Big Firms Prepare Plans for Fair Pavilions.

FIND EXHIBIT SPACE CONE

Late Comers Unwilling to Be Left Out.

SCOPE OF FAIR IS DOUBLED

Persistent Applications for Unavailable Space May Result in Erection of Addition to Machinery Building.

With every available inch of exhibit space taken up at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, big exhibitors are beginning to lay plans for the construction of separate buildings. Yesterday seven applications for building sites were received at Exposition Headquarters by Director of Exhibits H. E. Dosch. Ten other firms are considering the same plan of procedure and have announced that unless they can make other arrangements for space they will build, as they feel they cannot afford to be left out of the they cannot afford to be left out of the Exposition.

Although the entire exhibit space was long slove filled, additional applications are reaching bendquarters daily. Yesterday an examination of the files of the Exhibits department showed there are applications on hand for 20,000 square feet of space which it will be impossible to supply. All who applied early have been provided for, and the Exposition does not feel compelled to provide for late comers, especially when it is prac-tically impossible to do so.

Five Exhibits Looked After.

However, the policy is to turn away no really live, or working, exhibits. In no really live, or working, exhibits. In view of the fact that there are a number of such applications on file, Colonel Douch has decided to ask the Executive Board to provide for another addition to the Machinery palace. Such a structure is regarded as being almost imperative. At least $5,000 square feet should be contained in this addition, and the matter of its construction will be taken up at once.

of its construction will be taken up and once.

The overwhelming clamor for exhibit space is easily accounted for. The Oregon country has been recognized as one of wonderful trade possibilities and as the stepping stone to the Orient—with its unlimited field. Business men everywhere are anxious to be represented. Many of those who are turned away refuse to take "no" for an answer and report daily at Exhibit headquarters in the hope that some portion of space, however small, has become vacant.

and that it will prove a stimulus to trade, more so after the Exposition than during or before that great event. I predict that those people who are waiting until after the Fair to pick up real estate will find that values have increased rather than decreased, for such was the case at the other Expositions which I have attended."

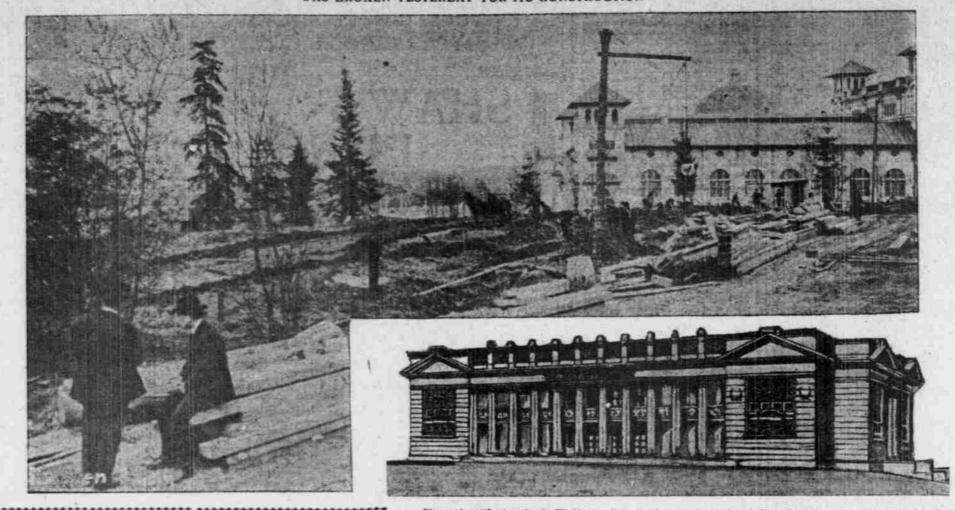

INDIAN ARCHERS AT THE FAIR

Plan to Have Braves Demonstrate Experience With the Bow.

M. F. Hill, one of the scattered North-west archers, was in town last night, having come down from Goldendale, Wash, to carry back with great care a yew bow he had just had made for him by F. S. Barnes of Forest Grove. Mr. Hill is one of the most enthusiastic archers in this portion of the country, and the prime mover in the big archery contest to be held at the Fair next July. He has a plan which will make that event doubly interesting. He said yesterday: "There are a few Indians scattered

"There are a few Indians scattered around the country who are great shots with the how. There are two at Goldendale, one at Beilingham and some in British Columbia. Others I don't know about. They are not reservation Indians, but live by themselves and maintain their individuality. They can all shoot with the bow and I know we can have them come and hold an exhibition contest at the Fair. In conjunction with the regular archery contest, it will be a very unusual sight in these days."

of those who are turned away refuse to take "no" for an answer and report daily at Exhibit headquarters in the hope that some portion of space, however small, has become vacant.

