CITY'S BIG DAY

Fair Will Open With Fitting Ceremony.

FINE PROGRAMME PLANNED

Roosevelt Will Set Machinery in Motion.

INVITATIONS ARE NOW READY

Demonstrations Will Continue From the Dawn of June 1 Until a Late Hour of the Night.

Invitations to the ceremonies attendant upon the opening of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, June 1, are to be sent out this week. Yesterday a force of clerks were set to work preparing the invitaof which there are 2000, for the mails. The invitations are handsomely engraved and attractive in appearance. The list of those to whom they will be sent was completed a few days since, and includes the names of prominent statesmen, speakers, writers and think-ers throughout the United States. President Theodore Roosevelt's name heads the list, although the President has al-

Opening day at the Lewis and Clark Exposition will be made one of the most memorable occasions in the his-tory of Portland and of the entire West. Details of the opening demonstrations, which were completed yesterday with a few minor exceptions, show that such events will take place as have never before been witnessed in the Western country, and such crowds will be assembled as have never before gathered in a Western metropolis. In short, it has been decided to start the World's Fair of the West on its course in a manner befitting the great enterprise.

While in the past it has been thought advisable to keep the gates closed until the electric flash from the President's office in Washington sets the machinery in motion, that plan has been abun-doned. It was announced yesterday that the gates would open early on the morning of June 1. This will enable the crowds to assemble gradually during prayer will be offered by a Protestinister and the benediction will be pronounced by a representative of the Catholic Church. The speakers will include a representative of President Rooseveit, yet to be named, but probably Secretary Taft, the Governor. Mayor, a representative of the United States Senate and of the lower house, Exposition President H. W. Goode and Immediately upon the conclusion of this part of the programme word will be flashed to President Rossevelt that the Lewis and Clark Exposition is in readiness. President Roosevelt will touch a button in the White House which on the instant will set in motion the machinery of the Exposition across continent

The vital electrical current from Washington will first touch the towers of the big Government structure on the Government Peninsula in Guild's Lake. It will start the chimes in the tower tolling off the impressive strains of "America." For a full moment this stirring air will be the one sound. while the thousands stand with bared heads. Then will come the heavy hum of machinery in the Machinery Hall, simultaneous with the striking up of simultaneous with the straining up of the "Lewis and Clark March" by the F. N. Innes Band. A feature of this music will be the masked guns on the terraces above the grandstand, which will be discharged by electricity in rythm with the music

After that it will require a levelheaded person to keep track of the demonstration. Heavy artillery salutes will roar out above the rattle of small arms. A dozen bands will add their music to the noise in a vain endeavor to be heard, a chorus of several hundred school children will sing from the terraces, and the cheers of the

Nor will all the noise be confined to the Exposition grounds. Warships and other craft in the harbor will boom forth the President's salute, whisties will blow as they have never blown before, and the gladsome celebration will be taken up by what is left of the population of rural districts and outlying towns.

For fully an hour this demonstration will continue and then attention will divert to the exhibit palaces, the scen-ery, the Trail and the thousand and one

In the evening the scene will be an inspiring one. The big white palaces will stand out in myriads of incandescent lights. Every tower and every beam of every exhibit building will be beam of every exhibit building will be outlined in fire. On the water front an elaborate display of fireworks will be made: lighted gondolas and launches will glide here and there on the water, and the blisrity on The Trail will be in full swing. These things, with the strains of music mingled through all sounds, will produce an enchanting effect.

As to the attendance on the opening As to the attendance on the opening day, it is believed there will be more people than at any other time during the Fair. Every Western state and many of those of the East have arranged to send special representatives. Excursions without number have been planned from points throughout the Western country. One big excursion, bearing 100 members have been pearing 100 members as already. bearing 100 people or more, has already been made up at Indianapolis, to reach Portland for the opening day. The population of the city and surrounding country will turn out generally.

