HISTORY OF THE CONTEST.

Bitter Struggle for the Governorship Which Gives Peabody the Seat.

Which Gives Peabody the Seat.

DENVER. Colo., March 18.—Alva Adams was inaugurated as Governor on January 16, the canvass of the election returns by the General Assembly having shown a plurality of 2774 votes for him. Two days later James H. Peabody filed a contest for the office, which he reluctantly surrondered. On January 17 the Generaly Assembly in joint convention authorized a committee of 27 members, 18 Republicans and nine Democrats, to hear the evidence in the contest and report its conclusions. Fourteen days each were allowed the contestor and contestee for the introduction of evidence and five days additional were given the contestee to inditional were given the contestes to in-troduce evidence in rebuttal. The com-mittee consumed II days more in consid-ering the evidence and preparing its re-ports. These were submitted to the joint convention on March I.

Fourteen Republican members of the committee signed a report submitted by Peabody's counsel which found a majority of 239 for Peabody in the state by rejecting the vote of 104 election precincts rejecting the vote of 18 election precincts in Denver and 25 precincts in other counties, on the ground of fraud and conspiracy on the part of the Democrats.

The nine Democratic committeemen presented a report declaring that Peabody had failed to prove his election and recommending dismissal of his contest.

William H. Griffith, chairman of the contest committee, and three other Republican members reported that much fraud was shown in 45 precincts of Denver, but that the allegations of fraud in the 56 other precincts which Peabody asked to have thrown out had been disproved and recommended that the contest be dismissed.

Senstor Morton Alexander, one of the signers of the majority report, also pre-

Senator Morton Alexander, one of the signers of the majority report, also presented another report which recommended that the election of Governor be deciared null and void and the Lieutenant-Governor be seated as Governor. He subsequently amended his report by striking out the reference to the Lieutenant-Governor, and it then provided simply for declaring the office of Governor vacant. Being asked for an opinion on this method of actiling the contest, the Supreme Court pronounced it illegal.

Arguments by attorneys for the conor actuing the contest, the Supreme Court pronounced it illegal.

Arguments by attorneys for the contestants before the joint convention were concluded last Saturday and action on the contest has since been deferred from day to day, while efforts were being made to units the Republicans for Peabody. The joint convention consisted of $7$ members, and the Republican majority on joint ballot was $2$. Twenty-two Republicans, however, were opposed to seating Peabody for the remainder of the biennial term, and they finally forced the ex-Governor to agree to resign the office to Lieutenant-Governor McDonaid within $1$ hours after being scated.
