

TAKES LIVE WOLF

President Seizes Its Jaws With Hands.

A GREAT COWBOY FEAT

He Follows This by Slaying Big Rattlesnake.

GREAT SPORT IN OKLAHOMA

Stay May Be Prolonged Till Saturday—Banquet at Frederick Proposed—His Trip to Colorado.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 11.—President Roosevelt featured the second day of his hunt in the big pasture by capturing alive a full-grown and combative coyote without a scratch. The prairie wolf had been overtaken and "downed" by the dogs and, while the animal was fighting them, the President slipped from his horse and caught the wolf by its jaws, rendering it helpless.

This feat, which is accomplished by but few plainmen and cowboys, brought forth a round of applause from those who witnessed it. The guide, John Abernathy, who is noted as the champion wolf-catcher of the Southwest, captured the first wolf on Monday in this manner, and at that time the President announced his intention of imitating the feat. Seven other wolves were caught during the day, all being taken by the usual method of allowing the dogs to finish the animal.

Another incident of the day was the capture of a live rattlesnake by a deaf and dumb Indian. A Mexican employe refused to stay in the tent in which the rattler was deposited and for his timidity his face was rubbed with grease from a polecat. This is an old form of punishment among the cowboys and is harmless.

It is reported from points contiguous to the pasture reserve that the President is so greatly pleased with the sport and outing which he is enjoying that he may prolong his stay until Saturday. It cannot be learned here whether he has fully decided upon changing his programme, but in case he remains in the reserve he will likely leave in time Saturday to arrive at his Colorado hunting-ground Monday. A report from Frederick states that a light rain has fallen, but will not interfere in any way with the hunt. The President is quoted as saying that he expects tomorrow will be the most interesting day of his chase.

The pasture reserve, where the hunt is in progress, is a tract of 48,000 acres reserved from settlement within the Kiowa-Comanche country was opened. It is all under fence, and is being leased to cattlemen.

DOZEN WOLVES ARE CAUGHT

President Kills a Six-Foot Rattler—Will Prolong the Hunt.

FREDERICK, Okla., April 11.—The President says he is enjoying his hunt in the big pasture more than any other single event in his life, and that he would not miss it for $10,000. Yesterday he witnessed the capture of four wolves, three of which were taken by the pack of trained dogs and the fourth was captured alive by J. R. Abernathy, the famous wolf-hunter. At sight of this performance he promised to duplicate the feat. None of the party doubted his courage, but to-day, after a wolf chase, he sprang from his horse and leaped upon the straggling wolf, which was beset by the dogs, and the crowd cheered him lustily.

To date 12 wolves have been caught. These are all carefully weighed. The President will use this data in writing an article for a magazine. The President is more than pleased at the manner in which the people of this community are giving him a "square deal" by remaining away from the pasture. He says he may remain here until Saturday, as he appreciates the fairness of the Western people.

The President is almost constantly in the lead of the horsemen, as he is furnished the fastest horses in the country. Once today he ran upon a six-foot rattler, which leaped at him four times. He killed this with his 12-inch quirt.

In case the President leaves here before Saturday, he says that tomorrow will be the most strenuous day of his life.

Six-Deputy Daniel S. Flynn and Governor Ferguson will arrive here Wednesday, and expect to see him next day. A banquet will be tendered those gentlemen, and a number of Lewiston people have been invited here for the occasion.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO MOUNTAINS

Precautions for President's Safety on Colorado Trip.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 11.—President Roosevelt's special train is scheduled to start from this city on its run into the Rocky Mountains over the Colorado Midland Railroad at 5:30 o'clock Friday night. Owing to heavy snows in the vicinity of Red Stone, the destination has been changed to New Hope, 12 miles west of Glenwood, from which point the party will start for camp.

In the pilot train, which will be run five minutes ahead of the special, will be General Superintendent J. J. Yining's private car, No. 96, and an accommodation coach for newspaper correspondents.

In Mr. Yining's car will be Mr. Vining, W. J. Black, superintendent of machinery; C. H. Speer, general passenger agent; and F. H. Emmons, advertising agent.

Attached to the President's train will be the private car of General Manager G. W. Valley, of the Midland, in which will be Mr. Valley and Traffic Manager H. C. Bush. One of the biggest engines on the Midland will pull the special. By special request the President's car will be at the end of the train.

No attempt will be made at fast time, but the special will have right of way over the road. Every train to be passed will be sidetracked at least 20 minutes before the special is due.

franchise-tax case, which has been pending before the various courts of the state and Nation since the law was enacted six years ago. While the papers in the case mention only a few large New York City corporations which have taken up the matter, every corporation in the state, large or small is interested in the result. If the decision of the Court of Appeals of this state is sustained, the various corporations in the aggregate have to pay over to the tax collectors in various counties more than $25,000,000.

