DISPLAYS BEING PREPARED

State Commission Takes Initial Step Towards Assembling State Exhibits for Installation in the Exposition Palaces.

The resources of the State of Oregon are to be shown at the coming Lewis and Clark Exposition as are those of no other state. The visitor at the Exposition will, with very little effort, be able to gain a knowledge of the state as a whole and of each of the counties. Of all the expensive and comprehensive state exhibits, that which Oregon will have at the Western World's Fair will be in the lead.

This is the announcement made by the Lewis and Clark State Commission, which has charge of the Oregon participation. The work of assembling the vast and expensive exhibits was commenced yesterday under the supervision of President Jefferson Myers and the commission. The work will be in direct charge of General Superintendent Galloway.

Competition Among Counties.

Counties will be notified to send on their displays at once in order to give plenty of time for their installation in the most effective manner. Nearly every county in the state has provided for special exhibits, covering every resource of the state. The general state display will include forestry, education, mining, agriculture, horticulture, livestock, dairy products and fish and game.

One element of the Oregon exhibit that will tend to its success is the fact that there will be a friendly competition among the counties, each putting forth its best effort to overshadow some other county. This spirit of rivalry has already been manifested in the applications for county space, a number of the larger counties of the state trying to outbid their neighbors.

The desire to send competitive exhibits to the Fair is furthered by the cash premiums offered by the Exposition, which will make a cash rebate for meritorious exhibits.

Most of Counties in Line.

Of the 37 counties of the state 24 have provided exhibits and several others are in communication with the Commission, having seen that they were losing prestige by failure to be represented at the Fair.

The counties now in line are Benton, Josephine, Yamhill, Polk, Umatilla, Baker, Morrow, Sherman, Crook, Tillamook, Gilliam, Wallowa, Harney, Malheur, Wasco, Coos, Washington, Columbia, Lincoln, Marion, Clackamas, Linn, Douglas and Lane. The value of the county exhibits aggregates $50,000. For their installation nearly half of the Agricultural palace and Forestry building has been set apart.

UTAH COMMISSION APPOINTED

Big Appropriation Ready for Use After Escaping Rough Voyage.

Details of the terms under which the recent appropriation of $50,000 was made by Utah for the Lewis and Clark Exposition were announced in a communication received by Secretary of State C. S. Tingy. The communication states that the spending of the money will be in charge of the Governor and a state commission composed of four members. This commission has already been selected and is composed of W. K. Walton, F. W. Finburn, Rudolph Kuchler and Webb Green. The exhibit will be a complete one of the resources of the state. There will be an unusually fine display of minerals and the agricultural display will also be a notable one. Most of the exhibit will be housed in the Utah building for which funds have been provided.

The appropriation of $50,000 makes a total allowance from Utah of $40,000 as a $10,000 appropriation was made by the Legislature of two years ago. On several occasions the appropriation question was threatened with a rough voyage. First, one John Q. Johnson thought the money ought to be diverted for use at St. Louis, but his claims in this direction suddenly lost color when, as president of the commission, he was accused of misappropriating the Exposition funds to his own use.

Next, one Harry Joseph, who will be remembered by those who attended the recent session of the American Mining Congress, tried to have a bill put through the Utah Legislature repealing the original $50,000. In support of his view he called attention to the stringency of the Utah delegation when a delegate named Powers took the view that the Mormon people had been insulted by the Portland Rose Society. That incident has been dropped and even Mr. Joseph, as a member of the Legislature, finally relented his stand against Portland and supported the appropriation bill which was passed.

PENNYPACKER IS FRIENDLY.

Pennsylvania Governor Favors Participation and Selects State Day.

Although, for technical reasons, Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, vetoed the Lewis and Clark appropriation bill for $50,000 after it had passed the Legislature, the matter is soon to be straightened out and the amount will be made available for the Pennsylvania display. In a letter to Exposition headquarters Governor Pennypacker states his friendly interest in the Exposition and says he expects an early settlement of the difficulty. He also requests that October 4 be set apart as Pennsylvania day. That date is the anniversary of the battle of Germantown.

