JONE ON W. S. LADD.—Apropres to the dedication of the new Forbes Presbyterian Church in this city last Sunday there is interesting story connected with the liding of the old church 29 years ago. building of the old church 29 years ago. Mr. Forbes, the pastor of the church, had secured four lots in Lewer Albina, valued at $1300, from H. W. Corbett, and the last $1300 on the subscription list was from W. S. Ladd, upon conditions there should be no debt. When he went to collect the last of the $1000 it was accertained that the total cost of the building was $1172, hence the laugh and a joke by Mr. Ladd that found its way into the newspaper and has been fold all over the state with many variations and was made to serve a good part by Dr. Hill in raising the $2000 last Sanday. The best part of the story, however, is that Mr. Ladd made his subscription after the church had done its best and, knowing just what had done its best and, knowing just what it had done, saying. "I'll give the floor, then you will not need to not anything from the Board of Church Brection." from the Board of Church Erection."
Then after the laugh and the joke, with evident emotion and tenderness in his voice (for Mr. Ladd loved to do a good thing) he expressed his great pleasure in the knowledge of helping to put a dittle church where there had never been one among a population of 800 people and almost within a stone's thrown of ten flourishing saloons—flourishing though paying each a license of $60 a year. The furnishings of the church cost about $500, which the people's subscriptions paid for. which the people's subscriptions paid for, and the church was dedicated without debt and without even passing the basket. Mr. Ladd's injunction had been strictly kept: "Cut your garment according to the cloth."

SCHEME TO EXCLUDE PEDDLERS.-Ther Science to Exclude Peddlers.—There is a brisk demand on the East Side for the little device for the exclusion of agents and peddlers of all sorts from forcing their way into houses, where there are no men folks to exclude them. The polite and respectful agents suffer along with the impudent ones. By means of a short chain and lock the doors may be opened a few inches, and if it be an agent or peddler, the lady of the house may go about her work without interruption, while the agent or peddler may talk himwhile the agent or peddler may talk him-self blind at the door. Complaint comes from many homes in the suburbs on the East Side of the insulfing actions of agents who when they find no men about the house try to force their way inside. BIG AUDIENCES AT THE EMPIRE. — An Beg Audiences at the Empire — An enjoyable melodrama, a little bit on the sensational order, entitled "The Moonshiner's Daughter," is being played this week at the Empire Theater. Large audiences are in attendance. The play goes with a being and a whoop. The gallery gods are particularly delighted, although by this it is not meant that the piece only appeals to the gallery. On the contrary, the downstairs audience enjoyed it just as much. The ending of each act cails forth storms of applause. The acting by all the members of the company is all that could be desired, and the specialties were exceedingly good. The regular matines will be given tomorrow.

REWARD MAN WHO SAVED THEIR LIVES.

—Captain John E. Nelson, of the steamer Star, was given a pleasant surprise Wednesday evening, when he was presented a handsome marine signal glass by the four men and one boy he rescued from drowning in the Columbia River last Sunday evening; James Shivley, Roy Shipley, Frank Lanning, C. W. Lanning and Ben Lanning. The quintet were out rowing, when their boat overturned and they fell into the water. Captain Nelson, of the steamer Star, was in the neighborhood and steamed up to the party and rescued them. The cover of the signal glass bears the names of the donors.

PIERTRAPS MAY NOT HE EXTENDED.— Major Laughtt has denied the petition of some of the Sand Island fishtrap own-ers for an extension seaward of the trap lines. Some of the owners of traps at that point wanted the lines extended out 50 feet, but this was strongly opposed by gillnetters, seiners and other trapmen in that locality. After hearing both sides and considering the matter Major Lang-fitt has notified the petitioners that their request cannot be granted.

It is very often the case for various reasons that people can not collect money when it is due, but it is seldom that people when it is due, but it is seldem that people are restrained by law from paying their debts, yet this is to be the case in Port-land, as far as cement sidewalk is conland, as far as cement sidewalk is concerned.

Civic Improvement proposes to take the matter up and will see that in the future all work done must be examined and the approval of the City Engineer's department given it before it can be paid for by the person having ordered the work done.

This will be done by the Board for two reasons, one to secure the construction of good walks composed of honest materials; the other to insure the removal of all debris and unsightly refuse ordinarily left by the contractors when they finish with a job.

In the past it has been the habit of In the past it has been the habit of the contractors when they have finished with the construction of a walk to leave the remnants of lime, cement and gravel, the wreckage of old harrels and boxes and littered pieces of paper lining coming inside the cement barrels scattered around the streets in the vicinity of their operations. This is to be stopped by the enforcement of the ordinance.

