

SECRET NOTICE OF CLASS PROCEEDINGS

Object of Hoppers' Meeting to Be Held in Portland Next Tuesday.

BUYERS MUST PAY MORE

Producers Will Be Asked to Sign an Agreement to Take Their Stocks off the Market for Sixty Days.

SALEM, Or., April 19.—(Special.)—To secure an agreement from hoppers to hold their hops for 60 days longer is the chief purpose of the meeting to be held at the Portland Hotel next Tuesday. In the movement which resulted in the calling of this meeting are: Isaac Pincus & Son, of Tacoma, who have 500 bales; Krebs Bros., of Salem, who have 1800 bales; and M. H. Durst, of California, who is a heavy holder of 1904 hops.

The leaders in the movement feel satisfied that the growers will have not already sold are still firm holders, but they want this fact demonstrated in a manner that will be convincing to the buyers. They believe that when the growers are satisfied that the buyers are not to be stampeded they will advance prices until the holders will sell. At present the short sellers among the growers are assuring the buyers that if they wait a while the growers will weaken and there will be a slump in prices. The buyers have only in small quantities to suit their present needs.

"So far as we are concerned," said Conrad Krebs today, "we have no intention of selling before August or September. It won't require any 60-day agreement to keep our hops off the market, and I know that many other growers feel the same way. The story has been told and repeated by some of the dealers who are trying to bear the market that our hops will soon be sold and that there will be a panic among the growers and a slump in prices. It is probably true that if we should dump 1800 bales on the market the price would go down with a rush. But the stories that Jacob Wind, the former is charged with assault with a dangerous weapon on Deputy Fish Warden Smith and Rall, as the result of an altercation as to fishing rights. The charge against Wind is that he carried a gun to a minor. Both men will plead tomorrow.

The indictment of Wind is the sequel of the juvenile court that was held by Judge Ryan Monday, when six young lads of the city were charged with carrying a closed that they had been expending the proceeds of their booty for liquor, which they purchased at one of two saloons or a prominent drugstore in this city. The charge against the boys is that they had been carrying a closed that they had been expending the proceeds of their booty for liquor by the other saloon and the drugstore dealer is being investigated by the authorities.

Bodies Charred by Fire. MISSOULA, Mont., April 19.—What was believed to have been a case of murder and suicide, which has been pending for a mysterious double murder. At the inquest over the remains of Levi T. Drew, white, and Emma Teal, colored, last night it developed that the back door lock of the woman's den had been broken off by an intruder, who after sending a bullet through the head of each of the drunken and hysterical couple, lay on the floor in an effort to conceal the tragedy. The absence of the revolver used in the murder also substantiates the murder theory.

The police are working on the idea that the guilty person is an unknown woman, who is alleged to have said that if the Teal woman and her partner would pay her $200 they owed, she would kill them both.

The bodies of both victims were badly charred by fire. The bodies of both victims were badly charred by fire. The bodies of both victims were badly charred by fire.

SALT LAKE MAKES BIG BID. Offers $30,000 Building for Headquarters of the Woodmen.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 19.—Today a session of the convention of the Pacific Division of the Order of Woodmen of the World was taken up with routine matters. Great interest is being manifested in the election of a successor to Head Council No. 1, which will be held here tomorrow. So far the fight is between Foley and L. I. Boak, of Denver, present head clerk of the order, with A. B. Keith, of Salt Lake, the management choice in the event of a deadlock between the supporters of the two leading candidates.

Salt Lake City is making the most strenuous effort of any of the cities to secure the location of the headquarters of both the Woodmen and the Women of Woodcraft. A telegram was received today from the President of the City Council of Salt Lake pledging the donation of a $30,000 building to the Woodmen for location of their headquarters there, and also a pledge of a $5,000 lot to the women's branch for the location of its headquarters.

None of the other cities that are competing for the location have as yet made any such offer.

Late tonight it was almost certain that L. I. Boak, of Denver, will be the next head council of the order. DRUNKEN CREW OF ORIENT CANNOT MANAGE THE VESSEL.

WRECK IS BARELY ESCAPED

Captain Saunders Finally Lets Go an Anchor When the Tide Whirls His Craft Over Toward Belvedere.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 19.—(Special.)—The schooner Orient went to sea tonight in tow of the tug Pilot. The Orient was bound for Gray's Harbor, and five of her sailors lay helpless in bunka, sleeping off Valjejo whisky, which they had fortified themselves before being on board.

When the Pilot cast off the Orient and returned to port, the currents took charge of the Orient. They carried her close to Mile Rock and missed scraping her sides on Fort Point by but a few feet.

The tide swept the helpless schooner over to Belvedere and Captain Saunders anchored his vessel. With a sober crew the Orient went to sea again and got clear of the land on a spanking breeze.

The result of his work is well evidenced by the healthy condition of the college he is just leaving, and especially the science department. President Brumback is 38 years old. He will leave for his new home early in July.

