REVOCATION OF LICENSES ASKED

Congregationalists Want No Saloons Near the Fair Grounds.

DISCUSS REVIVAL EFFECTS

Ministers Talk of Bockefeller's Offer and Adopt Resolution Favoring Its Acceptance, Though Some Object.

Resolved. That we, the Portland Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers, respectfully request the Fortland City Council to investigate the street entrance to the Lewis and Clark Exposition grounds, and to take such action as shall make such entrance a fitting approach to such Exposition. We believe that the conditions as now seen by the visitor as he opproaches the en trance are not conducive to the best im pression of our fair city. We trust that the report that is already abroad that the Council is investigating is true, and that your honorable body will conside not only the financial returns from sa loons, but also the permanent impres elon that may be made upon strangen in our midst. If it is when that our sulcons should not be placed in our cesidential districts, suraly it is more su that they should not be connected with much a historic and world-wide Exposition, which shall be representative of our early ploneer life, and a magnificent monument of the industry and resources of our people today.

REV. E. L. HOUSE. REV. A. M. ROCKWOOD, DR. W. M. CAKE.

The adoption unanimously of the fore-going resolution was the first business ransacted yesterday morning by the Port-and Congregational Association, in session n the Mississppi-avenue Congregationa "hurch. It was suggested by Rev. E. L. House, of the First Church, that the as-sociation should put the stamp of its disapproval on the licensing of saloons at the entrance to the Lewis and Clark Fair. He said it would be just as well to make that Fair a "red-light district." Rev. Luther D. Mahone spoke in favor of the resolution, and declared that hunfrede coming from abroad would be as-tounded at finding the entrance of the Northwest Industrial Exposition lined with dives and saloons. It was the con-sensus of opinion of the ministers present that the licenses of saloons near the en trance of the Lewis and Clark Fair should he revoked.

He said that in-ich as the Congregational Church had of other der no bishop it would be well to ask that Rev. P. S. Knight, moderator of the State Congregational Association, be recognized as representing the Congregational churches and that he be accorded the same privileges given the bishops. On motion of Dr. House the association made provisions for the proper reception of Dr. Gladden, moderator of the National Congregational Association who will be Congregational Association, who will be in Portland in September. He will be given a public reception and a platform meeting will then be held. Moderator J. J. Staub and Secretary A. M. Rockwood were made a committee on Lewis and Clark Fair information bureau, with power to take such action as may be considered best Rev. R. M. Jones and Rev. Luther D. Mahone were appointed a con place for holding the next session of the association.

Don't Want Rockefeller's Money.

"Present Opportunities of the Portland Association" was the general topic for several addresses. Rev. Charles McPherson spoke on the branch, "As a City Pastor Sees IL" He spoke of the growing suburbs of Arlets, University Park and St. Johns as needing help. He urged that Congregationalists vote to purify Port-land.

Rev. D. B. Gray spoke on the views of a city missionary. He said that if $20,000 could be raised and thrown into the city work the effect would be far-reaching. This money should come from those able to give it. "But," declared Mr. Gray, "we shall not ask Rockefeller for any of it." "No! No!" came from all parts of the Rev. C. F. Clapp, state superintendent of missions, gave a resume of the needs of the state, enumerating many churches in this state where no services were held. "Now," said Mr. Clapp, "If each Con gregationalist would give $1 toward sup plying these vacant pulpits, with the hel we are getting from the Home Mission ary Society, we could fill every vacant pulpit in this state."

Work Among Germans.

Rev. John Hoppe, pastor of Ebenezer German Congregational Church, Portland, told of the progress of the German branch. As to the Portland work, a new church had been erected and dedicated, and the membership had increased to more than 200 members.

At the Woman's Hour.

Mrs. F. R. Cook conducted brief devo tionals, when Mrs. E. L. House gave the "Greetings of the Home Missionary Society." She spoke of the opportunities of women for work in the Oregon field. Miss Frances Gage brought the greetings of the women's board. "The Commercial Value of Missions," was the subject of a paper by W. H. Morrow, in which he set forth that civilization commercially had profited largely through the efforts of misonaries in the introduction of articles commerce, "The Supreme Need of the of commerce. Hour," was a paper read by Rev. W. C. Gilmore, of Hood River, containing valuable suggestions.

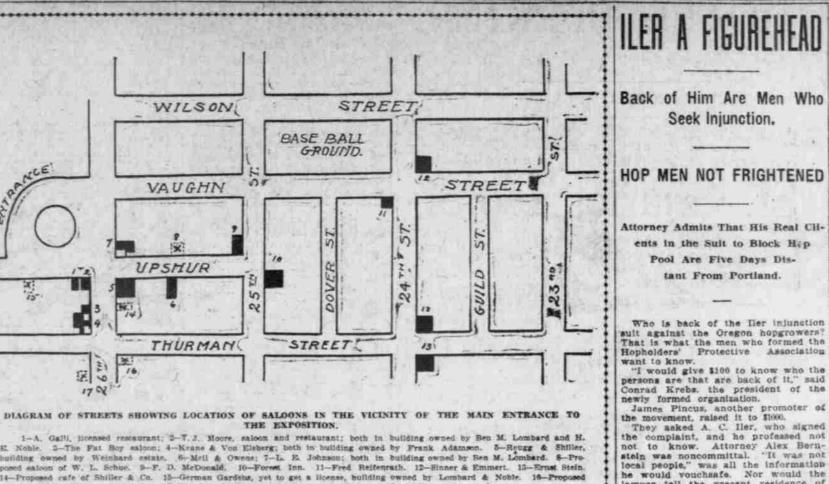

Says Retain the Money.

At the closing session of the Portland Congregational Association last night in the Mississippi-Avenue Congregational Church the following resolution, prepared by Rev. E.-L. House, D. D. of the First Church, advising the American Board of Missions to retain the Rockefeller gift, was adopted:

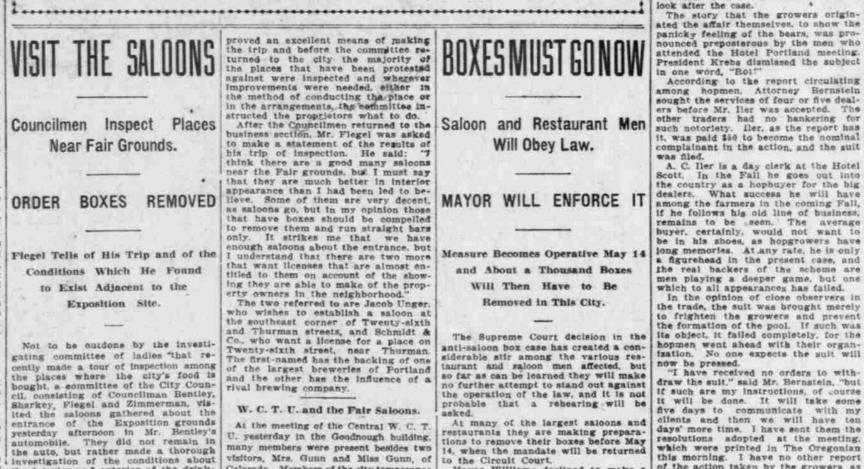

"Resolved, That we extend to the American Board our confidence in their the interior and exterior of the drink-Ma-vote to keep John D. Rockefeller's gift inter of $100,000. We believe it is not the were province of such board to examine all ing places.

"Our churches are organized enough." said Mr. Mahone, "and many are clubbed to death wise in the details of the money it receives, but to accept the same and use it for the best ends of elevating humanity." Dr. House said that the American Board was under fire and needed the to death Wise is it was needed the feet of the publicity that the saloons to death.
