pool in England is contained in the Kenthh Chairror of February 26, just received, which

e in adjourned meeting of the Hop-Pianters' idicate was held at the Bridge House Ho-London, on Monday, and the proceedings so of a very enthusiastic character. Mr. derick Nearne, of Mackmade, Paversham, eded, and the attendance numbered nearly undrest growers. The principal factors in Borough were also present. The scheme elved the warm support of the growers sent, and it was unanimously desified to me the organization and commence operate immediately.

committee to arrange for the valuing of the hope according to quality and fixing of minimum prices, which shall be considered and binding on all members. It is not intended to charge the present method of doing business through factors, but the latter are to pay to the syndicate the proceeds of the sale of all pooled hops instead of as heretodors satiling with their individual growers. This is an entirely new departure by British agricultural interests, and its butcome will be watched with interest by others than those directly interested in the growing and using of hops.

The stocks of English hops of the 1904 crop still in the hands of growers are satimated at 40,000 to 45,000 pockets, and of these 20,000 pockets were at case turned into the pool, with indications that within a short period the bulk. If not the whole of the balance, would follow suit. In any case, the formation of the syndicate insums the present removal of shout 90 per cent of the unsold stock of English hops from the content of the standard of the sale.

reboration of the confidence which is felt in business conditions. A very free movement of all grades of traffic, and especially steel and from products, and of higher grades of marchandles, were marked features of the movement, and were cited as ground for the faith expressed by railroad officials of very properous conditions for an indefinite period in the future. Improved weather conditions are helping out the operating departments and facilitating the movement of freight, nithough the car supply is still insufficient to accommodate all of the business offered. Large carnings are to be looked for in consequence of the showing in expected incoming reports.

in May were due to a remor that the lillinois Warehouse Commission would declare No. 2 Oregon red wheat to be deliverable on contracts have. Actual trading in the May option, however, was of small volume, stop-loss orders being the principal feature. The July delivery showed considerable firmness. a decreased movement in the Northwest being mainly responsible for the comparative atrengating responsible for the comparative atrengating responsible for the comparative atrengation. On the sharp break in May, shorts overed moderately, and the price zone regained a large part of the initial loss. The best demand, however, was for July. As trading progressed the demand became more urgent, resulting in decided strength. Reports from Minnespoits of large sales of cash wheat had a saturulating sifect on apsculative trading here. Primary receipts also were small. The market cheed almost at the highest point of the day, with May at $1.13 and July at $509 $300c.

WASHINGTON, March 12. Today's state-ment of the Treasury balances in the general fund shows: Hange in May Wheat Due to Rumored Grading of Oregon Red.

OMICAGO, March 12.—Extreme nervousness marked trading in the wheat pit at the opening. May was 2% olever to %c higher, at 61.06 to $1.12, and July was a shade to higher, at 91% to $2c. The wide fluctuations in May were due to a rumor that the Illinois Warshouse Commission would declare No. 2 a lower opening for wheat and barley options. The cash situation for both cereals remained firm, owing to amail spot stocks, and futures afterward strengthened under short covering. The Chicago rally in wheat also steadied the local market. Trade in other creals was light, with prices unchanged, it being collection day. Feedetuffs were steady. Rolled barley is 60 cents higher.

cents higher. Stormy weather during the first half of the day curtailed trade in fruits. The feature was the attetion sale of six carloads of or-anges at annexed prices: Fanny navels, $1.50 to $1.60; choice, 85c to $1.85; standard, 65c to $1. In the open market large-sized oranges were plentiful and weak, but small sizes were well cleaned up and firm. Lighter receipts are expected, as the storm interrupted picking in Southern orchards. Apples were dull and easy, owing to the abundance and chespness of rhubarb.