TURBO TRADE GONE THE EILERS CLAIM OF LIBERALITY AGAIN VERIFIED

British Columbia Lumbermen Ask Protection.

SMALL HOPE OF GETTING IT

Eastern Canada's Interest Favors Free Trade in Lumber and Will Oppose Measures Against American Dumpers.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, April 19.—Taking advantage of the Canadian tariff laws, which permit the free entry of foreign lumber into the Dominion, lumber manufacturers of the Northwest, and especially the British Columbia, are flooding the British Columbia markets, closing small mills and greatly reducing the profits of the larger mills, according to advice of the State Department. American lumber has wrought such havoc in British Columbia that the lumbermen of that province, through a series of lectures, have appealed to the Dominion government to give them a duty on lumber which will save them from damaging competition, if not annihilation, at the hands of American competitors.

The lumber situation in Canada is very similar to that in the United States. The East, older and more thickly settled, has largely exhausted its timber resources and is compelled to go into distant markets for its supply. Canada imposing no duty on lumber, the Eastern provinces have been buying lumber from British Columbia and from the United States. Our own Eastern States are buying almost exclusively from the West, for the tariff of 25 per cent on foreign lumber prohibits Eastern States from buying in Canada. The Eastern States want this tariff removed, believing that under free trade they could get Canadian lumber cheaper than they now get American lumber from our own Northwest.

The existing duty on lumber imposed by the United States is working great benefit to the lumber interests, enabling them not only to supply the home demand and the demand from Eastern States, but successfully to enter Canadian markets, and to export to other parts of America. A great deal of the surplus product of American mills now finds its way into Canada, and is able to compete even with the mills of British Columbia, where there is as much as a five-cent tariff is found in our own Northwestern States.

Naturally the lumbermen of British Columbia kick their small mills have been closed, and the profits of the larger mills have been materially reduced, just on account of American encroachment upon their field. That is why they seek an increase in the tariff on lumber imports, enabling them not only to supply the home demand and the demand from Eastern States, but successfully to enter Canadian markets, and to export to other parts of America. A great deal of the surplus product of American mills now finds its way into Canada, and is able to compete even with the mills of British Columbia, where there is as much as a five-cent tariff is found in our own Northwestern States.

The Legislative Assembly of British Columbia met in annual session February 9, 1905, and the lumber question at once came to the front. On February 15, 1905, a resolution was introduced by a Liberal member endorsing the request made by the lumbermen of British Columbia at a meeting held in Vancouver, B. C., that the Dominion government place an import duty upon foreign lumber brought into Canada. During the debate it was stated and reiterated that the purpose was to keep American lumber out of the province; that the removal of a British tariff had for the past year made a practice of selling their surplus product in British Columbia at rates which compelled the local lumber mills to close down, and that only by imposing an import duty, preventing the so-called "dumping" of American lumber in the province, could the lumbermen of British Columbia be protected. The resolution passed by a unanimous vote in the assembly, and the British government has agreed to take the action.

It is well known that any import duty on lumber is strenuously opposed in Manitoba and other parts of the Dominion. Great interest is felt respecting the action to be taken by the Dominion government.

Members of the British Columbia Loggers' Association has as unanimously presented a petition to the provincial government asking the removal of the tariff on lumber imported into British Columbia and sold to American lumber mills. This tax on all logs cut or landed in British Columbia, as well as the tax on lumber, is a heavy burden on the lumbermen of British Columbia. As soon as the large mills are supplied the small loggers have to find a market in the United States or sell their products at a loss. An effort will be made at the present session of the British Columbia Legislature to remove the restriction complained of that the timber of the province may be cut and used instead of being allowed to remain in the forests or exported, as millions of feet are by the annually, because by the provincial law, the loggers are prevented from disposing of their product in the markets of the United States.

Dr. Hunt Arrives at Seattle With Igorrotes. TO STOP ON PUGET SOUND

Over 300 of the Little Filipinos Were Ready and Anxious to Visit Lewis and Clark Fair.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 19.—(Special.)—Dr. T. K. Hunt reached Seattle tonight with a party of 51 Igorrotes for the Lewis and Clark Exposition. One small Negro boy and three white assistants complete the party. The Igorrotes will be held here for a short time, and may give local exhibitions. Their village on the Trail will be built when the details are settled with the Exposition officials.

A canoe, or native dance, lasting for three days, followed the return of Dr. Hunt's party from St. Louis, and when he sought to gather his party for the trip to Portland over 200 asked to accompany him. Only five persons, including Julio, a native interpreter, are with the Portland as well as the St. Louis party.

One of the natives contracted a severe cold on the trip across the Pacific and died in a local hospital. The others are quartered in a North Seattle house, rented late tonight.

Dr. Hunt, when he left Portland, talked of bringing representatives of five villages to the fair. The fact that the Igorrotes took in $300.00 at St. Louis, while other villages barely paid expenses, decided the company in favor of bringing Bontoc Igorrotes alone.
