

BLUE AND GRAY

Welcome Given Roosevelt in Kentucky.

UNION IS HIS THEME

He Rides Through Avenues of People at Louisville.

ALL CHEER WITH ENTHUSIASM

Governor Beckham Extols His Character and Ability—Dash Through Indiana and Illinois Towns.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 4.—In the shadow of a magnificent bronze statue of Thomas Jefferson, just in front of the architecturally pleasing courthouse of Jefferson County, President Roosevelt today, in something less than 15 minutes, delivered a notable address to a crowd that extended for two blocks on the east and west sides of the speaker's stand, which jammed intersecting avenues and overran the broad lawns which skirt the square.

The President's welcome to Kentucky was typical of the state, and his reference in his speech to "a united country," his greeting of Confederate veterans as "my comrades," and his allusion to the square of the gray who bore aloft at the head of the procession of escort the "flag of one united country," greatly pleased those who could hear him.

The President was in Louisville but two hours, but not a moment was lost. His reception in the residence section of the city was cordial, as he passed through the business section, it was thoroughly demonstrative of hearty good will, and at the speaking stand and on the short drive over the business section it was an assured ovation. The trip from Cincinnati was uneventful, and threatening when the President arrived, but before the downtown district had been reached the sun broke through the clouds and shone gloriously. Everywhere crowds were enormous, but orderly, and, barring a little confusion in front of the speaker's stand, the police arrangements were excellent.

The President was greatly pleased at the cordiality of the crowds, and much touched over the presentation of three magnificent souvenirs, reminiscent of Abraham Lincoln, which occurred a few moments before his train departed for the Southwest.

BLUE AND GRAY GREET HIM
Great Outpouring of People Hears Him Speak at Louisville.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 4.—President Roosevelt and party arrived in Louisville this morning at 9 o'clock. The trip from Cincinnati was without incident.

A moment after the train stopped a detail of state militia stationed in the Horse Shoe building, two miles from the city, where the Executive left his train, fired the Presidential salute of 21 guns. A crowd of several thousands, including 300 children from several institutions, surrounded the train, and as the President made his appearance, he was greeted with hearty cheers.

The weather was cool, but the sky was only thinly overcast. The President was welcomed to Louisville by Acting Mayor Paul C. Barth, in the absence of Mayor Grainger, who is ill, and by Hon. L. Murray, chairman of the general committee. The President responded briefly, and was then escorted to his carriage a few steps away, where he was seated with Secretary Loeb, Governor Beckham and Mr. Murray. Preceded by a detail of mounted police and by a mounted civilian escort bearing the President's colors, the President's carriage moved forward, the procession being under way in a few minutes, with General John B. Castleman acting as grand marshal.

of buildings were occupied, while the street below was a mass of humanity. The various streets in Fourth street were lavish, the Custom-House being especially attractive.

The President arrived at the speaker's stand at 10 o'clock. He was introduced in a few words by Governor Beckham. The crowd around the speaker's stand was limited to the lines of buildings on the various streets, and at times seemed beyond the control of the police. Not one-fifth of those in sight of the President could hear his remarks. The President spoke less than 15 minutes and was heartily cheered.

Beckham Praises Roosevelt.
In introducing the President, Governor Beckham said:
Ladies and Gentlemen: Not only the people of Louisville, but the people of all Kentucky, rejoice in welcoming the President of the United States to this city. Regardless of all political differences, we are here to do honor to the Chief Magistrate of the country, but also to Theodore Roosevelt, the man. (Great applause.)

President of All the People.
Governor Beckham and you, my fellow-Americans, (Applause) from any man would indeed be gratified to be greeted in this way by such an audience, and to introduce to you the man who has introduced me, Governor Beckham. (Applause.)

In the dark days—now, keep just as quiet as you can, and do not make the mistake of trying to bring them up merely so that everything shall be as easy as possible, but so that they shall be able to do the best that can be done with life, which is certain to be a little rough at best. Teach them not to shrink difficulties, but to overcome them.

NEWS OF A DAY'S DOINGS THROUGHOUT THE STORE CRISPLY TOLD
Two sessions today—Store open at 8 A. M. as usual. Recess at 11:30 until 2 o'clock. Afternoon session 2 to 6. Many men of many minds. However we may look upon the evangelistic movement that has swept through our beautiful city like a mighty tidal wave, there is after all but one way to judge it—by RESULTS. Certainly it has harmed no one. If it has saved one poor drunkard, and sent him home a MAN to his wife and children, to be to them a husband and a father in the full meaning of the words; if it has changed one poor human being from a besotted, bestial thing into a MAN—the noblest work of God—then it's been worth all the time, all the effort, all the money that's been expended. ONE MAN is worth it all. In full sympathy with the work of elevating man, we pause in our store work today for a few hours to pay that respect we feel—"An unusual thing for stores to do?" perhaps—but stores, if right stores, are human. This is a human store and joins with others of its sort today in a work for humanity. During sessions we'll be busy—read why.

Styles Were Never So Smart. All is Easter Readiness here in the Salons of Dress.
Women's Suits, Skirts, Waists and Wraps.
Brimming over with newness and correct tailoring.

Tailors have seemingly exhausted ingenuity in style treatments in the Covert Jackets this season, as shown in inexpensive as well as in the higher-priced. And, a low price doesn't mean an indifferent style that is manifestly inferior—at least it doesn't at this great style store. Just for example, there are two or three styles of jackets at $5.00. Smart, stylish covers. We mention this as going to show the thoroughness of our own system; for with stores, as with men, the store that does best the little things—gives most at the little prices—is the store most apt to give best, all-round attention to styles, details of finish and values. Style, of itself, costs nothing at this store. It is a constituent element of all the garments we show—a necessary "condition precedent" to our acceptance of a tailor's handiwork. And in no line is this more evident than in the VERY BECOMING MODELS THAT COMPOSE OUR COVERT JACKET STOCKS. Any figure can be fitted—ditto purse—$5.00 to $50, with plenty of way stations twist these price extremes.

See the beautiful BLACK SILK and PONGEE COATS for evening or calling wear. The silks also include—in the taffetas—brown, grays and white; also the modish, stunning checks so popular with smart dressers. The Pongees are superb in their simple elegance $6.50 to $150 and all the between prices.
