"Dr. Rohliemann was after the body of Agamemnon, and stumbled upon something vastly more important.

"A beginning having been made, Mycenaean art kept turning up everywhere in Greek lands. Vases, sold ornaments, statuettës, and wall paintings, were its principal material. In fact, a whole civilization was unearthed, which surprised the world, although indications of it had been given in Homer; but those had been set down as the poet's fancies.

"This civilization was soon approximately dated by the discovery at Mycenae of Egyptian objects, like accarabs and bits

This civilination was soon approximately dated by the discovery at Mycenae of Egyptian objects, like scarabs and bits of porcelain bearing the names of Egyptian Kings. In Egypt also were found vases from Mycenae showing close intercourse between this older Greece and Egypt. The Mycenaean bloom jested from 1800 B. C. to 1800 B. C. and was snuffed out by invaders, probably Dorlans; and four centuries followed-before the puny beginnings of what we call Greek art again appeared. A few threads span the chasm. There is a certain kinship between the two periods of art which marks them as two phases of the same art.

"Within the last seven years extensive excavations in Crete have brought to light such spiendid palaces, with their contents, that Mycenae itself now appears to be no longer the center, but is on the circumference of this civilination. King Minos, of Crete, who, as Thucydides records, was the first to establish a seapower, is now no longer a myth. His famous labyrinth is now exvacated by Arthur Evana, an Englishman, and is seen to be a gorgoous palace.

"Minos' palace at Knossos is surroused.

PETITIONS FOR FRANCHISES

Its Purpose is to Supply Power and Light by Ita Transmission Lines Throughout the Willamette Valley.

OREGON CITY, Or., March 17 .- (Special.)-The Portland General Electric Company has filed a petition in the Lounty Court saking for a franchise over the county roads between Oregon City and Aurora for the transmission of electrical light, power and energy. It will ask for a similar franchise over the Marion county roads between Aurora and Salem. The company will erect an additional generating plant on the east side of the river at Willamette Falls this year, and intends to supply the Willamette Valley as far south as Salem with light and power.

The construction of the new power plant will begin during the low-water period this Summer. Ten thousand five hundred horsepower will be installed, and additions will be made as fast as the demand justifies the increase. The Portland General Electric Company now has 12,000 horsepower from the station on the west bank of the Willamette Falls, and will soon have the same capacity from the steam plant in Portland. In 1996 it will have 7000 horsepower from the Oregon Water Power & Rallway Company station on the Clackamas River.

The foregoing telegram was shown to the officials of the General Electric Company in the city, who confirmed it. They said that the purpose of the company in building these lines was to distribute electrical power throughout the Williamette Valley. The power which will be used above the Williamette Falls will come altogether from the new generating plant to be built on the east side of the river at the falls.

ITS SPIRITUAL TRIBUTARY. World Indebted to Israel, Says Dr. Wise.

The topic chosen by Dr. Stephen S. Wise

The topic chosen by Dr. Stephen S. Wise for his Purim sermon last night was "Israel and the Nations; or, Stooping Not to Conquer."

The story on which Dr. Wise's address was based and the example held up to his congregation are contained in the book of Eather, with Mordecal and Queen Eather, as the central fewers and this Esther as the central figures, and this story and characters he found typical of the Israelites and the world.

"The early part of that book." said Dr. Wise, "finds Mordecal and Esther stooping to conquer; the latter part finds them refusing to bow down and they would not tree! In the fast part they failed but kneel. In the first part they falled, but in the second by not stooping they con-quered. Their refusal to bow to the image set up before them was not as has been stated an act of insolence, but was one of highest courage and deepest piety,

"Israel in its relation to the world must not stoop to conquer. It conquers not when it does stoop and conquers when when it does stoop and conquers when it does not stoop. To stoop even though to conquer is a symbol of the abandonment of principle.

"I say tonight that israel is the conqueror of the world. I hold tonight and believe in my heart that the world is apiritually tributary to Israel. Israel is the conqueror of the world, yea, conqueror in the true sense, not by feat of war, not is name but in fact and in act. Israel, by not stooping to conquer has left an indelible stamp and ineffacible impression on the world's civilization.

"Whom does the world respect. They say all the world loves a lover, but equally more all the world respects a selfby more all the world respects a self-respecting man and despises the one who is faithless and who is a deserted of his race and religion and principles, the man who stoops to conquer."
