

CANDIDATES FOR THE PRIMARIES

Many Republicans and Few Democrats Among Aspirants.

MAYORALTY CHIEF CONTEST

For Nine Offices, Auditor, Treasurer, City Attorney and Six Councilmen, the Minority Party Has No Names to Submit.

Candidate for Republican and Democratic nomination for city offices, who will be voted for in the primaries May 6, are of the following number:	Rep.	Dem.
Mayor	1	1
Auditor	1	1
Treasurer	2	1
City Attorney	1	1
Judge	1	1
Five Commissioners	1	1
Ten Ward Councilmen	83	8
Totals	97	13

All candidates for Republican and Democratic nominations for city offices have come forth from the woods and only those are now in hiding who plan to reveal themselves after the primaries as independent candidates or as nominees of the Socialist and Prohibition parties, which will choose their standard bearers in the old way by convention.

Yesterday was the last day for the brethren who hunger for pie to file their signed petitions for Republican and Democratic nominations and at 5 P. M. City Auditor Devlin closed with a bang the big book containing the record of their names.

Fifty-seven Republicans are eager to serve their party and the public in the 20 jobs which are to be allotted next June. Therefore the Republican aspirants for pie outnumber the jobs three to one.

Few Democrats Anxious. Far different with the Democratic patriots, for only 13 of that brotherhood have come forth to sacrifice themselves on their party's altar and nine of the jobs have not one Democratic suitor.

The nine are the offices of Auditor, treasurer, City Attorney, three Councilmen-at-Large and three Ward Councilmen. The only contests in the Democratic party are for the nomination for Mayor and for Councilman from the Tenth Ward, for each of which nominations two candidates are in the running.

But for Republican nominations several big fights are being waged, the sharpest for Mayor, for which six candidates are striving mightily. Next in intensity is the contest for the nomination for Municipal Judge, which is sought by seven candidates. The five nominations for Councilman-at-Large are craved by 16 aspirants and the nominations for Councilman from the Eighth and Ninth Wards on the East Side of the river by six candidates each.

Only one candidate has appeared for Auditor, T. C. Devlin, incumbent, who seems likely to have little or no opposition in the election in June.

COUNTY AND CITY OFFICIALS INSPECT THE ALBINA FERRY-BOAT, LIONEL R. WEBSTER.

WILL MOVE PLANT

Slaughter-House Gives Up and Will Leave.

OFFERS NO DEFENSE AT ALL

Establishment of Offensive Odors, Where Putrid Meats Are Made Into Sausages, Will Go Outside City Limits.

So overwhelming was the evidence against the defendants in the cases of the city against the Pacific States Packing Company that James M. Neal and his associates have agreed to move the offensive slaughter-house from Macadam road and Seymour street to a point outside the corporate limits of Portland.

Without offering a bit of evidence in their behalf, or even attempting to disprove the testimony of witnesses who swore that putrid meats were manufactured into sausages at the plant of the company, the defendants threw up their hands and capitulated.

At first, the defendants were very defiant, and threatened to carry the case to the Supreme Court of the United States. Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald, at the request of City Officer Bierdorf, filed charges of maintaining a public nuisance and of operating a slaughter-house within the city limits, contrary to law. From the outset it was Mr. Fitzgerald's purpose to close up the plant, and in pursuance of his motive he summoned numerous witnesses who swore that odors almost unbearable came from the plant, and that cattle, sheep and hogs were slaughtered there.

Sensational statements were made by Thomas Malone and James Millstein, former employees of the company, who swore that to their personal knowledge putrid pork and meat from steers had been manufactured into sausage at the plant. The testimony of Malone and Millstein, although extremely damaging to the defense, went unimpeached.

When the case was called yesterday morning before Municipal Judge Hogus, Attorney Milton Smith, who assisted Mr. Fitzgerald in the prosecution, appeared and stated that the defense had decided to quit, and, if agreeable to all parties, put up a bond to the city, as a guarantee that the plant should be moved in the near future.

Without the closing of the plant was the result sought for by the prosecution, this announcement came as a great and glad surprise, and was accepted by Judge Hogus and Mr. Fitzgerald. The cases against the defendants were continued until next Thursday, at which time it is expected that a definite time will be set for the removal of the slaughter-house.

Rowe Will Be Candidate.

H. S. Rowe, candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor, and general agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, arrived home yesterday morning from an extended Eastern trip. FERRY RUNS WELL

Lionel R. Webster Is Given Another Trial.

OPERATED ON NEW ROUTE

County Commissioners and Judge Witness the Trial—Mayor Williams Proposes Month's Commission for Practical Test.