It is probable that an entire special train will be required to carry the Pennsylvania delegation. Besides the large number of business men and sightseers who are coming, the City Council and Mayor of Philadelphia are considering the feasibility of making the trip. At a recent session of the Council the members were unanimously in favor of the junket across the continent to Portland, although definite action was not taken. They have planned to come with the famous Liberty Bell, which has been secured for the Exposition. The bell will be brought here in time for the opening of the Exposition. Special Commissioner Melaaen, who was ordered home from the exploitation work last week at the conclusion of his labors, is to be detailed to escort the bell to Portland, and he will leave on his mission shortly after his return from the Middle West.

EXPERIMENTAL GARDENS AT THE LEWIS AND CLARK EXPOSITION, SHOWING THE AMERICAN INN IN BACKGROUND. Warm weather, with occasional showers, has brought the experimental gardens, which occupy the west side of the Lewis and Clark Exposition grounds, into a flourishing condition. Flowers, grasses and vegetables have pushed through the ground, turning the gardens into a bright green square. All the flowers and vegetable growth will be in the very best condition by the time of the opening of the Exposition, as trained gardeners will be constantly at work looking after the gardens, and no pains or expense will be spared to make them an attractive part of the Fair, as well as a practical demonstration of the wonderful productive qualities of Oregon soil and climate. In the background the American Inn, built partly over the lake shore, the framework of the mammoth building is well along towards completion, and a force of staffworkers and plasterers will be put to work there by the end of next week. It is intended to open the Inn early in May, or sooner if the 500-room building can be made ready.

Would Get Married for $2500

Portland Woman Anxious to Give Matrimonial Exhibition on "The Trail."

SOME time since, Miss Nellie Beardsley, of 215 Morrison street, caused a furor at Exposition headquarters by calling at the office of the secretary and calmly announcing that she wished to be married. Just as Secretary Reed, flattered by the announcement, was about to explain that he had already entered into the marital state, the young woman went on to say she had succeeded in securing the other party to the affair. What she wanted was a premium to get married in public at the Exposition. She named John Bristol as the prospective groom and said they were willing to undergo any arrangement for the ceremony.

Just to show that she is in earnest, Miss Beardsley forwarded a communication to Exposition headquarters yesterday, announcing she and the groom-elect had decided that July 4 is the proper date for the ceremony and that they would prefer to have the knot tied on the Trail. Incidentally they would like to have $2500, probably believing that any one slack enough on ideals to make a public performance of a marriage ceremony ought to receive plenty for the breach of decency.

While the Exposition does not wish to participate in, or encourage such a practice, the proposition will be turned over to one of the many Trail concessionaires, who are always on the lookout for things that might attract people and money.

SUPERIOR MERIT

Remarkable Curative Properties of a Remedy for Indigestion and Stomach Weakness.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a preparation for the cure of dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion and stomach trouble, owes its great success as a cure for these troubles to the fact that it is prepared for disease and weakness of the stomach and digestive organs only, and is not recommended or advised for any other disease. It is not a cure-all, but for any stomach trouble it is undoubtedly the safest, most sensible remedy that can be advised with the prospect of a permanent cure. It is prepared in tablet form, pleasant to taste, composed of vegetable and fruit essences, pure pepsin and Golden Seal, every one of which act effectively in digesting the food eaten, thereby resting and invigorating the weak stomach; rest is nature's cure for any disease, but you cannot rest the stomach unless you put into it something that will do its work or assist in the digestion of food. That is exactly what Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do, one grain of the digestive principle contained in them will digest 3000 grains of meat, eggs or similar wholesome foods, they will digest the food whether the stomach is in working order or not, thereby nourishing the body and resting the stomach at the same time, and rest and nourishment is nature's cure for any weakness. In persons run down in flesh and appetite these tablets build up the strength and increase flesh, because they digest fresh-forming food which the weak stomach cannot do, they increase the flow of gastric juice and prevent fermentation, acidity and sour watery risings. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores at 10 cents per package.

FOR CIVIC BEAUTY

Ordinances to Be Introduced in Council.

WAR ON WEEDS IS TO BEGIN

Ordinance Regulating Billboard Advertising Will Come Up, and Bill to Prosecute Property-Owners Who Fail to Cut Weeds.

