COTTAGE PRAYER MEETINGS

When Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman Reaches Portland He Will Find the Church Community Prepared to Assist Him.

The manual of information, issued by those in charge of the tour of Dr. J. Withur Chapman, the great revivalist, has been received by the local committee and preparations are under way for a rousing reception when the noted preacher arrives. A special meeting of the district committee was held pesterday at the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of com-pletting details for the revivals. It is ex-pected that at least 2000 unders will be required to handle the throngs that will gather at the various churches during the meetings and it is proposed to have the ushers thoroughly trained before the time. A large amount of printed matter is being prepared for the use of the com-mittees and to advertise the places of

The cottage prayer meetings that were held last Tuesday night will be repeated in a hundred homes this evening. All these services, while being arranged for by particular churches, are open to all and the members of all churches are requested and invited to attend the ser-vice nearest their homes regardless of enominational lines. So general is the interest in this evangelistic movement that is to take place that it has been taken up by the deaf mutes, and a cottage prayer meeting will be held for the deaf mutes at the residence of Mrs. Wayne Thurman, 36 Tilla-mook street, led by J. COLONIST RUSH ON

Thousands Are Coming to the Northwest

DAY OF INVASION

Oregon, Washington and Idaho Are Profiting Largely by the Low Rate Made by Railways for Prospective Settlers.

The third day of the invasion of the The third day of the invasion of the colonists brought good results to the state, provided all or even a large part of those who reached Portland over the O. R. & N. and the Northern Pacific decide to locate permanently in the valleys of the different sections of Oregon.

Sunday morning there were three extra cars natached to the Chicago-Portland train reaching here over the O. R. & N., while the evening train came in two sections, there being is extra cars filled with colonists during the day. Counting 50

Yesterday morning there were five extra cars on the morning O. R. & N. train, while the evening train ran in sections, as before. These figures do not take into consideration the tourists who have stopped along the route in Eastern Oregon and ifaho, nor does it note the carload which were switched off in Eastern Oregon for routing to Washington.

which were switched off in Eastern Oregon for points in Washington.

The colonist movement is very heavy, so say the traffic men, and is surpassing even the expectations of those who have been working to bring the people to the Coast. Hundreds of people are now scattered through the different sections of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, all along the line west of Billings, where the first stop-over privilege is given. These persons, in many instances, have tickets good to points as far south as Ashland in Orepoints as far south as Ashland in Ore and to various stations in Washing

The stop-over privileges are very liberal and the traveler can consume three months, if need be, in journeying from place to place, provided he takes the truble to have his ticket extended from time to time as the fixed limit expires. It is therefore probable that the large procession will continue to come toward the Court by allow along a toward the Coast by slow stages from the interior points until the limit of the ticket has been reached. This movement will keep the people pouring into the Western val-ieys all through the Summer, and it is hoped that the last stages of the journey will find for many a permanent stopping

The travel over the Northern Pacific is also heavy, just as heavy, so it is said, as that over the O. R. & N., but it is not

FOR NEW ELECTRIC LINE.

Oregon Water Power & Railway Company Surveys Route.

The surveyors of the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company have com-pleted the survey of the route of a branch line from Cedarville, on the Gresham railway, to Fairview, Troutdale and mouth of the Sandy, a distance of about ten miles. For some time the crew, unde miles. For some time the crew, under the charge of Foreman Gillam, had been at work looking for the route between Fairview and Troutdale. The survey passes through the house and over the well of James Schram, and on Napoleon Davis' farm it passes through his car-riage and chicken houses. The farmers want the line healty but crefer it a little way, the next step toward the building of the line will be that of securing right of way from Cedarville for double tracks. A member of the crew remarked to a resident that cars would be running over that line within 50 days if the right of way could be secured without delay. It is not thought that there will be any great difficulty in getting the right of way, as the owners of much of the land through which the surveys were made are anxious for the construction of an electric rail-way to Portland. Between Rockwood and the Twelve-Mile House, the route be-tween Codarville and Fairview, the survey was made on an easy grade, and be-tween Fairview and Troutdale also a good grade was found.

WIRES ITS APPRECIATION.

Chamber of Commerce Commends Fulton and Burton.

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday re-sived a letter from Theodore B. Wilcox, who was appointed by the Chamber to represent that organization in Washing-ton in seeking to secure the best recogni-tion possible for the river and harbor improvements for this state. In the letter Mr. Wilcox relates the story of the fight made to secure the appropriations for the Columbia jetty and the Willamette River. He stated that the Chief of Engineers had given assurance that the dredge Chi would not be operated with the funds, so that the appropriation of $400,000, made at this session, together with the money now on hand, insures the continuance of vigorous work on the jetty.

Hon. Theodore E. Burton: Portland Chamber of Commerce, and business men generally very highly appreciate what you have done for Ore-gon in the rivers and harbors bill, which has

OPEN RIVER CONFERENCE.

The conference of the Open River Committees held yesterday afternoon in the offices of Teal & Minor had to do with routine matters principally and adjourned until this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when

The meeting yesterday dealt with the progress of the work at The Dalles as far as it had gone, with the purchase of equipment and with the many details now occupying the minds of those who are conducting the construction of the

At the meeting this afternoon, however, more interesting things will be discussed One of the principal subjects to be taken up is the question of upper-river trans-portation. It will be necessary to pro-vide boats to ply the river above The Dalles as iar as it is possible and necessary. The manner of getting these boats, the number necessary to carry the business which will be developed or that is now waiting for the opening of the road, and many details of operation and management will have to be gone over, and in part at least settled. It is expected that the meeting today will settle the question now before the Commission and that all matters relating to the construction of the Portage Road will be so arranged that the greatest possible haste may be made toward the completion of the project.

MORGAN FURNISHES HIS BOND Witness for Government in Land Frauds Is at Liberty.

John M. Morgan, an important witness in the Government land-fraud cases, who was arrested while en route to San Francisco in a supposed attempt to avoid giving tostimony, yesterday furnished the 11000 bonds which were required to insure his appearance at the trials.

Morgan will be called to testify in the Butte Creek Land, Lumber & Livestock Company's case, and the Government regards as important the testimony he may be able to give in connection with the of-ficials and dealings of that corporation. Morgan, who left The Dalles last Wednesday, was arrested in Portland upon his arrival that evening. He said that he was on his way to San Fran-cisco, where he intended taking a course of instruction in a barber college. When placed under $1000 bonds he furnished $400, and was allowed his liberty

Why do work and worry and excess and strain and overindulgence break down constitutions and make men and woman worn cut and run down and restlets and sleepless and discouraged and morose? Because they weaken the tiny tender nerves on which life itself depends.

Not the nerves you ordinarily think shout—not the nerves that govern your movements and your thoughts.

But the automatic nerves that, unguided and unknown, night and day, keep your heart in motion—control the digestive apparatus—regulate your liver—operate your kidneys.

These are the nerves that worry wears out and work breaks down.

It does no good to treat the ailing organ—the irregular heart—the discretered liver—the reboillous stomach—the daranged kidneys. They are not to blame. But go back to the nerves that cotirol them. There you will find the seat of the trouble.

It does no good to take stimulants and nercotics, for theirs, at best, its but a temporary effect which mersiv postpones the finel day of reckoning.

There is nothing new about this—nothing any physician would dispute. But it remained for Dr. Shoop to apply this knowledge—to put it to practical use. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the result of a quarter century of endeavor along the very line. It does no does to the nerve—the inside herve—the power nerve—and builds it up, and strengthens it and makes it well. That is the end of all vital troubles. That is the end of all vital froubles.