The new Albina ferry Lionel R. Webster was given another trial on the lower route yesterday. It was done to convince the county officials that the boat is what the builders represent it to be. County Commissioners Barnes and Lightner and Judge Webster were on hand and made a number of trips. Mayor Williams was also there, as well as George H. Howell, of the Executive Board, Fred H. Bailin, who designed the boat, and Joseph Pasquet, the contractor.

Under command of Captain Foster about 30 trips were made back and forth on the zig-zag ferry course. The county commissioners thoroughly examined the boat and closely watched her running. She showed up even better than on her former trial on the route. Occasionally a landing would not be made as true as with a cable boat, but this was recognized by all as a matter that related rather to the skipper than the craft. Even the most skillful pilot would have difficulty in handling a boat of her construction without experience. That the ferry steers well was proved conclusively when she was operated for a month at Vancouver during last winter's storms.

Two Foreign Lumber Cargoes.

The schooner Alec T. Brown left down the river yesterday morning, bound for Manila. She is under charter to the Quartermaster's Department and carries 1,045,000 feet of lumber, worth $16,000. The material is a part of the Government contract recently let here. The remainder of the shipment will be made on the schooner J. W. Cline, which sailed from San Pedro April 5, and is about due here.

Completing Coast Smelter Trust.

NEW YORK, April 20.—President F. W. Bradley, of the Bunker Hill & Sullivan Mining Company, and W. R. Rust, manager of the Tacoma smelter, are in this city to complete details in connection with the proposed smelting combination on the Pacific Coast. It is expected that the new firm will be capitalized for from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000. It will be a close corporation, all the stocks taken by parties directly concerned in the merger. Several conferences of those interested already have been held, but no official information as to the plans has been given out.

German Liner Fouls a Buoy.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The Hamburg-American Line steamer Moltke, which left her pier here today for Hamburg, fouled a channel buoy in the lower bay. The buoy apparently was in the steamer's propeller. The steamer displayed signals indicating she was not under control and later ran aground at the junction of Swash and Gedney Channels, lower bay. Several tug boats were sent and will attempt to pull her off with the rising tide.

Hamburg-American Ship Launched.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The new Hamburg-American steamer America was launched here today in the presence of thousands of people, including Walter Long, Chief Secretary for Ireland, and Lord Londonderry, Lieutenant of County Down. The vessel is intended for the intermediate service between Hamburg and New York. Her tonnage is about 22,500 with a capacity of 16,000 tons of cargo and about 400 passengers and crew.

Did Not Aid Deserters.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—United States Commissioner Heacock made an order today discharging Captain Heinrich Tinn, master of the German ship Magdalena, from custody. He was arrested for allowing four members of his crew to desert after being notified that they had been denied a landing by the immigration officers. The testimony did not show that Captain Tinn connived at their escape. Captain Schenk, of the steamer Luxor, was arrested on a similar charge. As he is in a hurry to take his vessel out of port, and clearance papers have been denied him, he pleaded guilty and was held to answer to the charge before the grand jury.

Marine Notes.

The Sandhurst will complete her hay cargo at Albers dock today.

The steamer Roanoke sailed for Southport ports last night with a full cargo and a large passenger list.

Balfour, Guthrie & Co. have chartered the American ship Hecla, now at San Francisco, to load lumber here for Shanghai.

Captain J. O. Church, of the steamer M. F. Henderson, has been appointed master of the Hercules. Captain James Smith takes command of the Henderson.

ON TRAINING OF CHILDREN

Members of Association Give Some Valuable Advice.

There was a guest of honor at the Home Training Association yesterday, Mrs. E. L. Hart, the association's former secretary, bringing her baby, Edward, who is only 1 month old. He is a very fine baby, both in appearance and conduct, and after the afternoon programme, his mother's friends crowded about him and gave him a cordial and admiring reception.

Mrs. A. H. Lomax read an excellent paper on "Money-Making and Money-Spending."

"To matter what our position in life may be," said Mrs. Lomax, "our children should not be allowed to grow up with ideas concerning money matters. It is our duty to see that they are taught how to save and spend, as the future of the man or woman depends much on his or her knowing how to save and spend. No rule, however, can be laid down, as children differ and must be dealt with individually.

"The fact that you entrust a child with money might develop selfishness and responsibility in one child, while another would have no higher ambition than to go and spend the money foolishly and return for more, while still another might hold it up and become miserly. All these traits would be natural, and the sooner they are brought out and developed or corrected, the better for the child and future man. Great care should be taken to check any propensity to spend, as to say, he must not expect to be paid for every little chore he does."

Mrs. Lomax is in favor of a savings bank and a small weekly allowance, the child being taught that it is wise never to spend all the money he has saved up.