Will Attack High Weeds.

The third ordinance to be presented by Councilman Foley provides that any property-owner or agent of the owner, who shall permit weeds, bushes, shrubs or trees to grow upon their lots or premises to exceed one foot in height will be guilty of maintaining a nuisance. The provisions of the ordinance provide that it shall not apply to anything that is grown for use or ornament. Property-owners who allow rubbish to accumulate on their lots or premises would also be liable to conviction on the charge of maintaining a nuisance. This ordinance was drawn up by S. H. Gruber and has received the approval of President Wheelwright of the Chamber of Commerce. City Attorney McNary furnished a copy of the ordinance and it also met his approval.

Believes Ordinance Will Pass.

"I believe this ordinance will pass without substantial opposition," said S. H. Gruber last evening. "I have seen a number of the Councilmen and I only encountered one member that was opposed to the ordinance in the least. The others all seemed in favor of it, and several promised to support the ordinance when it came up for passage. I cannot see anything so far that would hinder it from being enacted."

Vacant Lots Covered by Weeds.

"As it now is many of the vacant lots are covered with a thick and heavy growth of weeds and shrubs. They offer scavengers a dumping-place, and as a result nearly every lot in town is filled with tin cans and all forms of refuse. People throw rubbish in lots that are covered with weeds and shrubs even though they might be near their residences. This accumulation of refuse and debris, which has been going on in some neighborhoods for years, is very unhealthy and opens the way for epidemics and the spreading of disease. This ordinance does not apply to trees or bushes that are useful or ornamental. Shrubs which even grow wild, but nevertheless are attractive, will be allowed to remain on lots. If the ordinance is passed there is no danger of its not being enforced. The Chamber of Commerce Civic Improvement Board has already taken steps to see that the provisions of the ordinance are carried out in case it should be enacted.

Says Woodsaws Are Nuisance.

L. B. Cronch in speaking of his ordinance which will be introduced this evening, said: "These portable woodsaws that are to be seen on the streets of Portland almost any day, are a decided nuisance. They are alright when confined to the residence sections of the city. Very often you see these minature sawmills operating on the main business streets. They not only bother pedestrians but impede traffic as they practically take up one-half of the street."

NEW BY-LAWS ARE APPROVED

Chamber of Commerce to Admit Honorary and Associate Members.

The trustees of the Portland Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon to look over the amended by-laws of the Chamber as prepared by the special committee which has been working on their compilation for a couple of weeks or more. The many changes as compared with the old articles were examined and with a few slight alterations the work of the committee was approved and will be presented to the meeting of the members to be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The new by-laws as prepared provide for a court of inquiry, before which can be taken all charges brought by members against members in which unbusiness-like action is alleged. This court will have the power to inquire into offenses charged and to prescribe penalties for the same.

Honorary, associate and active members are also provided for in the new amended plan of active members which have heretofore composed the roll of the organization. It is also proposed to open the membership to any public-spirited men who may desire to join the Chamber, and with this increased and broadened membership sub-boards will be organized among the different businesses represented, these boards to have the general management of business having to do with their particular specialty.

As soon as the meeting of this afternoon ratifies the by-laws which have been amended, the work of reorganizing the Chamber will be commenced and carried forward as rapidly as possible.

Chief of Police Hunt was notified by D. B. Kelly, owner of the damaged house, and Captain Gittmacher was instructed to detail Mounted Policeman White to investigate the case. Throughout the day persistent and unsuccessful efforts were made by the officer to ascertain the identity of the boys who perpetrated the trick.

"This is one of the worst deeds of boys recently reported," said Chief Hunt. "We will use every effort to bring those guilty of it to justice. It is a great wonder that worse damage and loss of lives did not result. It seems strange that boys will do such things, but we frequently receive reports of things of dangerous nature they have done."

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Large Stone Rolls Down Hill, Crashing into Residence at Bottom.

A stone weighing more than 200 pounds was rolled over the top of the hill above the residence at 588 Seventh street early yesterday morning, and gained great momentum as it went crashing down. It struck the side of the house, near a window, tore it out and demolished much of the furniture in the room. Inmates had narrow escapes from death.