The special officers of the Board will watch for the construction of new walks.

watch for the construction of new walks and will report these to the Board. The officers will in turn see to it that the City Engineer is notified of the new work being done and he will make his investigation upon its completion. His certificate of approval will not be given until the material has been found to be satisfactory and the premises have been cleaned up and put in good shape. TRUNK LINES SLOW

Not Willing to Make Rate for Convention.

LETTER-CARRIERS UNDECIDED

On Account of High Rate May Declde to Hold Their Gathering in Minneapolis Instead of Coming to Portland.

Whether the National Lettercarriers Association will hold its annual convention in Portland this year is still a matter of conjecture, though it was supposed that the matter had been definitely settled and that there awaited nothing save making the actual preparations.

The action of the trunk lines cast of Chicago, however, in refusing to grant the special rates desired, has caused the matter to be left to a referendum vote of the members of the association, and of the members of the association, and slips for this ruprose have already been distributed. The bone of contention is Minneapolis, and it appears that while the trunk lines east of Chicago are reti-cent about granting special rates to Chi-cago if the convention is held in Portiand, they are willing to grant very good rates if the association will meet in Minne-arolise.

Portland May Lose.

In the face of this opposition is is b leved Portland will lose the convention, though the local branch of the convention, though the local branch of the organiza-tion has by no means given up the fight. The members in the Southern States have no mind in the matter, as a trip to Port-land or Minneapolis would be the same land or Minneapolis would be the same to them as far as rates are concerned. The people of the Middle West generally are in favor of Pertiand, because they are outside the jurisdiction of the trunk lines and can get Exposition rates from all points west of Chicago. East of Chicago, however, it is the rate question that will decide, and while many of the members are in favor of holding the convention in the Exposition city, the majority appear to consider the rate problem and are in favor of holding the convention in Minneapolis in order not to work a hard-Minneapolis in order not to work a hardwhip on delegates who can ill afford to a short time, and the fate of Portland will then be known. The local people contend that they are still in the fight, and Management Takes Up Fight. The Exposition management has taken up the fight for the local letters and the following letter was sent out resterday by President Myers: "PORTLAND, Or., March 23, 1905.—N. E. Weeks, Chairman New England Pas-senger Association, Baston Mass.—My Dear Sir: I herewith inclose to you copy of a letter which has been filed with me by the Letter Carriers' Asso-ciation. I also have a similar letter from the National Equal Suffrage Asso-ciation, which holds a convention in Fortland this Summer.

In view of the fact that the Western people have subscribed a large sum of money for this Exposition, the Govern-ment of the United States has made a most liberal appropriation, and many of the states in the Union have appro-priated large sums; and that the West-ern transcontinental lines have sub-scribed, in addition to their advertising. a large sum of money, I am very much surprised that the passenger service east of the Mississippi should not grant New York State Society will hold a musi-cal and literary meeting in the City Hall this evening at 7:20 o'clock. An interest-to single conventions. The Lewis and ing programme has been prepared for the of trying to induce a settlement on the Western country, the result of which will be to produce a large amount of revenue for all common carriers throughout the United States. The Western people are sensible of their ondition and they are fully aware of the amount of money which they con-tribute to the Eastern railroads, for both freight and passenger service. We indersed by Boothman and that the me ably no other part of the Union that contributed so much in proportion to its population to the St. Louis Exposi-tion as the Northwest States.

"In view of these facts and the great effort that is being put forth at this time to make the Lewis and Clark Exposition the equal in results to the vis iter of other similar expositions, and the fact that over $5,030,000 will be expended in the enterprise, we cannot but believe that upon further reflection you will certainly grant us a rate equally low with that which the transcontinental lines have made over the Rocky Mountains. I can assure you that this favor and consideration on your part will long be romembered with gratitude by the Western citizen. Hoping to hear from you at an early date, I am, Yours very truly.
"JEFFERSON MYERS,

When it is considered that the rates made west of the Mississippi are $55 and those east of the river $32, it is generally felt that the latter is a great injustice and is at least $18 too high. A determined effort will be made to get some better treatment from the Eastern associations and every sure will be brought to secure a reduced

Heels of New Rubber

The foundation of the human house is the feet. The spine is the speaking tube that tells the brain in the top story what is going on in the basement. And up through the feet comes trouble, unless the base of the anatomy is cush ioned for comfort. To make a rubber heel healthful and comforting it must be made of new rubber -so resilient as to absorb all jars that would otherwise irritate the spine.
