Parliament Debates Motion Aimed to Draw Out Liberal Leader on Issue, but He Gives No Particulars.

LONDON, April 12.-Home rule for Ireland was the subject of discussion at tonight's session of the House of Commone. It came up on the motion of an Irish Unionist member, framed with the purpose of drawing out Sir Henry Camp-bell-Bannerman (Liberal), and with the expectation that the opposition would evade the issue, as the government has the fiscal question. For the last few weeks the Ministerial benches have been empty on private members' night, but tonight the government was well repre-sented. Premier Balfour was greeted with ironical cheers when he entered the

It was the first time this session that an Irish Unionist had secured a chance to introduce a home-rule motion. The orition declined to dodge the issue and to imitate the government's recent attitude toward private motions on the fiscal question, and, when Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman rose to speak, the oppo sition shouted in unison: "He didn't

Mr. Tuff (Conservative) called the attention of the House to speeches by certain members of the opposition on the question of home rule for Ireland, and moved that, "in view of the conflicting statements by various leaders on the sub-ject of home rule, the House deems it expedient for the member for Stirling Scrough (Sir Henry Campbell-Banner-man) explicitly to declare whether or not It is his intention to recommend to the electors of the United Kingdom the polley of establishing a Parliament in Ire-land." Mr. Tuff quoted from speeches by Lord Boseberry, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, Mr. Bedmond, Earl Grey and others on different occasions as showing the widely divergent opinion of the opposition on the question of home rule. Sir Walter Plummer (Conservative) seconded the motion. He said it was important for the country to know on which wide of the fence the opposition proposed Bir Henry Campbell-Bannerman spoke at some length. He sarcastically and caustically touched the sore spots of the government and congratulated Mr. Balfour on his presence in the House tonight when an abstract motion was up, in-volving "a question which would not come before this Parliament." The speaker declined to give a direct reply to the motion. He said it was not necessary to relate the record of the Liberal party. hich for 20 years had labored unceas ingly to secure good government for Ire-land. He said the principle underlying these efforts was that self-government should be granted. He would endeavor to oring this to a successful tesue, but in what way and by what plan it was preposterous to ask him to say. He believed the main purpose of the motion was to afford the Unionists an opportunity to disport themselves with some evidence of unity.

John E. Redmond, who followed, denot as a favor, but as a right. If there were the smallest reasonable chance of success, he would not heeltate to advise his countrymen to end the present situa-tion by an armed revolt; but they de-mired to terminate the ancient quarrel upon terms satisfactory and honorable to both nations. He thanked Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman for his declaration, but said the Radical party would find this question an urgent and insistent one, which would knock loudly at the door of the next Parliament.

Premier Balfour spoke briefly, alluding tronically to the dissensions of the opposition leaders on the Irish policy and seclaring that if the Liberals returned a large majority at the next elections Irishmen might whistle, but if they emerged with a small majority they would cry in beaven's name for justice to Ireland. It being now midnight, Mr. Tuff invoked losure, which the Speaker refused to apply, and the debate was adjourned.

Czar Greets Bearer of Confidential Letter From Roosevelt.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 12 -- (11:25 M.)-Ambassador Meyer this aftermoon presented his letters of credence to Emperor Nicholas at Tsarskoe Selo. manifested at the first interview between the Emperor and the new American Ambassador, owing to the widespread belief that President Roosevelt be conveyed to both belligerents that he stands ready, upon their mutual request, to undertake the promotion of peace. It is supposed that Mr. Meyer tals afternoon delivered a confidential communication to His Majesty from Mr. Roosevelt; but, so far as is ascertained, the Emperor did not discuss the

