

WILL NOT FLEE

Tarred and Feathered Man Will Remain.

DR. CAWOOD PERSISTENT

Is Determined to Remain in Goldendale.

NOT ONE OF HOLY ROLLERS

Free Methodists Rally to the Support of the Evangelist and Resent the Assault Which Was Made Upon Him.

E. E. Cawood, who was given a coat of tar and feathers and ordered to leave the town of Goldendale, Wash. Sunday night was a resident of Portland for some years. He was a native of Marion County, this state, where he was born about 45 years ago. His father and mother, after crossing the plains from the East, died shortly after they reached their goal. He was reared and educated by friends of the family in Marion County, and after he became of age came to Portland where he studied dentistry for some time. Later he went to Philadelphia to complete a course in the Dental College of that city. Upon his return to Portland he opened offices in the Marquam building, which he continued to do about three years, before removing to the Hamilton building on Third street. About three years ago Dr. Cawood, during a series of revival services which were being held in different churches in this city, became very enthusiastic over religious matters in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Sunnyside, and professed conversion to that faith. Later he withdrew from the Methodist Episcopal Church and joined the Free Methodists. He went about the city testifying and preaching in various churches for some time and then became superintendent of the Olive Branch Mission on First street near Clay. Since that time he has assisted in revival services in various churches throughout this state and Washington and it was while so doing that he visited Goldendale.

Wife and Son Here. Cawood's wife and little son reside on Belmont street between Third and Fourth streets, Sunnyside. Mrs. Cawood is nearly prostrated over the reports received from Goldendale. The husband has not communicated with her since the incident and she does not know what he will do. In an interview yesterday afternoon she said: "My husband is not a Holy Roller. He is an evangelist of the Free Methodist Church, and as such is under the elder of this district. Rev. W. N. Coffey. His work in the mission takes him about the state and I often go with him. A few days ago he was called to Goldendale to preach and we were told at the time that there was much need of a religious awakening there. My husband is an enthusiastic worker and I suppose the people who have listened to his sermons have been deeply influenced, but why a band of rowdies should tar and feather him because he sought to convert those that had gathered to hear him is more than I can understand."

What District Elder Says. "It is but justice to Dr. Cawood and the general public for those who know him to speak at this time when it is sought in a cowardly and brutal way by those who would like to be considered respectable citizens to discourage free speech, and then to whitewash the whole affair over by attempting to make it appear that it is done to save the people from becoming demonstrative and going crazy."

Supports the Superintendent. "Dr. Cawood sees all this and of course, his truths are as welcome as New Testament truths have always been in certain localities, and hence the affair at Goldendale."

FENTON'S CONDITION SERIOUS Well-Known Portland Athlete May Suffer Loss of Limb. The injury received by Kenneth Fenton, the Portland student at Stanford University, is taking a serious turn. Plowden Stett, another Portland student at the university, telephoned to a friend in the city yesterday afternoon that a consultation of physicians would be called next night, and that it would then be decided whether amputation of one limb would be necessary. It is feared that the blood poisoning will spread and an operation may be absolutely necessary as a preventive measure. Repeated messages to Stanford last night received no reply.

In addition to the contract for 2,200,000 feet of lumber placed here, the Government is in the market for 2,150,000 feet more, on which bids will be opened April 1. Captain Jesse M. Baker, disbursing Quartermaster, yesterday received instructions from the Quartermaster-General to call for proposals for that quantity. The material is to be used in remodeling Spanish buildings in the Department of Mindanao and Jolo.

GROWS COMING TO OREGON Colonists' Rates Causes Influx of People From Eastern States.

H. S. Rowe, district passenger agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, states that from the few days' traffic into the Northwest under the present colonist rates, he believes there will be a greater number of settlers during 1905 than during any previous five years out of the 25 which he has spent on the Coast.

CROSSED WIRES WORKS HAVOC Big Fire Gng Hits and Portland Hotel Box Blows Out.

An electric wire dropped across another that bears fire alarm signals somewhere out in North Portland last night, and at intervals for the next five minutes there were half a dozen strokes of the big fire gong. In half a dozen places, meanwhile, there was excitement. Prominent among those was the lobby of the Portland Hotel.

Storms Do Little Damage. Major W. C. Langitt has just received a report of the soundings recently made on the Columbia River jetty and is much gratified to learn that no serious damage has resulted from the recent storms.

Puddlers' Wages Increased. YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 13.—At the bi-monthly settlement of the bar iron scale today, the rate for puddling was increased for the next two months from $4.90 to $5.15 per ton. Bar iron heating is 63 cents per ton and rolling 45 cents per ton. This is the first advance for the puddlers since last Summer.

is supplied with street lights. The City Engineer had refused to approve the February bill of $1500, declaring that the penalty of 50 cents for each light out had not been deducted. H. W. Goodie, president of the company, stated that the penalty clause had been inserted in the five-year contract to prevent the company from turning off the current from the street light circuits at a time when power was scarce and supplying private customers who pay a higher rate. He suggested that the Police Department report to his company the instant when a light was reported out by a patrolman. Daily records could then be kept in both offices. After a long discussion the committee postponed the subject of the light bill for future discussion.

BRITISH STEAMSHIP RAS ELBA.

The Ras Elba will complete her cargo of compressed hay at Albers dock tonight, and tomorrow morning will set sail for Tsing-tan, China. This will be the first cargo of Oregon hay ever shipped to a foreign port. Hay has never been a market in the United States' possession. The Albers Bros. Mfg. Company, who are providing the cargo of the Ras Elba, will load two of three more steamers with hay before Summer. The next one will arrive April 1, and will be either the Lyndene or the Sandhurst. Both are on the way across to the Sound from Japan, and the first that arrives will be ordered to this city.

COMES VIA HONG KONG. Big Steamship Dakota Leaves New York April 3.

The Great Northern steamship Dakota, sister ship of the Minnesota, will sail from New York April 3, and will come to Puget Sound via Hongkong. The trip will be around the African continent, instead of by way of Cape Horn, as it is figured by the officers of the line that the steamer can reach Hongkong at the same time that the Minnesota is at Seattle on her next trip.

AT THE THEATERS What the Press Agents Say.

Ben Hendricks at the Empire. Ben Hendricks, the favorite Swedish dialect comedian and Norrland swag singer, in his favorite comedy "Ole Olson," is meeting with hearty approval. Thus far Hendricks has met with success unprecedented by a star of this order. His repertoire of songs includes many that have already become immensely popular. Mr. Hendricks is surrounded by a large company and special production, and an engagement will run all week at the Empire Theater, with a matinee Saturday.

"Joan of Arc" Tonight. At the Columbia tonight, the grand religious production, "Joan of Arc," will have its second presentation. It is an impressive lesson in religion and history is it, coupled with thrilling and beautiful dramatic situations, that crowded houses are bound to be the rule all week.

"Virginian" Seat Sale Today. This morning at 10 o'clock the advance sale of seats will open for "The Virginian," which comes to the Marquam Grand Theater next Thursday and Friday nights, March 16 and 17, with a special matinee Saturday, which will be the last performance.

"Theima" Coming. Following "Joan of Arc," the Columbia will have its last performance at the Columbia Sunday night, will come Marie Corelli's world-famed love drama of Norway and the Vikings, the beautiful "Theima." It will open next Monday night.

"Pawtucket" Matinee Tomorrow. A special matinee will be given tomorrow at the Marquam Grand Theater. Lawrence D'Orsay, in "The Earl of Pawtucket," will be the bill. Curtain at 2:15 o'clock.
