THANKS TO JUDGE HOOKER

New York Investigation of Supreme Judge Reveals How His Friends and Relatives Got Easy Money From Uncle Sam.

ALBANY, N. T. March 21—ExPostmaster A. R. Moore, of Fredonia, resumed the stand today upon resumption of the Assembly judiciary committee's inquiry into the charges against Supreme Court Justice Warren B. Hooker. He testified that prior to January 17, 1899, four cierks were employed at the Fredonia postoffice and that the work was being satisfactorily done and that the appointment of free additional cierks, alleged to have been made at the behest of Justice Hooker, was not asked for by him.

Ora Caldwell, one of the five cierks appointed to the Fredonia postoffice in appointed to the Fredonia postoffice in January, 1895, at the alleged request of Justice Hooker, testified that he did not go to work in the postoffice until July 1 following. He identified two checks, one for $124.65 and the other for $150, given him by the Postmaster, and admitted that he had never per-formed an hour's service up to the time he received the checks. He was working at a locomotive works in Dun-kirk at the time, he said. Caldwell further testified that he had never given any of the money received from the postmaster to anyone else, and that the first he had known of his appointment was when he was handed the check for Maurice Hooker, nephew of the judge, testified that he went to Fredonis in January, 1902, remaining there antil April 19, 1904, securing an appointment in the postoffice and attending the Normal school. He said he never performed any service in the ostoffice, that he recived his first pay in February and each month afterward, amounting to a sainry of $400 a year. He said that, instead of doing the work in the postoffice himself, he arranged with the postmaster to hire it done, with the postmaster to hire it done, the expense coming out of his salary. Miss Katherine Clark testified that she did not think that Judge Hooker had done anything for her. A letter dated April 28, 1900, addressed to Beavers from Judge Hooker, was read: "The arrangement concerning Miss Clark is all right and she will be delighted at what is being done for her." After this had been quoted to her she replied that she did not know Justice Hooker had been securing increases in her salary.