Accompanied by Secretaries Eddy and Bliss and attended by four chamberlains of the court in full uniform, he traveled by a special imperial train to Tsarskoe-Selo At the station the party was met by Count Hendrikoff, master of ceremonies, and a number of court officials. Four golden state carriages were in waiting. The coach occupied by Mr. Meyer and Baron Korff was drawn by six white stallions, with the grooms and footmen in imperial scarlet livery and with outriders on either side. Arrived at the Alexandra Palace, Baron Fredericks, surrounded by court offi-cials, all on blazing steeds, greeted the party. Mr. Meyer was first presented to the Empress mother, to whom in turn he presented the Embassy secretaries Then, preceded by Count Hendrikoff bearing his staff of office and a solemn procession of court functionaries, the Ambassador passed the salons of the Emperor's private apartments. Here Here library grounds the procession haited and the doors of the private receptionroom were thrown open by the Emperor's picturesque turbaned Mamelukes as the personal representative of the President as well as of the Government of the United States, Mr. Meyer advanced alone to meet the Emperor

The letters and credentials presented by Mr. Meyer were in the usual form and were addressed to "His Imperial Majesty, the Autocrat of all the Rus-sias." The audience lasted ten or 15 minutes. Praises Japanese Alliance and Lauds President Roosevelt.

LONDON, April 12-Joseph Chumber lain, presiding at the annual meeting of the Liberal Unionist Club, held today, strongly supported the suggestion of an Anglo-Japanese defensive alliance. He referred to the present Anglo-Japanese alliance as one of the greatest diplomatic achievements of the last quarter of a century, and said the treaty had already justified itself by limiting the area of the terrible conflict which was still going on. The Liberal Unionists, he added, would support Foreign Secretary Lansdowne in his determination to carry out the treaty in its spirit as well as in its letter, and he might say they would be very glad to follow Lord Lansdowne further if the Foreign Secretary thought the policy he had initiated could be extended. Mr. Chamberlain believed that any mutual defensive understanding between Japan and Great Britain would secure for an indefinite period peace in the Far East, and give both Japan and Great Britain accurity in their possessions.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Cham berlain dealt at some length with fiscal matters and the necessity for Great Britain's adopting a system whereby she could retaliate against discrimination and enter into closer commercial bonds with the colonies.

At the present moment, he said, "the President of the United States, is one of the ablest, one of the strongest and one of the most courageous men who ever sat in the Presidential chair. He is a patriot, and he has openly declared that one of his great objects and desires is to connect the United States more closely with our Dominion of Canada by reciprocity. I do not know what success he may have with his countrymen, but certainly they are in a position to offer very favorable terms to the Dominion. If we reject the idea to us, is it too much to expect that Can ada may turn in another direction?

CEMENTS UNION WITH BALFOUR

Chamberlain's Speech May End Division in Party.

LONDON, April 12.-Yesterday's Liberal Unionist meeting and Joseph Cham-berlain's speech are considered in the lobbies of Parliament and in the Unionist newspaper organs this morning to have done much to bring Mr. Chamberlain closer in line with the Balfour fiscal ideas. The speeches of the Duke of Marlborough and Lord Lansdowne in the House of Lords on Tuesday had laid down the Cabinet policy that a colonial con-ference to decide the preferential tariff question could only be held after a general election and that the decisions of such a conference must be sanctioned by a second appeal to the country, which a second appeal to the country, which would relegate the sciual application of Mr. Chamberlain's preferential scheme, even if it should be approved by the country, to the somewhat distant future. The fact that Mr. Chamberlain yesterday fully indorsed Lord Lansdowne's speech and went out of his way to ex-press loud admiration for Lord Lans-downe's foreign policy, while the meet-ing subsequently adopted a resolution af-firming adherence to Mr. Balfour's proposal on the subject of a preferential tariff which excludes duties applied for purely protective purposes, is held to indicate that Mr. Chamberlain recognizes the imperative necessity of going slow, and that at his meeting today he will arrive at a satisfactory solution of the points of difference with Mr. Balfour. There is already much talk in the lobbies of Parliament and in the political clubs of Mr. Chamberlain's exhibition of unselfishness and devotion to his party.

