ALL FOLLOW THE LEAD Land-Fraud Defendants File Pleas of Abatement.

It has become fashionable in land fruad society to file pleas of abatement, and yesterday morning C. A. Watson, George D. Barnard and Clarence B. Zachary fol lowed the lead of Senator Mitchell and the rest by depositing such documents with the clerk of the Federal Court. Mr. Watson was indicted at the first session of the grand jury for conspiracy in con-nection with the Butte Creek land case, and under this charge asked and was given until Friday next to file his plea. The other pleas were filed under the sep arate perjury indictments returned by the jury on Saturday last. All of the abatement proceedings will hinge on the result which will be argued on Friday morning If the defense in this case should be able to show cause why the plea should be granted and the indictments quashed as prayed, then the pleas filed by the de-rendants in other cases, being practically identical, would share in the decision and all indictments returned by the jury would be null and void. The question will be decided on Friday morning by argument between F. J. Heney, for the Govern-ment, and A. S. Bennett, for the defense. J. H. Booth appeared yesterday morning and arranged his bonds of $6000 in the two indictments returned against him. Other defendants are being notified to appear and give bonds and it is expected that all will give sureties by the end of

TRY KRIBS CHARGE FIRST

Government Opposes Mitchell's Desire As to Order of Cases.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washagton, April 12.-According to officials of the Interior Department, the Government will endeavor to thwart Senator Mitchell's plan of being first tried on the indictment for accepting $2000 from S. A. D. Puter The District Attorney will, it is believed, make every effort first to call Mitchell on the charge of accepting money from Frederick A. Kribs for advancing his cases in the Land Office. This is by far the strongest case against Mitchell, according to the officials. There is every confidence that, if this case is tried first, the finding will be for the Government, and, if Senator Mitchell shall be convicted on that indictment, it is thought there will be more chance of convicting him on other indictments than would be the case should his first trial result in acquittal, It is said that the indictment based on uter's testimony is not strong, and the Government officials are said to be very apprehensive that this case will be decided against them if it is first brought into court. Speaking of Mitchell's pleadings yesterday an official thoroughly familiar with the Oregou land frauds said today:

"Senator Mitchell gives to the country the impression that he is afraid of one in-dictment, but not of the other. He takes takes refuge behind alleged irregularities in his indictment to postpone trial in one instance, but waives aside these same rregularities and seeks early trial on Another. Senator Mitchell is, of course, acting entirely within his rights, but the impression he has given out reflects no credit upon himself."
