showed that it had been dismissed on February 11. This was found to be an error, and an order of correction was made. Deputy District Attorney Moser stated that a dismissal order had never en asked for and no one present disputed his assertion. How the error occurred was not explained.

WHITE IS CONVICTED OF THEFT

Found Guilty of Robbing Rooms in Selling-Hirsch Building.

G. W. White was tried and convicted n Judge Sears' court of entering rooms in the Selling-Hirsch building on December 22, 1904, and stealing $39 in eash, belonging to Ole Noe, rings and a chain the property of Maude McCoy, and jewelry valued at $25 in the apartments of Mrs. Iola Hudson.

Frank Thompson, a boy employed in the building, jointly indicted with White, pleaded guilty and testified for the prosecution. He said White was concerned in the crime. White denied it and testified that he worked at St. Martin's Springs last Summer and subsequently as janitor in the Masonic building. He admitted that he knew Thompson and that he pawned a chain for him, but said he did not know it was stolen. The previous record of Thompson is bad. He was arrested year ago for burglary and escaped because of his youth, being turned over to the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society. The jury was somewhat uncertain

MAKE NO TEST CASE ON KENO

Grant Pleads Guilty and Solomon Is Discharged by Court.

Peter Grant and Nathan Solomon have concluded not to make a test case and obtain a decision from the Supreme Court whether the game of keno is punishable as gambling under the law. Keno is not mentioned in the gambling statute specifically, but it might come under the general provision of "any other device" played for money, checks or credit. The case was set for trial in the State Circuit Court Monday, and it has been previously announced that Grant and Solomon would stand trial and test the law on the subject. Yesterday, however, Grant appeared before Judge Ge pleaded guilty. He was fined $25. case against Solomon was dismissed. The game was played last July in the