BOSTON, April 12.-A statement was made public today by the prudential committee of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions, which yeterday voted to accept $100,000 offered to the board by John D. Rockefeller. Two weeks ago the prudential committee adopted the report of a sub-committee recommending the acceptance of the money, but in view of the strong protest made by the Congregational clergy final action was deferred until yesterday, when a supplementary report was made by the sub-committee. This report together with that of two weeks ago, was adopted. with that of two weeks ago, was adopted. The supplementary report which was made public today, takes up the objections of the protestants and asserts that they are not sufficient to prevent the one of the principal points raised in the report is the claim of the committee that the American board cannot now legally return Mr. Rockefeller's money, because the decisions of the highest court are to the effect that trustees who have once accepted a gift and assumed certain obligations have no power to return the gift and to absolve themselves from these obligations.

The committee holds that by returning the gift, as suggested by the protesting clergymen, the American board would be made responsible not only to those for whose benefit the gift was designed, but also to the present officers' successors. This statement refers to the fact that the board already has used one-half of the board already has used one-nair or Mr. Rockefeller's gift, which was actually cepted February 14. The committee ids that the action proposed by the protestants, namely, the return of the gift, would have been wrong, for it would have expressed "disapprobation and condemnation of a man when he was doing an act of benevolence."

been to confuse the issue and to act con-trary to the Christian spirit. To prevent any man from doing good is a wrong way in which to condemn him for evil. It is as wrong to condemn him when he is doing a good deed as to commend him when he is doing a bad deed." The committee also contends that the board is not organized to decide ques-tions of temperance, economy or social-ism. It is held that the return of the money would be the passing of judgment upon the character of the donor and the business methods he is alleged to have used and this would be a wrong to the church of which he is a member. The mmittee adds:

"Any accusation against him could not in Christian courtesy be acted upon un-less he had first been tried by the church which inderses him as a member in good and regular standing."

Upon the solicitation of Mr. Dunne, the executive committee of the Chicago Employers' Association, the organization which is taking the leading part in the fight against the striking teamsters, visited the City Hall this afternoon and was urged by the Mayor to agree to a settlement of the strike by arbitration. Earlier in the day the employes and the labor leaders were in conference, trying to agree upon some basis of a settlement. The employers offered to arbitrate the teamsters' strike alone, but not that of the garment-workers. The teamsters declared this, would be utterly impossible and the negotiations were declared off.

There were several clashes today between the police and the strike sympathizers, who blocked the strices and harassed the non-union teamsters who have taken the place of the strikers. No one was seriously hurt, however, and tonight Montgomery. Ward & Co. declared that they had been more successful today in making deliveries than at any time since the strike began.

Women's Answer to President on Race Suicide.

Woman's Suffragist Urges Need of Social Heredity and Committee Will Recommend Quality, Not Quantity.

WASHINGTON, April 12.-Amendments to their constitution, increasing representation in the annual executive session as well as in the triennial session, were adopted by the National Council of Women in triennial session today. Miss Susan B. Anthony was designated founder of the International and National Council of Women A defense of war was made by Mrs Belinda S. Balley, of California.

"There is." she said, "a growing sentiment against war. Yet, horrible as war appears in some of its aspects, all its flowers are not red." She spoke of the American wars from 1775 down and said all had been waged in the interests of civilization and progress. In a quiet way the observations of President Roosevelt on the question of race suicide are receiving the attention of some of the prominent delegates. Some of them take issue with the President on the subject and say he should look to the women of his own social set for race suicide. women of the middle classes and the women of the 'submerged half,' as we call it, do not practice race suicide," said one of the delegates. Tomorrow a resolution will be reported on the question of parenthood, which, it is said, will take issue with the President's views on the question of race suicide and will declare that "quality, not quantity" in children is preferable.

Tonight Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National Woman's Suffrage Association, made an address in which she openly spoke har mind on the question of parenthood, saying in part:

"It is said that women should rear more children, but I say that you must first make your country fit to rear children in. We need to make this world safe for children. To do so we must give them social heredity, so that they will be born in safe condi-tions and protected until grown. This cannot be done until women have rights in the state to protect them. We must have city mothers, as well as city fathers. We desire the suf-frage as a means to an end."