"Encourage him early," she continued, "to earn his own money. Teach him that it is right and noble for him to do so, and he will be proud to do it. Do not let him feel that it is compulsory but that in so doing he is getting an insight into business which will prove valuable in the years to come. Now that he has begun to make his own money, give him the money he has saved from babyhood, in one sum, take him to a bank and let him enter his own name in the ledger. This will impress him with the importance of having a 'bank account' of his own, and he will be the more anxious to work and to see the sum grow.

"Now give him a lesson in spending his money. Begin by letting him pay for his own clothes, giving him a voice in the choosing of a suit. In so doing he will appreciate their value all the more, besides learning how to buy for himself. In smaller matters let him use his own judgment entirely, never forgetting to bestow praise when his judgment has been particularly good."

During the discussion which followed, many interesting points in regard to children's pocket money were brought out among them the fact that when children are given candy and nuts at dinner they do not leave for them between meals.

One mother, who evidently knows how to be young with her children, said that she found making candy for the children, letting them help, was very delightful to all concerned. Another said that her boys had always liked to make not only candy but other delicacies.

OLYMPIA BRINGING JAPANESE

Steamer Leaves Honolulu for Seattle With Large Number of Laborers.

HONOLULU, April 20.—This afternoon the steamer Olympia sailed for Seattle, carrying 37 Japanese men and 18 Japanese women, who, it is reported, are under contract to work on the Great Northern Railroad in Montana. The Olympia is also carrying back to Seattle the cargo of coal local merchants refused to purchase.

Soon after the steamer Olympia arrived at Honolulu the coal merchants learned that the vessel intended taking from the islands a large number of Japanese laborers. When Captain Truebridge found he could not sell private the 1600 tons of coal carried by the Olympia, he offered it last Tuesday at public auction. There were no bidders. The merchants of Honolulu declare that a repetition of such trips as the one made by the Olympia may seriously injure the labor supply of the Hawaiian Islands.

How a Woman Was Freed from Troubles That Had Made Life Wretched for Many Years.

The immediate causes of headaches vary, but most of them come from poor or poisoned blood. In anemia the blood is scanty or thin; the nerves are imperfectly nourished and pain is the way in which they express their weakness. In colds the blood absorbs poison from the mucous surfaces, and the poison irritates the nerves and produces pain. In rheumatism, malaria and the grip, the poison in the blood produces like discomfort. In indigestion the gases from the impure matter kept in the system affect the blood in the same way.

The ordinary headache-cures at best give only temporary relief. They deaden the pain but do not drive the poison out of the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on the contrary thoroughly renew the blood and the pain disappears permanently. Women in particular have found these pills an unfailing relief in headaches caused by anemia.

Miss Stella Blocker recently said: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did me a great deal of good. I had headache nearly all the time. After I had taken three boxes of these pills I became entirely well."

"How long had you suffered?" she was asked.

"For several years. I can't tell the exact date when my illness began for it came on by slow degrees. I had been going down hill for many years."

"Did you have any other ailments?"

"I was very weak and sometimes I had fever. My liver and kidneys were affected as well as my head."

"How did you come to take the remedy that cured you?"

"I saw in a southern newspaper a statement of some person who was cured of a like trouble by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My physician hadn't done me any good, so I bought a box of these pills. After I had taken one box I felt so much better that I kept on until I became entirely well."

Miss Blocker's home is at Leander, Louisiana. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists. Besides headache they cure neuralgia, sciatica, nervous prostration, partial paralysis and rheumatism.

"their strong holds," she said, "and the neighbor boys, who were allowed in the kitchen by either mother nor maid, fairly overran our house. One time when I was ill I reaped the benefit of the liberty I had given the boys in the daintily-prepared breakfast they brought up to me."

"My blue drawing-room carpet was a splendid thing to play marbles on, and was chalk-marked frequently, but as my husband used to say, 'battered furniture and spots on the carpet were cheaper than cigarettes and bad company.'"

Mrs. R. H. Tate read a valuable article by Mrs. Theodore Berni, published in the Edinborough, as to what to do when the active little people began to say, "Mamma, what can I do now?" The principal point made in this article is that children need to be allowed freedom in their energy, which seems tireless, the mother sympathizing with them fully in work and play.

are clothes that boys call Sunday clothes; you would call them double-wear clothes if your boy ever wore them; we call them "different" from other boys' clothes.

Coat and trousers cut mannish style as the boys like, and they wear the way you like for we make them to stand the hard knocks of "real" boys.

Every finger's length of "Hercules" cloth is pure wool; not a thread masquerades under the disguise of mercerized cotton. The mother of a "Hercules" boy never worries about his getting soaking wet; "Hercules" clothes are shower proof and perspiration proof just like the best of rain coats.

Two sleeve linings where the wear is greatest. When the outer lining wears out around the arm hole just rip it off and you will find underneath a new lining just as good as the first; this feature is only found in "Hercules" clothes—patent applied for.
