Scores First Run.

Larry Schlaffy, who is running the team while the manager is working out his sus-pension on the bench, opened the fourth scene of the nine-act drama with a beautiful poke into the center yeldt. House-holder dumped him to second, and he scored the first run when Ross failed to get properly under McLean's long drive to left. Atz was safe on Flood's fumble. and the big Portland backstop scored when Runkle finally hit one that escaped the visiting infield. This made two upon the blackboard, and it might have been three Had Klopf seen Jud Smith knock Ats' drive foul after it had struck fair. Smith saw that he could not catch Atz and hit the ball so that it rolled foul. In their haif of the fifth the Angelinos cot savage and fell on Essick. Cravath heaved out a two-bagger and Ross sneaked in a bingle. Cravath scored. Bunkle failed to knock Eager's drive down and recover himself. Then on top of this misplay, Ely Cates, who was in or this mispary, cay Cates, who was in right-field, dropped a kiter that Bernard drove in his direction, and two more runs came romping home. This gave the Mor-levites a lead of one run. This lead lasted only until the Glants went to bat in their half of the same chapter. Van Buren was morgued by Toman and Schiafly was put to death while trying to pilfer second. With these two down, useholder singled and Larry McLean Hai sent him around the circuit with a terrific poke that was good for two pillows. This wallop started the fireworks, and Los Angeles blew up trying to put out the blaze. Jakey Atz stood walting for lightning to strike him, and it came when one of "Dolly" Gray's benders curessed his bosom. Dillon started a diamond mass meeting, and the Los Angeles infield be-came so interested in the gabfest that they forgot that Ats was on the bases and the little shortstop very promptly stole second, much to the enjoyment of the fans. The fun was not over Runkle bumped one that Gray got mixed up over. He made a woozy heave to Dillon, and this, coupled with a bungling play by the captain himself, let in McLean and Atr.

Rewarded With Two Pillows.

Gray made another bad toss to Dillon in the seventh in attempting to handle Householder's wallop. The ball went to the bleachers and Eddle went to third. Big McLean leaned against another of Gray's collection, and once again the big fellow was rewarded with two pillows. On the heels of this two-ply swat Jakey Air hit out one that ducked it past both Flood and Berrand, and it counted for two bags Householder scored, and so did McLean, and a moment later, when Cates hit to Flood, Atz tapped the platter. The bel toiled three for the Giants. In the eighth inning a base on balls to Smith became a run on a fumble amidfield. Garvin and the infield took care that this ended the run-getting for the visitors.

The Giants got this run back in their half of the eighth. With two down again, Schlafly singled, stole second and went to third when Eager threw the ball into the center field. Householder walked, and while he was stealing second Schlafly scored. In the minth Los Angeles, from putton down threw up the sponge, and The Giants got this run back in their Dillon down, threw up the sponge, and did not try very hard. This is the first easy game that the Giants have had this season. Tacoma comes this afternoon. When the fans assembled the glorious old flag was waving in the soft after breezes. Just before the game started a couple of full-grown boys appeared. staggering under the weight of the can goods banner.
