

EXPOSITION'S MOST ATTRACTIVE STRUCTURE

NEW VIEW OF THE FORESTRY BUILDING, ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING STRUCTURES AT THE LEWIS AND CLARK EXPOSITION.

THAT the Forestry building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition is to attract more attention than any other of the structures at the Fair, there can be little doubt. Since its completion it has constantly been the center of an admiring crowd. There are few visitors that do not immediately inquire of the whereabouts of the building. The immense logs of which it is constructed arouse the wonderment of Easterners and the admiration of Westerners.

A force of men has been at work for some time on the grounds immediately surrounding the building. The idea has been to make the surroundings harmonize with the building, and in this work great success has been met with. The accompanying photograph shows the palace from one of the ballasted boulevards in Natural Park to the west of the building. The huge stumps in the foreground are the remnants of giants of the forest which were taken away by loggers long before the Exposition was thought of.

The interior view, which will be withheld from the public until the opening of the Exposition, is picturesque in the extreme. There are 42 supporting pillars, not one of which is less than six feet in diameter, and a number being much larger than that. The rustic effect is preserved on the interior, the logs retaining the natural bark. The windows are all cut in the logs without superfluous casings or other of the stampmarks of the metropolitan, which would spoil the general effect which has been aimed at.

In the forestry palace will be stored the different forestry exhibits, together with fish and game and part of the horticultural display. In addition there will be a carload of giant pine cones, which will be given away as souvenirs to all visitors. These cones are now being gathered by Indians for storage.

SURPRISED BY RAIN

Visitors at Fair Grounds Struck by Shower.

FORCED TO WADE IN MUD

Sudden Storm Catches Hundreds Without Umbrellas, but Does Not Put a Stop to the Sight-seeing—Crowd is Large.

Umbrellas were at a premium at the Lewis and Clark Exposition grounds yesterday. Numbers of people ventured out to the grounds early in the day when the sun was shining, and were caught by the rain. But they were not discouraged. The men rolled up the bottoms of their trousers and the women picked up their skirts and saw the sights, in spite of the rather unfavorable weather. There was not a steady downpour, the rain coming in showers.

There would sometimes be intervals of fully a half hour when it was not raining, and this gave the sightseers time to move around, and from under the wings of the shelter-affording buildings. Most of the paths were deserted because of the mud. The railroad track, which is laid through the grounds, was much traveled, at it was high and was not covered with mud, which was the case of some of the temporary sidewalks. On each side of the track nearly all along the line the ground had been cut up and loosened by wagons and horses, and rain resulted in the accumulation of thick and heavy mud.

There were about 300 people at one time walking the track when a switch engine pulling a couple of freight cars filled with exhibits came along. The people did not have much time, and the majority of them had to step from the ties into the mud. In some places the yellow mud was so deep that the parties who were inconvenienced sank in it clear up above their ankles. The worst part of it was that the engine, after it got started, kept running along the track nearly all afternoon.

"I have been hearing so much about this Exposition for the last year that I couldn't wait until it opens, so I came right to Portland to spend two or three days. If needed, in looking over the grounds," said a schoolteacher from Eastern Oregon, who was one of a party of people grouped under an extended angle of the roof of the Forestry building during a light shower. "About all we read about now is the Lewis and Clark Exposition. I am not disappointed, either. I do not believe the reports as to the extent and scope of the Fair have been exaggerated. Of course, it is impossible to get a definite idea of what the Fair will be, because there are several more buildings to go up, but I believe it will surpass my expectations."

JACKSON MEN ENTHUSIASTIC

Proper Exhibit of Resources of Great County to Be Made.

MEDFORD, Or., March 19.—(Special.)—The committee appointed by the County Court from the various precincts of Jackson County met at Medford last night to make arrangements for an exhibit from Jackson County at the Lewis and Clark Fair. Every committee member appeared or sent a letter explaining the reason of his absence. The meeting was called to order by County Judge Dunn, who explained the object of the meeting. Judge Dunn was elected chairman and W. R. Coleman, of Phoenix, secretary.

After considerable discussion of ways and means for making a creditable exhibit, it was agreed by the committee that the manner of making the exhibit should be left in the hands of the County Court, the two commissioners and County Judge being present, and that the matter of expenditure should be left to their discretion.

The amount to be expended was limited to $5000. Hon. John D. Olwell was appointed to superintend the collection of exhibits and forwarding to Portland. The members of this committee were made members of the committee on collection, the number to be added to six the County Court and superintendent should see fit. Each precinct committee is to have a chairman and the duty of the committee will be to collect agricultural, horticultural, mineral and timber and other products in their respective districts.

Not only was the representation of committees appointed very large, but all heartily favored the idea of making the proper exhibit from Jackson County at the Lewis and Clark Fair, regardless of what the expense might be.

