Guglielmo Is Denied Rehearing by Supreme Court.

DEPUTY'S SIGNATURE BINDING

District Attorney, by Presence at Arraignment and Aiding in Prosecution, Ratified the Act of His Subordinate.

The Oragen Supreme Court denies a rehearing in the Guglielms murder case and the mandate has been transmitted to the Circuit Court.
Columbia County fails to sustain its title to a strip of land in the north-ern part of Washington County, risimed under the act of 1901 fixing the boundary of Columbia County, Where an employe has been sent to do unusual work requiring prompt attention and haste he is not con-clusively presumed to remember a particular danger connected with his

SALEM, Or., March M .- (Special.)-The Supreme Court today denied the petition for rehearing in the Guglielmo murder Clerk J. J. Murphy at once transmitted the mandate to the clerk of the Circuit Court of Multnomab County and sentence will be passed again upon Gug-

Aside from the order in this case, the most important question of public interest decided by the court today was that the set of 190 fixing the boundaries of Columbia County does not operate to fransfer to that county a strip of territory sided to Washington County in 1896.

The judgment of the lower court find-ing Guglielmo guilty of murder in the first degree and sentencing him to be hanged was affirmed February 20. In ienying the petition for rehearing. Justice wrote the opinion of the court. the discusses at length the question as to the right of the state to arrest, hold and try a man upon an information to which a deputy has signed the name of the Prosecuting Attorney during his ab-sence. The court adheres to its former holding that the District Attorney, hav-ing assisted in prosecuting the defendant and being present when he was arraigned and secured an extension of time within which to plead, thereby adopted the sig-nature and ratified the act of the person who subscribed his name thereto.

Thomas Allison et al., appellants vs. R. Hatton, Sheriff of Columbia County, espondent, from Washington County, T. McBride, Judge, reversed; opinion by

This was a suit brought by taxpayers in the northern part of Washington County to enjoin the Sheriff of Columbia County from selling certain property for taxes in Columbia County. The land is in a strip of territory claimed by both

The facts are that section 2251 of Hill's Code defined the boundaries of Columbia County. In 1888 the Legislature passed an act amending that section so as to transfer to Washington County a strip one mile wide and II miles long. In 1901 the Legislature passed an act designed to add to Columbia County a small tract that had not been included in any county. In doing this the Legislature amended section 25% of code, but followed the original description except where variation was necessary to include the tract not previously in any county. The fact that section 231 had been amended in 1898 was everlooked, and the boundaries of Columbia County as described in the act of 1991 included the strip that had been added

The question presented was whether the act of 1801 operated to restore to Columbia County the stellar and the columbia County the strip taken away in 1898. The lower court held that it did, and entered a decree dismissing the suit brought by residents of Washington County. The Supreme Court takes a different view, however, and says that there was no in-tention to repeal the act of 1888. In the absence of such an intention it is only the change or additions incorporated in the section amended that are to be considered enacted. The strip therefore con-tinues a part of Washington County, Jus-tice Moore, who is a resident of Colum-bia County, took no part in the decision.

Henry Viohl, appellant, vs. North Pacilic Lamber Company, respondent, from Multnomah County, A. F. Sears, Jr., Judge, reversed and new trial ordered; optilon by Justice Bean. This was an action for damages for an injury received while working in de-fendants sawmill.' The defense was a denial of negligence and an allegation that the plaintiff assumed the risk in taking the employment and that he was guilty of contributory negligence. At the trial the plaintiff was nonsulted and he evidence showed that at the time of the accident the plaintiff had been ordered to perform work near the danger-ous machinery in order clear away slabs and robbish which had piled up and which partly concealed the exposed cog-wheels. While so working his heel caught in the wheels. The Supreme Court holds that where, as in this case, a servant is called upon to execute an order requiring prompt attention and haste, he is not conclusively presumed to remember a particular danger connected with his work. It is therefore held that the court should have submitted the court to the work. It is therefore held that the court should have submitted the case to the jury so that they could decide the question of contributory negligence as a question of contributory negligence as a question of contributory negligence.

Sizte of Oregon, ex rel. Grant Thorn-burg, respondent, vs. G. H. Gutridge, ap-pellant, from Grant County, M. D. Clifford, Judge, reversed and remanded; opinion by Chief Justice Welverton. Gutridge was fixed $25 for contempt of court in failing to pay a judgment against him in favor of Thornburg for $560.50. It appears that after a hearing on proceedings supplementary to execution the court made findings of fact and concludents of law, but entered no order or judgment thereon directing the entered. judgment thereon directing the defend ant to pay the money found to be in his

The Supreme Court holds that since there had been no order, there could be no disabedience of it and hence no contempt. It is also held that it come into the miliponds. All the H. H. is not to be presumed that a man still has possession of $200 because he had it has more than the company logs, with exception of about 500,000, came Jown. They now have enough to run four or the months.

