One Bad Throw Gives Game to Oakland.

JUST ONE RUN WAS ENOUGH

Bert Jones Pitches His Finest, and Clark's Unfortunate Error Comes to Spoil Prospect of an Extra Inning Matinee.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE. Yesterday's Scores. Oakland, 1; Portland, 0. San Francisco, 2; Tacoma, 1. Seattle, 1; Los Angeles, 0.

By Will G. MacRae. SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—(Staff Correspondence)—After playing the best game of the Oakland series so far, the Giants were shut out this afternoon by the tune of 1 to 0.

Up until Clark's unfortunate error to McLean, in a mad dash to head off Steve, who was racing for the plate in the eighth canto, the game had the appearance of being another extra-inning affair.

Catcher Byrnes hit down to Clark, and when he did, Streib started for home. Clark had plenty of time to make a perfect play, but he faltered, and the throw was viciously bad.
