

NEW VICE-CONSUL

E. M. Cederbergh Named by King Oscar.

REPRESENTS TWO KINGDOMS

Appointed for Norway and Sweden at Portland at the Suggestion of Consul Henry Lund, of San Francisco.

Endre M. Cederbergh has been appointed Vice-Consul of the Kingdoms of Norway and Sweden for the district of Oregon and the port of Portland, vice Arthur Wilson, deceased.

The appointment came Wednesday.

Endre M. Cederbergh, Vice-Consul for the Kingdoms of Norway and Sweden.

night, but was not made public until early yesterday morning. Consul Henry Lund, of San Francisco, upon the advice from the Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the two countries, made the appointment, which is sure to meet with the approval of every native of those countries now residents of Portland.

Vice-Consul Cederbergh was born at Stavanger, Norway, November 11, 1853. He attended school in Hamburg, Germany, for three years during his early life, and from 1870 until 1882 was a follower of the sea. He was captain of the barkentine Pilsnol and Hahl for several years while in the employ of the great shipping firm of Holt & Inachsen, of Stavanger, Norway.

In 1883 Mr. Cederbergh came to America and in November of that year came to Portland, where he has since resided, with the exception of a few months spent in Alaska at different times. For the last five years he has been the local representative of the New York Metal & Reduction Company, of Buffalo, and the Good Hope Bay Mining Company, of Chicago, with offices in the Commercial block. He speaks the Scandinavian tongue fluently, as well as German and English, and is thoroughly qualified to manage the details of the office to which he has just been appointed. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, the Woodmen of the World, the Arctic Brotherhood and the United Artisans.

AT THE THEATERS

What the Press Agents Say.

"THE GEISHA" TONIGHT.

Beautiful Japanese Musical Comedy Presented by Pollard Lilliputians.

At the Marquam Grand Theater tonight and tomorrow night the Pollard Lilliputian Opera Company will give a regal presentation of "The Geisha." This piece was originally produced in London, where it scored the biggest success of any musical comedy ever produced in the world's capital. It has been translated into French, German and Dutch, and has duplicated its London success in every country in which it has been given.

Special scenery and costumes made and purchased in Japan is carried by the company, so the Geisha tonight will be a deep into the fairyland of the gentle, hospitable people who wear the top-knot at home and the plug hat of civilization abroad.

At the matinee tomorrow, Saturday, "Pinduro" will be the bill. Bring the children. Seats are now selling for next week's opera.

Last Nights at Columbia.

The final event of the Columbia Stock Company is announced for Sunday night and the few remaining opportunities to see its members will doubtless be eagerly embraced by those whose pleasure they have ministered to so well during the past 20 weeks. "Blessings brighten as they take their flight" and the departure of the Columbia favorites arouses widespread regret in all circles. Their final offering, "A Contented Woman," is a bright, breezy farce-comedy on the political equality of the sexes and bristles with witticisms and repartees. The last performance will be Sunday night. Regular Saturday and Sunday matinees.

Tonight has been set apart as a special night at the Columbia for Woodmen of the World and their families, and many of this order have already purchased seats for the evening. Hoyt's farce-comedy, "A Contented Woman," which has been drawing large houses all week, is the attraction.

SEAT SALE TOMORROW.

Big Rush Anticipated for the Kreizer Recital at the Empire.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the seats for the violin recital by Fritz Kreizer will be put on sale, and from the constant inquiries and the widespread interest that all teachers and music lovers are taking in the event, there is the promise of a tremendous house to greet the young Austrian. His tour, from his very first appearance in New York, has been one of the most sensational things on record, this season or any other.

Here is a young man unspotted by adulation, whose playing shows the most enthusiastic carelessness, and unwearied dexterity of bow and finger.

He is absolutely dazzling with the clear, clean brilliance of his technique, and the intellectual force, as well as the manly virility which shows in every movement, justifies one of the Eastern critics, who call Kreizer "the bright particular star in the constellation of Stradivarius."

The concert will take place at the Empire Theater next Tuesday evening. The tour of the violinist is under the direction of Lois Steers and Wynn Coman.

BURNS' STORY OF THE MINE

He Gives Lie to Claimant of Portland Mine.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, March 30.—In the Portland mining suit today, James F. Burns, the defendant, narrated the events which preceded the discovery of gold on the Portland and Bobtail No. 2 claims. He said Doyle, the plaintiff, offered to work for him because Doyle had nothing else to do. After Doyle returned to Colorado Springs, Burns found gold on one claim and John Harman found gold on the other. Harman was then given a third interest in the Portland. Though the Portland was partnership property, Burns said he himself paid the expense of patenting it and Harman bought material to build a shaft house, while Doyle contributed no money. Much of the evidence given by Burns was contradictory of statements made by Doyle on the witness-stand ten days ago. Burns declared he never advised Doyle to give perjured testimony in the Colorado case of O'Haire vs. Burns. He also said he never authorized Doyle or anyone else to dig up the Portland claim stake and did not learn that this was done until some time afterward. Burns testified that he found that O'Haire intended bringing suit against Doyle, as well as against himself, and that he went to tell Doyle about it. The latter then put most of his stock in Burns' name to protect it. Burns immediately transferred it to Kate Burns, his sister, as trustee. The dividend checks were sent to her and she sent them to Doyle, as endorsements on the checks show. When Doyle settled his case with O'Haire, Burns said, he paid over the dividends he had held on some other stock he had been holding for Doyle. At that time, the witness said, Doyle did not make a demand for any stock. Says Bribery is Not a Felony. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 30.—The Supreme Court today issued an EXTRAORDINARY PIANO BAR-GAINS.

For the next few days, My large stock of pianos which was damaged by fire some time ago has been repaired, and all but seven of the instruments are sold. As I don't want to pay another month's rent for the store where the repairing has been done, I wish to take these pianos over to my store on Sixth street, which is overcrowded with new pianos. Will you help me to make room? Seven pianos in the next few days, and lucky will be the purchaser of every one of the seven pianos, whether new or those that were damaged. A. W. Mayer, 74 Sixth street.