Grant Thornburg, respondent, va. G. H. Gutridge, appellant from Grant County, M. D. Clifford, Judge: appeal dismissed because it was taken sfrom findings of fact and conclusions of law in proceedings supplementary to execution, upon which no final order had been given. Held, that while the proceeding is thus suppressed, no appeal will lie. Opinion per curiam.

State of Oregon, respondent, vs. R. E. Clark and John L. Milam, appellanta, from Harney County, M. D. Clifford, Judge, affirmed, optalon by Justice Bean. The defendants were indicted for stealing two horses, each belonging to a different man. They were convicted and an farent man, They were convicted and an-sealed on the ground that the indictment harged two separate drimes. The Supreme Court holds that where eparate articles belonging to different errors are stolen at the same time and duce, the act constitutes but one offense. The repetition of the words "then and here." in the indictment are held to be unficient allegation that the two horses were taken at the same time and place.

Banjamin Schwarz & Sons, appellants, va. Lee Gon and John Kennedy, from Marion County, George H. Burnett, Judge, affirmed: opinion by Justice Bean.

This was a suit to recover 86 bales of hops. The verdict of the jury was for hops. The verdict of the jury was for the following the the defendants and the Supreme Court

Charles Harding, respondent, va Mer-lin Harding and Clara Harding, appel-lants, from Marion County, R. P. Base, Judge, affirmed, but remanded; opinion by Justice Moore.

Marion County Grand Jury Will Spend Month at It.

SALEM, Or., March 27 .- (Special.)-The Marion County grand jury will in-ventigate state land frauds at its session beginning April S, and it is expected that the greater part of a month will be spent inquiring into the manner in which state school land has been bought and sold in Oregon in the last sought and sold in Oregon in the last of the years. Through the activity of state Land Agent Oswald West, evidence of fraudulent transactions has been secured and a mass of testimony that is said to constitute convincing proof, will be submitted to the considerable in general. cration of the jury.

The bold effort of S. A. B. Puter to secure 2500 acres of Klamaih County land through the mediumship of dumnies about two months ago will be the first transaction investigated. That is the transaction in which Puter was caught, and in which he admitted that raught, and in which he admitted that he had furnished the money for nine applicants to purchase state land. Puter not only admitted that he had in that finitance tried to get land through men who made false affidavits, but said he had been doing business in that way for years, and thought the State Land Board should not interfere with his purchases.

land Board should not interies who his purchases.

The evidence so far as this deal is concerned is complete, but the work of the grand jury will not stop with the one fisgrant case of fraud that has come to public attention. Seattle Finds Two Telephone Systems a Burden.

First an Effort Will Be Made to Force the Companies Now in the Field to Form One Corporation.

The Council is now consid-INVESTIGATION OF LAND FRAUD ering the purchase of one of the systems with the object of reducing the great expease involved in paying telephon charges to two separate systems. Engineer Thomson and a committee of influential citizens are now investigating the feasibility of municipal ownership.

Opinions as to the practicability of the plan differ. Some think Beattle has enough municipal business now on hand, and that the addition of a telephone system would only serve to augment the duties and work of city officials and would result in the end in greater expense and of the people in general.

The corporations committee of the Council has attacked the telephone problem with vigor, and if the attempt to force the two companies at present in committee of the field to unite into one system fails for legal or other reasons, the committee may push Engineer Thomson's project as the best means of solving the difficulty. That the necessity for the public to support two distinct telephone systems is an abomination, the Councilmen are screed. Engineer Thomson says that he understands several cities who have been troubled with a double telephone system have purchased one as a solution to the diffi the corporations committee that first an attempt be made to force the two companies to combine and reduce their rates, thus giving the public but one system. If this scheme falls, it is probable that the idea of City Engineer Thomson will be ides of City Engineer Thomson will be carried out and that Seattle will soon own her telephone system, in spite of the fact that many leading stockholders point out that the system could only be operated by the city at a loss and that Seattle has issued and is to issue bonds for other purposes to such an extent that an added burden of debt would result from the purchase and municipal operation of the telephone system.
