Must Obey Inspector.

A leader of the clean-market crusade when asked yesterday if she did not fear that filth markets would rise in their might and seek to decapitate the new inepector replied:

"No; they can't, They won't dare. Be-sides, they would be fighting, not the inspector, but housewives of the city." "But," was interposed, "they might go after her salary."

The Domestic Science leader smiled, and large a salary as director of the School of Domestic Science as she will receive from the city as inspector." The compensation of the inspector is to be $60 a month.

Mailed to Housewives.

Leaders of the clean food crusade have compiled a catalogue of suggestions for housewives to follow in compelling markets to drive out the filth evil. Screens and glass cases for enclosing food goods, scrubbed floors and shelves and counters, clean aprons, washed hands, good air, drained receptacles, earthen or porcelain vessels and many other germ-free things should be demanded say the filth foes, and they advise that housewives tack up the following in the kitchens and send them to their butcher and their baker and

Do not heritate to blame or praise. The day is past when sickness was held to be a direct interference of Providence as retributive putishment. Pestilence, fevers and weakness are indeed penalties for sin, but it is the sin of ignorance. In this age of scientific enlightenment and invention and widespread information, ignorance of the primary conditions of health and vigor is unpardonable. A knowledge of sanitary principles ahould be regarded as an essential part of every woman's education, and obedience to sanitary laws should be ranked as it was in the Mossic Code—as a religious duty.

she insisted on markets using earthen or porcelain vessels. This was a stupid stion, too, for she made answer: "We can't use wooden tubs for our

The special meting of the Board of Health yesterday afternoon did not attract many persons. In fact, there were present but three members of that Board beside the Mayor, and only two of the ladies from the School of Domestic

As soon as the Mayor had called the Board to order he stated that the object of the gathering was to select a suitable person to act as deputy health officer under the provisions of the resolution adopted at the last meeting of the Council. He also called attention to the fact that the also called attention to the fact that the Council had not provided for the payment of the inspector, but explained that the deputy could be selected and enter into the discharge of her duties on May 1, and that the Board of Health could make provision in preparing the May expense account for the salary of the new official. One of the women of the Domestic School inquired how the deputy was to be reimbursed for carfare. She explained that it would be necessary to journey to all parts of the city by saying: "We are all parts of the city by saying: "We are even now receiving telephone calls from markets all over the city to come and inspect them, and if we find them clean to nter the names upon the clean list."
Mayor Williams replied: "Well, I guess the deputy will have to pay her own car-fare. There is no provision made in the resolution for more than $5 a month salary, and it is not within my power to "The one that we would like to have appointed is now receiving $125 a month, and it does not seem right to ask her to take half that amount and then be compelled to pay her own car fare in the discharge of her duty," was the rejoinder, "It seems foolish for a woman to give up $125 a menth for a position paying only $65, but as to the carfare there can be no arrangements made at this time," answered the Mayor lian E. Tingle. She is a chemist and a bacteriological graduate, and is thorough-ly capable, and it is owing to the great interest that she takes in cleaning up the markets of Portland that she his con-sented to serve. We have our Summer vacation in the School of Domestic Science soon, and Miss Tingle has agreed to remain here if the Board of Health

"The name of Miss Tingle has been proposed by the ladies, and you are will-ing that she should be appointed?" was next asked.

Miss Tingle Appointed. There was no negative vote and the appointment was ordered entered upon the minutes of the board. Superintendent Robinson, of the crematory, asked permission to explain that he was ready to begin the improvements at the crematory, but that he could find no way of disposing of the garbage now being gathered about the city. It will take six weeks to repair the furnaces and in the meantime some disposition will have to be made of the city's refuse. After some discussion the superintendent was ordered to find a suitable place to bury the garbage and to burn as much of the paper as possible for

Woman Named as Inspector of the Markets of Portland

Miss Lillian E. Tingle, who has been appointed Market Inspector under the now ordinance, is directress of the Portland School of Domestic Science and has personal charge of the classes in practi-cal cooking. The course includes instruc-tion in marketing. Miss Tingle received her general education at Cranleigh House Academy, London, England, and subsequently spent two years in special study in Germany and Italy.

She then studied domestic science in the Educational Trust School of Domestic Economy of Aberdeen, Scotland, graduating from that institution in 1885. This echool is considered one of the best in the world and its diplomas are recognized as a teaching qualification by the British government. She also took a two-years course in chemistry and physiology at Gordon's College, Aberdeen, obtaining advanced certificates in both subjects advanced certificates in both suspens after the government examinations, thus becoming qualified as a teacher under the British government regulations. For two years following she held a po-sition as special teacher of domestic sci-ence—lectures and practice classes under the Aberdeen School Board. She also carried on a private course for ladies and domestic servants and gave some demondomestic servants and gave some demonstration lectures at the Aberdeen Convent. She then studied another year at Aberdeen University. In 1898, when the State Manual Training School of North Dakota was opened, she was appointed teacher of domestic science and had entire charge of the equipment and organization of the department.
