Trials of a Game Warden.

Milwaukee Sentinel. "Game Wardens lead a strenuous exis-tence, it is said, and I know that some of them have to be pretty shrewd to carry out the work for which they are appointed." said M. L. Ferguson.

"I was told a story in a little town out on the other edge of the state the other day which bears out this statement.

'A game warden found a man spearing pickerel through the ice. At the side of the little shanty in which the fishing was done lay a large pickerel. The game warden stole to the hut and threw open the door

"Did you spear this pickerel?" he asked. 'I did that.'

" Did that." " Did you know it is against the law" "Well you see that the fish isn't dead," was the assured response. I have been spearing catish, and that pickerel kept getting in the way. I had to jab it light-ly and lay it on the ice until I finish fishg. Then I will put it back." "The game warden walked off."