ROUTINE BUSINESS, INCLUDING AN ELECTION OF OFFICERS, SEVERAL SUBJECTS WILL BE BROUGHT UP FOR DISCUSSION. THE PRINCIPAL TOPIC FOR CONSIDERATION WILL BE THE GENERAL CONDITION OF TYPHOID THROUGHOUT THE STATE. WHILE THERE CANNOT BE SAID TO BE ANY TYPHOID EPIDEMIC EXTENDING IN THE STATE AND THE DEATH RATE FROM THAT DISEASE IS EXCEEDINGLY LOW Owing TO ITS MILD NATURE, IT IS GENERALLY THOUGHT THAT TYPHOID IS MORE PREVALENT THAN JUSTIFIED BY CONDITIONS. WITH AN UNCROWDED POPULATION, AN ABUNDANCE OF PURE MOUNTAIN WATER AT PRACTICALLY ALL POINTS, AND THE GENERALLY GOOD SANITATION THROUGHOUT THE STATE, IT IS FELT that there should be practically no trace of this disease.

Suggestions will be given and considered as to the adoption of means of stamping out the disease. It has already been decided by the board that hereafter all cases of typhoid will be quarantined. Heretofore cases of this disease have been reported but never quarantined, and the State Board of Health of Oregon is the first to make typhoid a quarantinable disease. Notices covering the action of the board in this regard are being sent out.

Another matter which will be brought up before the board today is the general sanitary condition of Portland. This will be in line of preparation for the condition of the city during the Lewis and Clark Fair, and recommendations will be made covering the sources and care of the food supply and other matters affecting the health of the population. Especial attention will be paid to hotel and restaurant kitchens as regards ventilation and drainage and some system of inspection will be provided for. School hygiene, with reference to the construction of buildings will also be discussed before the board.

The members of the board are: Dr. Andrew C. Smith, president; Dr. Woods Hutchinson, secretary; Dr. C. J. Smith, of Pendleton; Dr. Alfred Kinney, of Astoria; Dr. E. A. Pierce, of Salem; Dr. Harry Lamb, of Portland; Dr. E. B. Pickel, of Medford.

ASTORIA, Or., March 19.—(Special.)—Deputy Sheriff Binder and Anderson today completed the report on the 1904 tax-roll up to March 15, the end of the period during which rebates of 2 per cent were allowed. The report shows the collections to have been by far the largest in the history of the county. The roll amounted to about $230,000, and was turned over to Sheriff Linville on February 23. Since that time there has been collected $128,861.67, and rebates amounting to $4225 have been allowed, making a total of $124,636.67 that the roll has been reduced.

The receipts issued number 367. The 1903 roll amounted to about $174,447. It was placed in the hands of the Sheriff on February 5, 1904, and the collections on it before March 15 amounted to $121,886.41, with $117.33 allowed for rebates. Last year note of the owners of large timber tracts paid, and some of them are still contesting their taxes in the courts, but this year every one of them has paid.

MARSHAL ORGAN'S FINE WORK

He Handles the Politics of St. Johns With a Skilled Hand.

Great is Charles R. Organ, the Marshal of the City of St. Johns. As a politician he will rank with the most adroit and skillful in the manipulation of St. Johns politics. Not only did he organize the Good Government Club and dictate who went on the ticket that club has put out, but he has managed affairs with such a fine hand that nearly every candidate has been placed on either the Citizens' or the Independent ticket, so that the Good Government Club will "catch 'em gold and comb." J. W. Hanks, candidate for Recorder; Fred W. Valen-tine, candidate for Treasurer; C. D. Edwards and H. W. Brice and C. S. Thompson, candidates for Councilmen, on the above ticket, were nominated on the Independent ticket Saturday night.

Mr. Hanks was nominated over M. F. Tatts by a vote of 96 to 28. This was very fine work on the part of Marshal Organ to accomplish in the camp of the enemy. Marshal Organ also is after Thomas J. Monahan, Citizens' candidate for Mayor. He brought about the nomination of W. V. Jones on the Government ticket, and not a few believe the Marshal's hand was potent in securing the nomination of W. H. King, although Mr. King has a very strong personality and is favored by members of the Good Government Club.

The meeting Saturday night was called to nominate A. S. Douglas for Mayor, but the King won easily, so that the night will be a three-cornered one, with even chances for each of the candidates for Mayor. It will be an interesting fight, with the election two weeks off. The way

IT WILL KEEP

It is not always necessary to use a whole bottle of Scott's Emulsion. What is left will keep. We have seen a bottle of our Emulsion three years old that is still good. What other preparation of cod liver oil will keep sweet and permanent for half that length of time? Scott's Emulsion is always reliable because it's always absolutely pure.

A Living Monument.

If we were to assemble all those who have been cured of heart disease by Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and who would to-day be in their graves had not Dr. Miles' been successful in perfecting this wonderful heart specific, they would populate a large city.

What a remarkable record—a breathing, thinking, moving monument, composed of human lives,—that for which every other earthly possession is sacrificed.

The Miles Medical Co. receive thousands of letters from these people like the following:

"I feel indebted to the Dr. Miles' Heart Cure for my life. I desire to call the attention of others suffering as I did to this remarkable remedy for the heart. For a long time I had suffered from shortness of breath after any little exertion, palpitation of the heart, and at times terrible pain in the region of the heart, so serious that I feared that I would some time drop dead upon the street. One day I read one of your circulars, and immediately went to my druggist and purchased two bottles of the Heart Cure, and took it according to directions, with the result that I am entirely cured. Since then I never miss an opportunity to recommend this remedy to my friends who have heart trouble; in fact I am a traveling advertisement for I am widely known in this locality."
