There were fewer reasons to fear a corner in those stocks and reasons to fear a corner in those stocks and their movements were less excited than those of yesterday. The group was regarded with more or less suspection and distrust, however, and the public at large was much at a loss to form accurate conclusions as to the probable final outcome of the whole affair. Activity reverted very largely to the railroad list and high grade stocks which helped to reassure sentiment disturbed by yesterday's sensational fluctuations.

New York Central was a leading feature and its advance of over seven points was made on much larger transactions than are usual in that stock. The principal operations were stirrbuted to the same sources as the recently acquired control by the New York. The movement in other Eastern railroad stocks was largely sympathetic. > CHICAGO, Feb. 24 -- An active demand from several prominent buils and good buying by each houses started the sharp advance in the price of corn. Alarmed at the appearance of an urgent demand, shorts endeavored to cover, but offerings being extremely small, the efforts served only to force prices still higher. Large clearances at the scaboard was the factor which received most attention. Owing to lower cables, the market opened easier, May being a shade to labile lower at 46%46%. Almost immediately, however, heavy pur-chases by a leader of the buils precipitated an active inquiry from shorts. Prices rose steadily until May had reached 48c. The market closed practically at the highest point, final quotations on May being at 475c. Influenced by lower prices at Liverpool wheat opened easier. May was unchanged to

Influenced by lower prices at Liverpool wheat opened earlier. May was unchanged to like higher at $1.18% to $1.18%, and July was unchanged to the lower at $1.60% to $1.00%. The weakness at Liverpool was attributed to enormous shipments from Argentina, exports from that country being 4.280,000 bushels, compared with 3.988,000 bushels in the corresponding week a year ago. Fit traders solid quite freely at the outset, foreing May down to $1.18% On the dip, commission houses became active buyers, causing a quick rally. During the last haif hour the volume of trading was very light, interest of traders being diverted tempovarity to the corn pit. The Bright, Springlike weather imparted more life to the local markets. Grain speculation was more active than for several days. Wheat and barley options were slightly higher under prodiverted temporarily to the corn pit. The strength of the willow cereal was the main cause of the late firmness in other grains At $1.18% May reached the highest point of femilianal trading. Spot prices for all cereals were steady and receipts light. Crop pros-

B is Correct.

VALE, Or., Feb. 2t .- (To the Editor.)-Will you kindly give your opinion on the following question in dispute: A claims that the pur-chase of Alaska by the United States was not a bona file transaftion, but that the price paid to Russia by our Government was in reality to pay Russia for sending her flees to our Atlantic coast during the Civil War to prevent the British and French fleets from opening the Southern ports blockaded by the Pederal Government. A further asperts that Russia had, previous to that time, offered Alaska to the United States as a free gift. B denies both of these assertions. Which is right? HERBERT THOMSON.