In order to prevent any acts of an unlawful nature, the grounds will be heavily policed. Besides the regular military patrol and secret service men there will be a strong corden of uniformed policemen detailed by the city for service on the grounds, and a force of specials will be sworn in. It is in-tended not only to have the greatest demonstration, but to establish a record by having the day pass off with-out mishap or unpleasant incident of any kind.

State Societies Will Locate in Chamber of Commerce Bullding.

The members of the different state societies are very much pleased at the result of the meeting, and are confident that the arrangement will be of great convenience to those visiting Portland during the summer.

LEWIS AND CLARK MARCH DONE Bandmaster De Caprio Completes

Composition for Use During Fair. A. De Caprio, the bandmaster who was assigned to the work of composing an official Lewis and Clark march for use on festival occasions during the Fair, reported yesterday that he had completed his task. As soon as the composition has been submitted to the committee on music, Mr. De Caprio will set about to compiete the instrumentation for the Innes Band. This band will be the first to play the piece in public, on the occasion of the opening-day ceremonies. The music will be forwarded to the members of the band for rehearsals at an early date.

Sanitary Condition is Excellent. Yesterday morning the Exposition trounds were officially inspected by the State Board of Health, which made a full the crowds to assemble gradually during the morning.

The first demonstration will be a big parade about the grounds, in which has been installed. The Board was parade about the grounds, in which has been installed. NOW ASKS FOR MORE SPACE

Exhibits Department Receives Letter From French Commissioner Asking That France Be Awarded 6800 Square Feet.

The demand for exhibit space at the Lewis and Clark Exposition has spread from the United States. Yesterday an insistent letter was received by Direct-or of Exhibits H. E. Dosch, asking for more space in the Poreign building for the French displays. France already has an allotment of 5350 equare feet and the request is for 1450 additional, which, if allowed, will bring the total allowance for France up to 6800 square

WILL ADVERTISE THE FAIR.

Northern Pacific Expects to Bring Many Visitors Here. A. B. Smith, assistant general passen ger agent of the Northern Pacific, who has been visiting in Portland for a cou-ple of days, will leave this evening for his home in St. Paul.

Mr. Smith, while in Portland, has been looking into the things promised by the Lewis and Clark Fair, in order that he may be the better able to advertise it in the East when he returns to his head-traffic that will spring up on account of the Fair. The Burlington express is also being rebuilt by the company and will soon furnish as good accommodations as any train run by the Northern Pacific, the North Coast Limited not excepted. The train will not run an observation car, but outside of this feature there will be no appreciable difference between the Burlington and the limited. In many other ways the Northern road is prepar-ing for the heavy traffic expected for the coming season.

"The people of the East are beginning to know of Oregon and to want to visit the Coast," said Mr. Smith yesterday.

"They are learning of the advantages to be found here and are desirous of coming here to live. The colonist rates the low. here to live. The colonist rates, the low excursion rates to the Fair, the home-seekers round-trip rates, all are bringing scople to Portland or will bring them here, and many of those who come will stay. It is to the interest of the North-ern Pacific to settle the country of the Northwest now vacant and every effort is being made by the road to advertise not Portland alone, but the entire state and the district of the Northwest. From this work and what is being done by other parties, great results will come."

Mr. Smith will leave for Seattle this evening and will then return to his St. Paul home, after a short stay in Wash-

Opposition Must Unite to Beat St. Johns Candidate

MAY AGREE ON A. S. DOUGLAS

Witdrawal of Thomas J. Monahan and W. H. King Is Suggested In Order to Wage Winning Fight Against League.

"You may hear something interesting in a short time," said a prominent resident of St. Johns last evening, in speaking of politics in that city.

This interpreted means that Thomas J. Monahan and W. H. King, candidates, respectively, for Mayor on the Citizens' and Independent tickets, may be withdrawn, and A. S. Douglas be nominated, in order to beat W. V. Jobes, candidate of the Good Government League, or Mar-