Scope Has Been Doubled.

At present there are eleven hig exhibit buildings provided by the Exposition. The space included in these is just double what was originally intended, it is conservatively estimated that a half million square feet more space could readily be filled before the Exposition opens.

Among the firms which will put up individual pavillous for their displays are two big gas companies, two stove manufacturing concerns, an electric drill company and two concrete companies. These will have working exhibits of their products.

Among those who are now trying to get building space as big California mining company which wants to put in a mining plant, including a crusher, concentrators and complete machinery for the treatment of ores, it is probable that an agreement will be made by which this company may secure the necessary building space, although even the matter of building space has become a serious problem.

Two Open Sheds Built.

"Whoever says a great Exposition built clear across the block. Concrete builts on a period of business depression for a time after its close, is talking without an accurate knowledge of the subject." This is the statement of F. H. Kicker, a concessionaire who arrived in Ricker, a concessionaire who arrived in as yet unoccupied. The ground slopes northward, and this half is the lower side. At present two open sheds have been built clear across the block. Concrete floors are being laid. Several thousand business all my life, and I have never been doing as good duty as now. I say this city is in better condition, as regards the general state of affairs, than it ever has been. I have cleaned up the North End district; have given Portland the first and only uniformed department it ever had have built the first and only Uniformed department it ever had; have built the first and only City Jail in the history of the city. Now, I think I deserve some credit for these things, especially so since I have been handleapped by having so small a number of men at my command, and so little.

Mr. Kicker has been following expositions for a number of years and during this time he says he has taken occasion to note carefully the after-effects of the expositions at Chicago, Buffale, Charleston and St. Louis. HUNT SCORES CRITICS.

Richardson gave an interesting sketch of Greece and other ancient cities. He said that the three greatest cities of olden times were Rome, Jerusalem and Athens. From them the people of the earth had taken the essential parts of civilization, law, religion and culture. His history of Greece and the founding of Athens was very interesting. This was followed by a synopeis of events that have occurred until the present day and a short explanation of the conditions and appearance of the city at this time. ber of men at my command, and so little

With the patrolmen for excellent control. With the patrolmen for the duty, we are doing well. We need many more men to do so much work.

"Who these preachers are that are talking so much, and discussing me from their pulpits. I do not know, I think, however, that I probably know fully as much about my business as they do. ASTORIA, Or., March 12.—(Special.)— The gasoline schooner Chetco arrived in this afternoon from Rogue River with 30 tons of steelheads for J. As an attempt was being made to dock the vessel, Captain Scott rang to stop the engine, but there was no response from the engine-room and the schooner collided with the wharf. An investigation was immediately made and Engineer Frank Coulter was found lying on the floor in an unconscious condition, having been overcome by the es-caping gas. He was soon resuscitated, however, and was able to resume his duties. In the collision with the wharf, the schooner's cathead was broken and a portion of her rail was carried away.

ordinary remedy, and I feel so sure of its remits that I can afford to make this offer.

In the first place, my remedy does not treat the kidneys themselves. Such treatment is wrong. For the kidneys are not to blame for their weaknesses or irregularities. They have no power, no self-control. They are operated and actuated by a tiny shred of a nerve which alone is responsible for their condition. If the Kidney nerve is strong and healthy the kidneys are strong and healthy. If the Kidney nerve goes wrong you know it by the inevitable result—kidney trouble.

This tender nerve is only one of a great system of nerves; this system controls not only the kidneys, but the heart and the liver and the
kidneys, but the heart and the liver and the stomach. For simplicity's aske I have called this great nerve system the "Inside Nerves."
They are not the nerves of feeling-not the nerves that enable you to walk, to talk, to act, to think. They are the master nerves, and every vital organ is their slave. The common name for these nerves is the "sympathetic nerves",—because each set is in such close sympathy with the others that weakness anywhere results in weakness everywhere.

This is why I treat not the hidney that is weak. In is the secret of my success. This is why I can afford to de this unusual thing—
to give away FREE the first dollar bottle, that ANY STRANGER may know how my remedy
successed.

The offer is open to everyone, everywhere,
who has not tried my remedy. Those who have,