FISCAL POLICY IS DEFINED.

Balfour Cabinet Tells What Colonial Conference Would Do.

LONDON, April 11.—In the House of Lords today the proposition to hold a Colonial fiscal conference in 1906 was lengthily discussed on the motion of Lord Balfour of Burleigh, Conservative, asking the government to explain candidly the position under which the colonies would be represented and how far the decisions would be held binding upon the government and the United Kingdom.

Lord Balfour of Burleigh said the whole question was vital. He accused Premier Balfour of not being candid, and said the constituencies, before they were appealed to for sanction to hold the conference, should have the fullest information. He added that the whole fiscal controversy had been pushed and maneuvered by those favoring the preferential taxation of food. Before beginning to negotiate with the colonies the approval of the country should first be secured.

The Duke of Marlborough, Under Secretary for the Colonies, in behalf of the government, opposed the motion. He said the Premier had already plainly outlined the policy of the government in this matter and if the government remained in office or was returned by a general election prior to 1906, a colonial conference would be called and it would be attended by the representatives of the self-governing colonies and India. He could not say if the crown colonies would be represented. No decision of the conference would be held binding until approved by the people of the United Kingdom at a general election and by the Parliaments of the colonies represented.

The discussion continued throughout the night session. The motion was finally negatived without division.

Lord Lansdowne, who wound up the debate for the government, said the conference would serve the useful purpose of discussing plans of mutual benefit for both sides. He knew perfectly well there were certain limitations beyond which a conference could not go. The colonies never would agree to change their fiscal systems, which change would wipe out industries upon which they had expended their energy, while the United Kingdom would not be likely to listen to any changes which proposed increasing the price of food or raw material. The delegates to the conference would be informed that they were not authorized to discuss any proposals involving protection.

Lord Guescheff said the explanation was satisfactory and the matter was no longer urgent. Apparently the conference could decide nothing, and the country would be really free for years to come from discussing the fiscal question.

KAISER ARRIVED AT CORFU.

British and German Warships Salute, King Gives Banquet.

CORFU, Greece, April 11.—The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with Emperor William on board, arrived here today. The British admiral now in these waters dressed and manned ship, and the usual salutes were exchanged. The King of Greece started out at 6 o'clock in the morning on the royal yacht, absolutely to meet the Emperor, but took the wrong direction and missed the Hohenzollern. Torpedo-boats were dispatched to apprise King George of Emperor William's arrival.

The Emperor landed at 6 o'clock this afternoon amid the thunder of the guns of the British and German warships in the harbor, and was greeted by King George, who introduced local officials, conveying an address of welcome. A state banquet and fireworks display were held this evening.

Emperor William conferred on King George a German Admiralship.

MADRID WORKMEN FURIOUS.

Riot Grows Out of Indignation at Reservoir Disaster.

PARIS, April 11.—Dispatches received here through official channels show that the rioting on the Calle San Bernado, Madrid, yesterday, between workmen and police, was much more serious than was at first reported. Troops were sent to assist the police and the soldiers fired on the rioting men. The rioters stoned windows and otherwise did much damage. The affair grew out of the excitement among the working classes following loss of life due to the collapse of the reservoir. Saturday, the feeling had increased until the populace now is showing a menacing attitude against the government. The latter has decided not to declare a state of siege, but the authorities have taken urgent measures to suppress any attempted renewal of the disorders.

YOUNG TED A FLIRT

President's Eldest Son in Disgrace at School.

HAS TO STAND IN CORNER

Caught Flirting With Girl Students, He is Punished, With Two Others, by Stern Principal, Who Makes Girl Confess.

ROANOKE, Va., April 11.—(Special.)—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., son of President Roosevelt, was one of a party of boys who stood for 30 minutes with their faces in the corner while the rest of the company enjoyed the dance at one of the hospitable Virginia homes at Abingdon, where he had been visiting for the last week.

Teddy's companions were the sons of Douglas Robinson, of New York City, and Dan Trigg, Jr., of Abingdon. This humiliation of the youngsters was the penalty for flirting with schoolgirls at the Stonewall Jackson Institute, in that city, and was imposed by Miss Kate Hunt, principal of that institution. The young lads were taking a stroll around the grounds of the school on Sunday afternoon when at a distance on the campus they met a party of the pretty students, and young Trigg proceeded to introduce his friends.

As it happened, one of the faculty saw the occurrence, and the young gallants were forced to move on. The girls were called before the faculty, and one said: "I declare I did not say a word except 'Please pass on; you'll get us into trouble,'" but finally one pleaded guilty and said she couldn't resist the temptation to have a little fun, and she was confined to her room for a week.
